COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1937. No. 61.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1937.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock noon.

The President Pro Tempore (Mr. HARVEY HUFFMAN) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Rev. FRANK W. RUTH offered the following prayer:

Our heavenly Father, we come into Thy presence this morning in this new day of labor. We pray for the guidance of Thy Spirit that we may do this work to which Thou hast assigned us, that Thou and Thy people may have the comforting things necessary for the maintenance of spirit and life. We pray Thy guidance in the deliberations and decisions that we may here make, that we may do those things which will mean the most for the happiness and complete contentment of Thy people. Forgive us our sins and shortcomings, and in the many temptations that come to us may Thy Spirit guide us safely through, and when we finally shall attain for the honor of Thy presence, we may come knowing that we have done our best. We ask it in the Master's name. Amen.

REPORT OF JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION INVESTIGATING CRIMINAL PROCEDURE IN COMMON PLEAS COURT OF THE COMMONWEALTH AND IN MUNICIPAL COURT OF PHILADELPHIA

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I am presenting the first partial report of the Commission appointed under a joint resolution of the House and Senate to investigate criminal procedure in the Courts of Common Pleas throughout the counties of our State, as well as the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. We have asked the counsel for the Commission to prepare a summary of the work accomplished to date, and he has prepared a Progress Report, which reads as follows

May 17, 1937.

Hon. Frank W. Ruth
Senate Chamber
Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Senator Ruth:

This is a PROGRESS REPORT in connection with the commission's work in making an investigation of the "general practice and procedure" in the criminal courts with reference to the "prosecution,, trial and disposition" of all criminal cases and the PROBATION AND PAROLE of persons guilty of crime.

In checking our files, we note 453 specific cases of alleged abuse or irregularity. Those consist mainly of cases referred to us by the Philadelphia Record, a newspaper. Of these we have completed the investigation in ninety-six. The Philadelphia Office of the Commission has received approximately seventy-five cases of "complaint" which consist of a letter or interviews or both coming from the public at large in which the informant makes charges of court corruption both political and financial. Such complaints are investigated currently as they are received so that less than five are usually of unfinished business. Voluminous records and documents often accompany the complainant's charges. These required careful analysis. In all instances, a careful investigation has either failed to support these charges or have related to matters outside the Commission's jurisdiction. A number of cases are of aggrieved individuals and without public interest.

We deem it inadvisable at this stage of the investigation to arrive at any individual conclusions and can make no statement except in its broadest sense. There appears to be practices in the matters of paroling prisoners without notice as provided by statute, the imposing of suspended sentences and probation for crimes excepted by statute or where the authority did not exist; the matters of reconsidering sentences after the term of court for the discharge of prisoners after the authority to do so had expired and the reconsideration of sentences in private shortly after a public imposition of the greater sentence.

It is our intention to complete the work in the remaining cases and to make further investigation of complaints being made daily at our office. In addition, work is being undertaken in two other counties. The Alexander Meyers case, which involves the State parole system, has been partially investigated and will be pushed to completion.

Current matters of public interest having a relation to criminal cases such as "cold storage" or the maintaining of prisoners incommunicate, the substitution of jurors and the release of prisoners on "copies of the charge" without the entry of bail, have been looked into. The matter of the clerk of the court giving notice of conviction for violation of the Motor Vehicle Code is being examined with a view to determining the cause of failure to notify in a number of instances. In this regard, suggestions for regulations to make the present system more efficient is in the course of preparation.

A careful study is being made of police records and the system of keeping files, reports, dockets and statistics of criminal cases, made, held or discharged, indicted or not indicted, tried or untried, in connection with their prosecution, trial and disposition as ultimately bearing on the general practice and procedure in the criminal courts. So far we have had full cooperation by the police department and other officials. The method of keeping dockets, and original papers by the various clerks and deputy clerks of the criminal courts is being looked into with a view to making recommendations for such revision as will make these public records readily accessible.

The practice and procedure with regard to the probation and parole of prisoners is being analyzed as well as the prison systems of records and release of prisoners. A comparison is being made between the local probation and parole system and that used in other jurisdictions. Similar comparison will be undertaken of other pertinent laws as time permits.

Other phases of the investigation are confidential and would be prejudicial to the public good to disclose. The cumbersome manner of maintaining records, the lack of a central statistical section, plus the thousands of criminal cases handled annually, makes our investigation a huge task.

Sincerely yours,

Chet A. Keyes, Counsel
For the Commission.

Mr. President, a bill on the second reading calendar which will come before the Senate today would give the Commission a right to complete its work after adjournment of the session, and make its final report to the Governor. In that bill we ask for an additional appropriation for the Commission to carry this work to its completion, and this is merely the first partial report of the Commission.

The PRESIDENT. The partial report of the Senator from Berks, Mr. Ruth, will be made a matter of record in the Journal.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 13, page 14, line 3 by inserting after the word "of" and before the word "order" the word: "the"; amend section 14, page 14, line 29 by inserting after the word "shall" and before the word "upon" the following: "be guilty of a misdemeanor and"; amend section 14, page 14, line 29 by inserting after the word "thereof" and before the word "be" the word: "shall"; amend section 15, page 15, line 20 by striking out after the word "her" and before the word "less" the word: "(employe)" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "employer".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

REPORT OF ANTHRACITE COAL INDUSTRY COMMISSION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 18, 1937.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I am presenting herewith, for the study and consideration of your honorable body, the findings of the Anthracite Commission. This Commission was established at the present Session to investigate coal "bootlegging" in the anthracite regions and to make appropriate recommendations.

I have not waited to study these findings before presenting them to you. Because of the nearness of adjournment I felt it would be more advisable to forward the reports immediately. Not having made the necessary study, I am not prepared to comment or to make any recommendations at this time.

I do wish, however, to call your attention to some salient points upon which all members of the Commission are in agreement.

1. Intervention of armed forces to end "bootlegging" is not recommended by any member of the Commission.

2. All are agreed that the price of coal must be reduced to meet the competition of laborless fuels, through better merchandising methods and a reduction in the present freight rates for anthracite coal.

I am sure your honorable body will find these reports most valuable in demonstrating the evils which exist in our anthracite regions, and in pointing out possible ways and means of ending the desperate conflict between property rights and human rights which exists in our so-called "bootleg" areas.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 377, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 377, recalled from the Governor, entitled:

An Act to re-enact and further amend the title and the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1409) entitled "An act authorizing the Secretary of Highways to enter into agreements relating to support for State highways right of ways underlaid by coal and for the ascertainment and assessment of damages sustained by reason of the obligation to furnish such support whether the damages are payable by the Commonwealth or a county" by extending said act to all counties of this Commonwealth and further clarifying the provisions of the act.

Mr. DANDO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I move that the vote by which the bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 1, line 1 of the title, by inserting after the word "the" and before the word "act" the following: "title and the"; amend page 1, line 10 of the title, by inserting after the word "county" and before the word "extending" the word: "by"; amend page 1, line 10 of the title, by inserting after the word "act" and before the word "to" the words: "as amended"; amend page 1, line 11 of the title, by inserting at the end of the line the following: "and further clarifying the provisions of the act"; amend section 1, page 2, line 3 by inserting at the end of the line the following: "the title and"; amend section 1, page 2, line 12 by striking out after the word "amended" and before the word "by" the following: "(in part)"; amend section 1, page 2, line 14 by striking out after "1306" and before the word "hereby" the word: "(is)" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "are"; amend section 1, page 2, by striking out lines 17 to 22, inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Creating the Highway Mining Commission with judicial powers to have exclusive jurisdiction over the mining of coal within or under the right of ways of State highways and the assessment and award of benefits improvements and damages for coal required to be left in place by reason of the obligation to furnish support for State highway routes whether payable by the Commonwealth or a county authorizing counties to enter into agreements to indemnify or reimburse the Commonwealth for damages to highways caused by the removal of coal under or adjacent thereto"; amend section 2, page 4, line 20 by inserting after the word "agreement" and before the word "authorized" the following: "decision order or decree".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to the question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President may I call the Senate's attention to the enlightening preliminary report just made to the Governor by his Anthracite Coal Industry Commission.

I think the Senate's attention should be called to the great amount of new information that has been acquired by the State from these men burning the midnight oil at $1,000 per month each, plus expenses. After several months of effort, they have discovered and all have agreed that it is illegal to steal other people's property.

The discovery of this fact alone certainly warranted the Governor in bringing in from Columbia University and Washington, D. C., these high priced investigators. As was to be expected, only the two appointed from Pennsylvania have any idea whatever of the serious problems facing the Anthracite Coal Industry.

May I call particular attention to the report of the Chairman of this Commission and Mr. James W. Angell. After spending their salary and paying their expenses, they came to the astounding and far-reaching conclusion that if the men who were bootlegging coal spent their time on other employment, they would not be engaged in the bootlegging coal industry, they propose that the State give each and every bootlegger a job. It is strange that no one ever thought of this before. Why should it not be extended to all law violators? I think we should at once propose a bill providing that every man found guilty of stealing other people's property should immediately be put on the State payroll, thus giving him employment and making it unnecessary for him to violate the law.

I wonder whose brilliant scheme it was to tax all legitimate operators five cents a ton to pay the expense of mining coal to be sold in competition with lawful coal industry. That certainly as a most helpful suggestion to the sick anthracite industry.

One member of the Commission has not had time enough yet to make any specific recommendations at all, and the two Pennsylvania members who, of course, do not concur with Mr. Lauck and Mr. Angell, recognize the serious problem facing that section of our State.

I urge the members of the Senate to examine carefully these reports, for it appears from them that at least the gentleman from Columbia University and the gentleman from Washington, D. C., agree that their salaries of $1,000 a month should be continued and that we appropriate an additional $50,000.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr President, I move that the Senate resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1149, House Bill No. 1557), on third reading postponed, on page 24 of today's calendar.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, these two joint resolutions of Mr. Cavalcante and Mr. Skale aim at the same objectives in two different ways. The Skale resolution which I have now called up, No. 1149, and the Cavalcante resolution have the same purposes. The first purpose of the two resolutions is to separate the base for the borrowing capacities of municipalities, the personal property tax from the tax on real estate. The Skale joint resolution proposes to fill the void created by the taking away of the personal property item, by increasing from the borrowing capacity 7% to 10% in municipalities outside of Philadelphia County, but in Philadelphia County from 10% to 15%. It was necessary to supply a greater base for borrowing when we subtracted these personal property items. We have a joint agreement on the personal income tax in the Simon and my own resolution that both would go through the two Houses and be advertised by the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the voters to decide. The Simon resolution probably has not had the famous or infamous "Homestead" exemption. My own resolution is a straight-forward resolution to establish a personal income tax, but somebody in authority decided that it should be the policy of the legislature to place these two bills before the voters, so I am following in the footsteps of somebody proposing that we put the two joint resolutions before the people, the Skale resolution and the Cavalcante resolution. The Skale resolution, or what was identical to it, has been voted down by the people twice, in 1928 and 1933, for the reason that it put the borrowing unit up from 7% to 10%, and the Cavalcante resolution does not do that, but the idea is to get a resolution through the legislature of some kind, so that the matter may be put before the people for a vote, with the thought in mind that we say: "O Lord, deliver me from my friends," and I think they are two dangerous men, one is the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and the other the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante. I do not know exactly why yet I do know one thing, that Senator Shapiro is a man who knows everything about something and something about everything, and I do not pretend to be that well qualified, but I think in this instance he is wrong. His objection to the Cavalcante joint resolution is that if you are to separate the personal property tax from the real estate you are going to invalidate and jeopardize certain bonds. Now, it is with the same modesty and trepidation that I, as a layman, refer the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, to the case brought by a taxpayer in Philadelphia County, Mr. Russel Duane, (Duane vs. City of Philadelphia) on an issue of bonds. They sold one-half the issue immediately, and when it came to the time for selling the other half, Mr. Duane intervened as a taxpayer to prevent them. The Supreme Court decided unanimously that the value back of the bonds upon which they have been based when they were issued, had fallen in value, it did not affect the sale of the other half of this authorized issue. I think this decision in the Duane case is a complete answer to the objection that Senator Shapiro has made to the Cavalcante resolution. I therefore ask, in the interest of the personal income tax, which we cannot have unless you open the door by giving us a chance to repeal the tax on intangible personal property, and hope the Senate will vote for this resolution, No. 1149.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, state whether this will increase the original bonded indebtedness which may be placed on real estate in the future?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes, this will. The bonded indebtedness will be based entirely on the value of real estate, over a period of the immediately preceding nine years, and this is the reason, of course, for raising the limit from 7% to 10% in the municipalities, and from 10% to 15% in Philadelphia.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, say that the owners of personal property are entitled to a special privilege over the owners of real estate and that their property should be exempt from liability for the indebtedness of the City of Philadelphia, or the other counties of the State.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, my purpose is to repeal this iniquitous tax on personal property, that is on intangible personal property, and, if I might just say one other thing, and I might have said it before, the interest on money is a sure thing, it is a certainty, but the value of principal is a matter of uncertainty, and any tax based on principal cannot be a tax to a certainty.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, is that not true in regard to the income on real estate?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, does the Senator mean that it fluctuates?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, that is the reason we are putting in the provision for a nine year period. carrying it for the nine years so that we could establish a fair appraisal.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia feel that it is fair to put an additional burden upon the real estate in order that personal property may go scot free?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do not know any other way of doing it, sir.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, in other words, the only way that you can free personal property is by putting the burden upon real estate that is already over-burdened.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, well, you are between the devil and the deep blue sea as far as I can see.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, it seems to me that if there is any distinction to be made between real estate and personal property in the obligation for the indebtedness of the State of Pennsylvania or its various municipalities, that the preference should be given to the home owner, to the man who has a solid investment. He has always been considered the best citizen. We know there is a fluctuation in personal property and that some of the personal property may be easily taken out of the state, but that is simply an inconvenience in the operation of the law; but here we are asked by these gentlemen for these various constitutional amendments to relieve from liability, for future bond issues, at least if not for past ones, the personal property, the intangibles, the mortgages and similar property of the people of Pennsylvania, and to levy upon and subject to a heavier burden the real estate of the people of Pennsylvania.

It seems to me that for years we have been adding burdens on real estate and breaking down that great middle class that is the bulwark of our democratic form of government, and I think this would be only another step to break down that great middle class, the small real estate owner, and for that reason I ask my colleagues on both sides of the Senate to vote down this resolution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this resolution is on the calendar, and on the same postponed calendar there is another resolution Senate No. 684, which is practically the same, the two of them relate to the same subject, and it has appeared to me that we ought not disregard the consideration of this subject by the State planning Board that we have here established in the Capital. I have a letter from the State Planning Board that states the fact that they would rather have Joint Resolution No. 684 passed, than the one called up now.

In a letter they state:

"The Constitutional Amendment on municipal borrowing power, which has been endorsed by the State Planning Board and the Administration, seems to meet the approval of everyone except a few individuals. They have approved of the major feature of this bill, which is the basing of borrowing upon a nine-year moving average of assessed value, but they are opposed to the elimination of personal property from the counties' borrowing power.

At the State Planning Board meeting of May 11, the Board reaffirmed its belief that the elimination of personal property from the county borrowing base is a very important feature of this bill. The Board's position on this matter is based on the following facts:

(1) Personal property, which now forms a portion of the counties' borrowing base (but which is not part of the borrowing base of cities, boroughs, townships and school districts) is subject to much wider fluctuations than is real property. Wide fluctuations in the borrowing base are obviously undesirable. A comparison in fluctuations in real and personal property from Philadelphia is already shown on chart 7, which I am attaching.

(2) Personal property should be removed from the counties' borrowing base at this time, since it is probable that eventually a State Income Tax will replace the Personal Property Tax. If personal property is not removed from the borrowing base by this Constitutional Amendment, it is probable that, another Constitutional Amendment on the same subject will have to be introduced within a comparatively short period of time.

In considering this question of personal property as part of the counties' borrowing base, it should be remembered that—

(1) There is no direct connection between borrowing power and taxing power. A County tax on personal property could still be collected, even after this proposed Constitutional Amendment is effective.

(2) The validity of the bonds already outstanding would not in any way be impaired by the passage of this Constitutional Amendment. The legal borrowing power of the city and county of Philadelphia is at present less than the amount of outstanding bonds, whereas, under the suggested Constitutional Amendment, the legal borrowing power just about equals the amount of existing bonds.

(3) Unless there is a change in tax laws, which is an entirely different question from that of this proposed Constitutional Amendment, exactly the same sources of revenue would be available for the retirement of present existing bonds.

Such people as Otto T. Mallery, Colonel J. Hale Steinman, Francis Biddle and Dr. Karl Scholz, who have studied this subject exhaustively feel that both the nine-year moving average, which will insure a reserve of borrowing power during bad times and the elimination of personal property from the counties' borrowing base are very important and that this Constitutional Amendment, which is a scientific solution to a very troublesome problem, can be used to great political advantage by all concerned.

If a compromise is absolutely necessary, it is, of course, desirable to pass the amendment to insure the nine-year moving average, even if the personal property elimination cannot be included. This compromise, however, is not recommended by the State Planning Board."

Now, Mr. President, there seems to be a difference of opinion on these two resolutions. There is sort of a confusion between the taxing power and the borrowing base in this matter. Some contend that by removing the personal property as a base of borrowing, that it necessarily means additional taxes on real estate. Now, that argument is not altogether sound nor applicable to the subject before us, because the amendment does not deal with the question of taxation at all, but it deals with a borrowing base, to establish a base by which the measure of borrowing powers of these municipalities, and the passage of a resolution of this kind in no way increases the taxes on real estate, but makes the borrowing base firmer, and the municipalities can move with greater degree of safety in borrowing money when they need it. I feel that I would like to go along with the Planning Board, which favors the resolution introduced by myself on the same subject and I would ask that this resolution No. 1149 be voted down, so that we may, if the Members of this Senate are agreeable, pass the resolution that is favored by that body, the State Planning Board, who has studied the matter thoroughly and know whereof they are speaking.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, always.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia know what is the extent of the personal property assessment in Philadelphia?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do not know those figures, but I know not many years ago that personal property was not considered at all in determining the borrowing capacity of Philadelphia, it was only some real Republican politician that studied it, in order to get more contacts.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia, know how much is the assessed valuation of real estate in Philadelphia?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am sorry to say I do not have the figures at my fingers end.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia know that the borrowing capacity by this amendment is increased from 7% to 15%.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I certainly know that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is supposed to take care of the lapse that would result in borrowing capacity by reason of the elimination of personal property.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, quite right.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia has said that I know something about everything and everything about something, but it is apparent that the Senator from Philadelphia is voting on a bill knowing nothing about anything.

The personal property value is $894,000,000, and by the returns for last year the real estate assessment for Philadelphia is two billion, four hundred and some odd million dollars. Now, if you are increasing the borrowing capacity of Philadelphia 50% to take care of the reductions in the borrowing base, which is nearly 33 1-3% we are giving Philadelphia an opportunity to borrow some more money.

In the second place, my objection to this bill is that this is the forerunner of an effort on the part of those people who are paying personal property tax to get out of the payment of the tax. If an income tax is passed by the State, they will not be able to do that as long as the borrowing base of the City of Philadelphia ignores the tax on personal property, because they will be met with the argument that if you remove the tax on personal property you reduce the borrowing base and it will affect the City of Philadelphia. So the first step is, to take that out of the borrowing base, and the second step will then, of course, be to eliminate the tax on personal property.

I should like to call the attention of the Senator from Philadelphia to the fact that when it was discovered by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in collecting tax on the same personal property, assessed the tax valuation of Philadelphia at one billion, two hundred and forty some odd thousand dollars, and against the city assessment of $890,000,000, so that the State of Pennsylvania has collected through tax on its four mills out of the City of Philadelphia and when it was attempted to place the collection of the entire eight mills in the State of Pennsylvania, objection was raised by the City Fathers of Philadelphia and the bond holders of Philadelphia that that they would take away from the City of Philadelphia its borrowing base and would attack the validity of the security of the bonds issued against this borrowing capacity.

The situation in Philadelphia is not one of increasing borrowing capacity but, more important is one of decreasing expenditures and it does not make any difference how you borrow, you must pay back or pay the interest, and if you will increase the borrowing capacity of Philadelphia, or if you decrease the borrowing base, the tax rate on real estate will have to go up, in order to get into the City of Philadelphia sufficient funds to operate the city. The City of Philadelphia today has a assessed valuation of both personal and real which places it at least 150 to 180 million dollars above its borrowing capacity on a base figure at 10% and it seems to me that what they are attempting to do now in one bill is to correct two evils. The evil in Philadelphia was that the borrowing base was figured too high, so these gentlemen of the so-called Planning Board had decided it would be much better to take an average over a period of nine years. I agree with that and have no objections to such constitutional amendments, which is one provision of this bill, but I do say that the increasing of the borrowing capacity is an encouragement to spending where we should be saving, and consequently that if they were right in their contention that the doing away with the collection of a tax would take away from the City of Philadelphia the real estate to protect the real bond issue; then I say we are right now in our contention that this constitutional amendment will have the same effect.

I should like to point out to the Senator from Philadelphia, that if he were in business and in the same situation as the City of Philadelphia, was when it sent to the Supreme Court, or rather if he were a creditor of the City, he would have some worry about the situation, even though the Supreme Court said the City could do it. This was the situation: when the $50,000,000 bond issue was voted by the people at that time they were above the capacity to authorize the issue, but not all of the bonds were sold, and there were some $16,000,000 or $18,000,000 of bonds left unsold. Years later, the Mayor decided to complete the subway after we had three holes in the ground, it begins some place and ends no where else. The Mayor decided to complete the Locust Street subway, which had already cost millions of dollars, and does not have an entrance, and he wanted to get $5,000,000. The question is raised, not having issued the bonds when the voting took place the borrowing capacity being now $180,000,000 less, the issuing of these bonds created a debt beyond the present borrowing capacity in the City of Philadelphia, and the Supreme Court said that these bonds having been authorized, the issuance by them would date as of the date of the voting on the borrowing of the $50,000,000 and as the fact that $18,000,000 remained unsold did not affect the situation, but I venture to say that if that were a private business industry and have assessed which warranted only the borrowing of $250,000,000, if the Senator from Philadelphia were approached in the rarified atmosphere of the 32d ward, where he lives, free from the troubles that are asked the little fellow in the smaller districts, and were asked to lend $5,000,000 to that business house, with all his money, if he had it free, he would not loan the money, because he would consider the security bad. So it does not make any difference if the Supreme Court on the basis of preference, allowed one to borrow, the fact remains that when the City of Philadelphia borrowed the $50,000,000 and sold the bonds, it had no assets to secure these bonds. Nobody can deny or again say, that, because that is a fact, and those are the figures, and figures do not lie, while liars make figures.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, those of us that live in the rarified districts of the 32d Ward, in Germantown, Philadelphia, are not in the habit of refusing our opponents in debate. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro,—I give him credit for a great deal of knowledge—my admiration and respect, and almost affection, but however, I am intelligent enough to know that he is not infallible. Cardinal Gibbons once a visitor of the Pope, in the City of Rome, and when he returned to the City of Baltimore, he said, that he was convinced that the Pope was not infallible, that when he met the Pope, the Pope addressed him as Cardinal 'Jibbons'. So I say our distinguished Senator from Philadelphia, who maybe the receiver of what was once a first-class city, is not infallible, and to show that he is not infallible, I would not put my opinion as a layman, on a legal question against the opinion of the Senator from Philadelphia, but his objection and his version on the collection on the personal income tax, to which we all give little service—he is the man who put all these bills on the postponed calendar, because he doubted the legality and thought our bonds would be jeopardized, namely, by eliminating the personal property tax from the borrowing base. Now, I have no personal opinion on the matter, but I have consulted the Department of Revenue, Mr. Edmonds, who is a trained expert, and also Mr. Fertig on this question, and they all say that Senator Shapiro is 100% wrong.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, of course, that 100% wrong does not leave me in the average at all.

What I got up to say was this, I hope the Senator from Philadelphia, has not accepted anything that I said as personal abuse of him. I have great respect for his sincerity, was rather envious, I envy him his position of being able to live in the rarified atmosphere of the 32d Ward.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, we love each other.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14

Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,	Huffman,
Henney,	Law,	Rodgers,

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 684, on third reading postponed, on page 24 of the calendar.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do not want to reiterate the statements already made, and again read a letter from the State Planning Board, that I have already read, in support of this bill, but I do want to call attention that this is a very grave subject, it deals with a change in the fundamental law in the state. I do think that, as the sponsor of this bill, entrusted to me ,it is my duty to correct a few misapprehensions as to the bill. I agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, about the infallibility of the human mind, and I at all times agree that I am subject to that same principle, and I also trust that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will also agree that it is possible to get a different view on the same subject.

Now, on this particular bill, it seems to me, that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has a slight confusion in his mind between what constitutes the borrowing base and what constitutes the power to tax. This resolution does not deal with the taxing power of the City of Philadelphia, nor any other municipalities. As stated in the letter of the Planning Board, if we pass this resolution, it does not remove the personal property valuation from the taxing power, that the only way we can remove the tax from the personal property is for us to repeal the act that imposes that tax. This resolution merely deals with the borrowing base that in determining how much a municipality shall be permitted to borrow. The valuation of personal property shall not be considered, but the borrowing limit shall be determined by taking a certain percentage of the real estate valuation which is would be more substantial and does not fluctuate as much as the personal property. Here is the situation that we have now: This borrowing has been made on a base which includes personal property, because of its high fluctuating values, we must borrow today, a certain amount, and four or five years from now that personal property will have so fluctuated in its value that the money we have borrowed may exceed the actual borrowing limit, whereas, if the borrowing power is based upon the real estate, there is less fluctuation there, and the security has nothing to do with the borrowing base, and the personal property is not removed from this bill by the taxing powers, it still remains, and I make this statement because a statement like Dr. Woodward made, I have consulted the Revenue Department, I have consulted with Mr. Fertig, I have consulted the members of the Planning Board, and they are all in accord that it is wrong to take the view that by forcing this bill, that we will implore the security of the most bonded indebtedness or that we remove personal property from the sphere of the taxing power. It still remains, and so my colleagues of the Senate, I think that this resolution should be favorably adopted, so as to make the borrowing base of the City of Philadelphia, and all other municipalities, firmer and less fluctuating.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Fayette, state whether or not this proposed amendment does not increase the basic percentage from 10% to 15% for Philadelphia?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, it increases the percentage. The percentage, I think, 5%.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, 10% to 15%.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, yes. That is to make allowance for the elimination of personal property from the borrowing base.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Fayette, state whether or not this changes the base of determination from personal property to reality?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, it does not.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, does not this substitute the word seven percentum upon the average assessed value of the taxable real estate, instead of taxable property.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, well the taxable property would be the taxable reality.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, not under the present law, however.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, not under the present law, because it includes personal property.

And I state further in amplifying my answers that I think, it is a mistaken view to argue that the passage of this resolution, will increase taxation on real estate, because the resolution does not deal with the taxing power, but merely with the taxing base and not in any way alter or change the taxing power.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, having heard the very able answers from the Senator from Fayette, I do maintain that there is still an opening given here to increase taxation, and to increase liabilities. When we issue bonds upon any municipality or upon any county, or upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we place in a proportion of shares, those bonds as first mortgage upon the property of any citizen in the Commonwealth or within the municipality which you issue the bonds, and what is being asked here is an opening in this respect, that it takes away that mortgage from the personal property, and places a greater mortgage on the real property of the small home owner in Philadelphia, at least, and incidentally, it places a greater proportion of the burden upon the small home owner everywhere, because it makes his property the sole liability upon which you can combat to collect this bond issue. In case of the matter of forcible collection in case there is a default. The property which is the base upon which the bond issues are made is the property which is subject to collection by the Court if there is a default in the payment of the bond and maybe subjected to tax. True, this bill in itself does not lay the fact, but it opens the way to the levying of the tax. I have been talking for several years for an income tax, and I have been talking for that income tax not only as a means of relieving personal property, or substituting it for the personal property tax, I have been talking for an income tax for the purpose of relieving the home owner and the small real estate owner in Pennsylvania, and that is where I want to see the tax plan merely substituted. That man that is mostly entitled to protection, that man as I said before, is the backbone of our American Government, the great middle class, the real small home owners of Philadelphia. For that reason I am going to ask the Senate to take the same action on this resolution as they did on the preceding one and turn it down.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Fayette, contend that there is any difference substantially between this resolution, upon which we are about to vote, and the one which the Senate has defeated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, yes. Probably, I am not selfish in this matter, the resolution covers the same subject, but whether it covers all the phases of the subject, mine does, I do not know. I have been tempted to ask for my resolution because it has been approved and recommended by the State Planning Board. Now, it may cover the same subjects, I am sincere, I do not know.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that this resolution, upon which we are about to vote does increase the buying capacity in Philadelphia, to 15%, and does eliminate personal property as a tax base.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, no I cannot prescribe to that fact.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I mean as a borrowing capacity base.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, no, I would not say that it increases the borrowing capacity, when we take into consideration that after the personal property has been removed to the borrowing base that it becomes necessary to increase the percentage on the other, in order to balance the borrowing limit.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Fayette, admit that that is what happened to the assessed idea of real estate, and the 5% increase on the borrowing capacity, instead of 3%, will have the effect of raising the buying capacity of Philadelphia from 10% to 12% as well.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I shall answer that question by relying on the recommendation of the Planning Board and the other State authorities that I have talked to, that it does not increase the borrowing limit to that extent.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that the resolution, upon which we are about to vote is in substantially the same form as the one that the Senate just defeated. It provides for a buying capacity on an average of over a period of nine years instead of three, as now. It provides the borrowing capacity shall never exceed 15% instead of 10%, as it is now, and that is upon the annual assessed value of the taxability instead of 10, as it is now. I think that is upon the annual assessed value of the taxability of the state of taxabliity and it belongs now. It is for this reason that the two bills are practically of the same effect.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like the privilege of correcting the impression given by the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law. He has argued that this subject here pertains to security of bonded indebtedness already incurred. I appeal to my colleagues here, that the bonds are issued by a municipality, does not mean that the borrowing base is a security of that bonded indebtedness, but the security for that bonded indebtedness detracts from the power of the municipality, regardless that the owner of that bond does not go into court to invoke a remedy provided by this section of the Constitution, but he goes into court to ask that the taxing power of the municipality be invoked in order to raise sufficient revenues to pay back the recorded bond, and when the taxing power of the municipality is exhausted, that power is applied to all of the taxable property, which includes personal and real estate because of the passage of this resolution does not remove personal property from the sphere of the taxing power of the municipalities.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, will the passing of this resolution raise the rate of borrowing from seven to ten per cent?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, it will not, that is not the primary purpose.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, what is the purpose?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the purpose is to eliminate from the bonds the taxable property that fluctuates greatly over a period of years, and that is personal property.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, is it not true that this bill does make a basic taxing or a basic bonding limitation in the counties outside of Philadelphia of ten per cent instead of seven and in Philadelphia fifteen per cent instead of ten?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, based on the taxable real estate?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, instead of the taxable property as before.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, of the two put together, real and personal; I still insist however that the subject has nothing to do with the taxing powers.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I admit that directly it does not affect the taxing power, but that taxing power naturally goes to the base of the bond, and there is the question of the eventual obligation in case of a breakdown of the taxing power.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I move that the Senate resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 656, (House Bill No. 234,) on page 23 of the calendar.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, or the Senator that called it up, he is apparently familiar with it, Senator Kunkel.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, in a very few words, tell the Senate what this bill is? I know it is a very poorly drawn bill, I know that it amends an old act, without giving any indication whatever as to what the amendment is.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, this bill reenacts the act of 1933. It does not amend any act, but it reenacts the act of 1933, which was passed for the benefit of debtors, who were being sold out at sheriff's sale and their property sacrificed. It is an emergency bill. That Act of 1933, in my estimation, is still applicable, at least to a certain number of people who are threatened with sheriff sales. So far as a large proportion of the population is concerned, the emergency is still on and I think that this bill should be reenacted.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to second the remarks of the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, in this regard. I may say that in order that I might have an opportunity to further study the bill, I asked to have it put on the postponed calendar the other day, and I am satisfied that there is a need for it, and as far the County of Dauphin is concerned, there is an immediate need because they will have sales there very shortly, and I ask the members to go along with this, which is an additional protection to the real estate owners.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, the difficulty with this bill is that it continues in force the Act of 1935, which, unfortunately, has expired. For that reason I was asked to introduce a bill in the exact language as the act which this act was introduced to continue, I did say that that Act has passed the Senate and has gone to the House, so we have already passed the bill which the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, has called up, except that the one that we passed did not continue in force an expired act, but re-enacted the same act, which this Act is supposed to continue in force, so I can see no point in passing this Act, continuing in effect an Act which has expired prior to this time, which cannot be done when we have already done the same thing by reenacting the Act which this Act is continuing in force, and that Act is in the House at the present time.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, if I am correct in my understanding of his statement that after five years of Democratic rule the depression is still on?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I do not think I made that statement. I did make the statement that there were some people still having some trouble, but of course, it takes some time for the bulwark of Republicanism to get entirely cleared away.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in view of the statement of the Senator from Erie, I move that this bill be returned to the postponed calendar.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, it is immaterial to me what the Senate does with this bill, I am just informing the Senate before they vote on this bill, what the situation is.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, you said, that this very problem does not put forth to continue any existing acts, merely re-enacts the Act of 1933, it does not continue the provision of the Act of 1935, as the Senator from Erie states. Now if the Senate has already expressed its opinion in passing a similar act over to the House, which may die over there in committee. I can see no objection to expressing the same opinion here by voting favorably on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 1152 as follows:

An Act to amend section twenty-one of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws 363) entitled "An act relating to the organization jurisdiction and procedure of the orphans' courts the powers and duties of the judges thereof and appeals therefrom" by authorizing the orphans' court to conduct jury trials to determine issues awarded by it and regulating the procedure and appeals in such cases

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twenty-one of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws 363) entitled "An act relating to the organization jurisdiction and procedure of the orphans' courts the powers and duties of the judges thereof and appeals therefrom" is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof a new subdivision to read as follows

Section 21

(d) In any case where the orphans' court may deem it expedient or shall be required to send an issue to the court of common pleas for the trial of facts by a jury the orphans' court or a judge thereof may in its or his discretion draw a jury and a judge of said court shall preside at the trial of said issue The panel of jurors drawn for service in the common pleas court of the county in which the orphans' court is located shall be available for such services in the orphans' court when required and in counties where there is a separate orphans' court the orphans' court and the courts of common pleas of said county shall by appropriate rules provide for and regulate the manner in which the jurors shall be made available and sent to the orphans' court when required for the trial of issues therein

Unless and until the orphans' court otherwise directs the appropriate rules of the common pleas courts of said county shall apply to jury trials of issues in the orphans' court and matters relating to such trials shall be heard and disposed of by the orphans' court

The entry of judgments in such cases shall have the same force and effect and be subject to appeals in the same manner as appeals in like cases are now taken in the common pleas courts from judgments on issues certified by the orphans' court except that only one appeal shall be taken and that shall be from the final decress of the orphans' court upon which appeal all alleged errors may be assigned whether arising in the jury trial or otherwise

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE HOUSE SENATE BILL NO. 638.

Mr. RUTH offered the following resolution which was twice read considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 19, 1937

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) That Senate Bill No. 638, Printer's No. 297 entitled:

An Act to further amend section four of the act, approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws four hundred ninety-eight) entitled "An act defining consolidation of schools providing for the establishment and regulation of consolidated schools and providing for the transportation of pupils to and from consolidated schools" by making certain changes in the provisions for reimbursements by the Commonwealth.

be recalled from the House for the purpose of further amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 955, on final passage postponed, on page 7 of today's calendar.

Mr. DANDO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to

And the question recurring

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

Mr. DANDO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to amend line 1 of the title by inserting between the words "class" and "to" the following with the consent of the Water and Power Resources Board of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Amend page 2, section 2, line 20 by inserting between the words "authority" and "to" the following with the consent of the Water and Power Resources Board of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Amend page 5, section 9, line 27 by inserting between the words "power" and "to" the following with the consent of the Water and Power Resources Board of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Amend page 8, section 9, line 4 by inserting between the words "and" and "with" the following with the consent of the Water and Power Resources Board of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The PRESIDENT, Is there objection?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro, what the amendments are?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, the amendments give the rights to the Bureau of Water Power and Resources of the State to give Philadelphia its consent to invade the territories of the State for the purpose of getting water.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as I understand it, this bill has been amended to prevent Philadelphia taking the municipal water works in condemnation proceedings, and I would like to know whether these amendments now take away that amendment?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, no, in fact it gives powers to the Bureau of Water Power and Resources of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to give their consent, they must have their consent.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 572, on third reading, entitled:

An Act prescribing the powers and duties of the Department of Forests and Waters in respect to the Brandywine Battlefield and making an appropriation is not up from the printer and will go over in its order.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 575 (House Bill No. 602), entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred and two or the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred thirty-two) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" empowering directors of departments to appoint persons employed in their departments and assigning the fire department to the department of public safety.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, state his purpose in moving to place this bill on the postponed calendar?

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, this bill affects third class cities, and transfers the fire department from one department of the city to another. I have not yet ascertained the entire effects of this bill, but I understand informally, that the purpose back of the bill, was purely a purpose to make a change in one third class city, and that there was a personal motive back of that. Now this bill affects other third class cities and I would like an opportunity to determine the effect.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, does the Senator know that in the law, the Department of Police is already placed under the control of the Mayor of the City.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, does the Senator object to the police being a fixed quantity in the Mayor's department?

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I would not like to answer that unless I investigate the matter thoroughly.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair suggest that the bill go over in its order, to save time.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the bill going over in its order? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 602, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section six and sections eleven and eighteen as amended of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred sixty-two) entitled "An act providing for the creation and administration of a State Fund for the insurance of compensation for injuries to employes of subscribers thereto declaring false oaths by the subscribers to be misdemeanors and providing penalties for the violation thereof" further regulating the administration of such Fund the fixing of premiums payable by subscribers the distribution of unexpended balances to subscribers the collection of accounts against subscribers and providing for the giving of certified copies of the records of the Fund showing liens against subscribers and fixing fees therefor be recommitted to the Commitee on Insurance

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill was reported from committee with the understanding that if there was any serious objections to it, upon the interest, an opportunity should be given for them to be heard. For that purpose I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance. I understand a hearing will be given tomorrow at 12 o'clock.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand a hearing morrow at 12 o'clock.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

L. 67), may secure the benefits of this act by making payments on the balance due on such delinquent taxes at the times and in the fractional parts prescribed herein."; amend sec. 4, page 4, line 9, by striking out the figure "4" and inserting in lieu thereof "8".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to explain the purpose of these amendments. This bill is designed to affect first class cities, and first class school districts. In drawing the bill, the City of Pittsburgh School Districts were affected by it, and the bill is drawn in such a way as to make the administration of this act difficult for them, in order to protect their interests these amendments have been prepared. I hope with that explanation, the Senator from Bucks whose districts are not affected will withdraw his objection.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed third reading.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to make a statement that if the Senator from Bucks designs to have some bills voted against, this might be a good practice to start.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, yesterday there was a bill on the Calendar in which I was very vitally interested. I had been watching for it all day, it was not on the files when the session started, but it got on the calendar and I wanted a chance to look at it. I didn't even know that it had been put on the desk. It had not been there more than an hour, and I ask that it go over in order for the purpose of finding out what was in the bill. My colleague, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, objected and would not permit me to look what was in the bill. That is the reason I entered this objection.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to know if the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will tell me what he is talking about. I have no recollection whatever of the bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the bill is Senate Bill No. 728 and I had asked that it go over in its order so that I might have an opportunity to look over the bill. I am not in the habit of refusing such courtesy and I think that courtesy is due everyone of us.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President. I ask that the vote by which the bill passed third reading, be reconsidered.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

It was agreed to.

The title, fourth, third, second and first sections of the bill were severally reconsidered.

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on city and school taxes in cities of the first class and school districts of the first class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all penalties interest and costs imposed on delinquent city or school taxes in cities of the first class and in school districts of the first class for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and for all previous tax years and the penalties imposed on such taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five shall be abated without the necessity of further action on the part of the council of such city or by the board of public education of such school district as the case may be if the following provisions are complied with

(a) That all of the said respective delinquent taxes are paid in four equal installments as follows one fourth on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven one fourth on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight one fourth on or before the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine and the final one fourth on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine

(b) The respective current taxes for the years during such installment period shall be paid before they become delinquent

Section 2 In case any taxpayer shall default in the payment of any installment of taxes or in the payment of current taxes as required in section one of this act the penalties interest and costs on the installments of such delinquent taxes remaining unpaid shall not be abated but shall remain due and payable as provided by existing law Provided however That at any time during the installment period any taxpayer who has accepted the installment system of payment provided by this act may pay the entire balance due on delinquent taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years whereupon the penalties and interest on such delinquent taxes for such years and penalties and all costs on delinquent taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five shall be abated and all liens filed for delinquent taxes shall be satisfied of record Provided further however That the taxes for the then current year and all prior years are paid

Section 3 The abatement of penalties and interest on such taxes shall be made whether or not liens for such taxes have been filed in the office of the prothonotary or proceedings for the collection of such taxes shall have been instituted in any court of such county and the taxpayer and the real estate shall not be liable for the payment of any costs incurred in filing such liens or in prosecuting such proceedings

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all penalties interest and costs imposed on delinquent city or school taxes in cities of the

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1062, (House Bill No. 1981), entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1116) entitled "An act for the protection of the public health and to prevent fraud and deception in the manufacture sale offering for sale exposing for sale and having in possession with intent to sell of adulterated or deleterious ice cream custard ice cream french ice cream french custard frozen custard sherbet ice and fruit ice including coated ice cream and the coating thereof fixing standards for ice cream custard ice cream french ice cream french custard frozen custard sherbet ice and fruit ice and to prevent the sale of imitation ice cream and defining said imitation ice cream providing penalties for the violation thereof and providing for the enforcement thereof" further regulating the manufacture importation and sale of such products providing for injuctions and changing the penalties prescribed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this bill is presumably a health measure. It provides on page 5 of the bill that it shall be unlawful for any manufacturer of ice cream to use the word 'home-made' or words of similar import, in connection, unless the same has been manufactured in individual homes under benefit of home conditions.

I challange anybody in this Senate to tell me what that means, whether that provision cannot have the effect of preventing these widows and people who have home-made ice cream places and sell home-made ice cream, under conditions about which no one complains, that the sanitation or purity of the ice cream could be prevented from continuing the business. It provides that ice cream must be home-made ice cream, without giving anybody an opportunity to understand just what they mean when they say it must be home-made ice cream. I can't see why some person manufacturing ice cream in their home, and it still would not be home-made ice cream according to what somebody in the department might think, and because of that, I think, in fairness to these people, they ought to know that this provision is in the bill, because they look upon it as a health measure and not something that has nothing to do with health.

BILL RECOMMITTED

I, therefore, suggest that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture, in order that the matter may be considered, and if necessary, the bill amended.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1080, (House Bill No. 1575), entitled:

An Act to amend section eighteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand forty-three) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as amended authorizing the assignment of retirement rights in certain cases

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER REQUEST.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1085 on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for fixing minimum compensation for barber service in the several counties of this Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Public Instruction and prescribing penalties go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I object.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 1085, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for fixing minimum compensation for barber service in the several counties of this Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Public Instruction; and prescribing penalties.

to postponed for the present.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CREESH and Mr. RUTH and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1085 entitled:

An Act providing for fixing minimum compensation for barber service in the several counties of this Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Public Instruction; and prescribing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, being real busy, of course, I have not had a chance to read or study the bill; therefore, I ask that the sponsor explain the purpose. I desire to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh to explain the contents of the bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would ask the sponsor explain the purpose of the bill.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, there is no confliction in this bill, the only trouble that is wrong with the bill is perhaps we might have put in a price of $1.85 for people with bald heads.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, a little while ago, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, referred to the price of $1.80, is the reason because the hairs were hard to find, or what?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I guess that is right.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, why he did not include the bootblacks in this?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, it would be very foolish to try to make a bill that would cover all classes, I am just taking barbers.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, of all the bills that I have ever seen here in a great many years, I think this is the most ridiculous. Here we are asked seriously, by this legislation, to fix the price of one service.

I know of no similar bill on the statute books. I have known of no class of artisans who had the audacity to come before this legislature and ask us to fix prices. We have provided for sanitation, we have provided for inspection, and now they ask us to fix the price. Again I feel it my duty to come to the sense of the poor people of our community. Why should our poor people, the people living in the poorer communities of this State, be obliged to pay the same price that people would pay on Chestnut Street or on Broad Street? As I said before, I have never been asked to fix the price of anything except possibly milk. Milk is a necessity of life which needs protection. It is one of the most delicate foods handled by the human race, and even that is regional, the control of that. Here we are asked to provide minimum price to pay for a shave or haircut, or barber service.

I want to say to the people of this Commonwealth that if we are going to start this thing, we will have to regiment and fix the price of all other articles, or all other service that is given to our people. I think the Senate should vote this bill down at once.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, with much pleasure.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, whether he is in favor of the N. R. A.?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am not.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, allright. This does not fix the price according to the city and the country, this bill is left to 75% of the barbers in a vicinity or a municipality, to fix or regulate prices they wish.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill, plus every other bill that we have on the calendar, are to be apparently intended to be rushed through the Senate in the excitement of the occasion, on the theory that they are health or safety measures. Senate bill No. 815, just came to our desk with amendments, and I am quite sure that the sponsor of the bill was induced to ask that we hurry up and pass this bill, and if we do not something is going to happen to those people who have been engaged in business, without this bill. There is a bill in the Senate now that the barbers shall have a certain amount more of education than they have had before, and this is the companion bill to it. I suppose if we keep on every barber will have to have a college credit before he can shave, and his education having no resemblance to the particular business to which he is engaged. This is not the height of folly, it is colossal in asking that the legislature shall pass a bill going to the effect that this bill does, on the basis that this is a health measure.

I want to read this: "That whenever a written agreement signed by an organized group comprising seventy-five percentum or more of the licensed barbers, operating in any county whereby a scale of minimum compensation for barber service is established in such county is submitted to the Department of Public Instruction the department shall investigate and make inquiry as to the propriety of such compensation under all conditions and their adequacy to best protect the public health and safety by affording a sufficient minimum compensation for barber service to enable the barbers of the county to furnish modern service and appliances best designed to minimize the danger to the public health and if it finds that the conditions so warrant shall by departmental order fix the minimum compensation for all service usually performed in a barber shop."

Now that is a health measure. It makes a great deal of difference to the health of the people of this state whether they pay 25 cents for a shave, or 35 cents, and the Department of Public Instruction now has the job to go into each county and to investigate and find out what is the proper price to be charged for a shave. I think with that and several other bills as a standard, what we are going to do this Session? We can go home and say we have taken good care of a lot of nonsense, wasting time and spending hours here on unimportant legislation, if we are going to be bothered with this kind of what can be, in the most expressive language, called 'truck'. The reason I voted against sending this bill back to the committee is because I wanted to have it brought up immediately to a vote, to voice my protest against this kind of legislation, sponsored by individuals who have no interests of the State, who have the interest of themselves at heart, without regards to what effect it has on others in the locality who are affected thereby.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I am glad that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is going to be short in his speeches in the future, because he certainly did take up the time and I especially hope that in the future he is not going to make any more speeches.

Now I am not a barber, and this bill was presented to me, it is an important measure, I believe, and I do not see any harm in it at all. It is left up to 75% of the barbers to decide what they are going to do and if they do run a dirty, filthy barber shop, they should be investigated and they should pay taxes and do as other people have to do, and I hope that the Senators, themselves who do pay for shaves and haircuts - - and there are very few of them - - perhaps will vote for this bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, insofar as this bill is concerned, it is absolutely useless, because in all communities both the barber shop owners have a union, the employers have a union, the emplyoees have a union, and they regulate both employment and business among themselves. It is strictly a local situation, where every local community can take care of the situation, and it is absolutely ridiculous or silly to have the State of Pennsylvania interfere with a trivial situation such as this, which is protected in its home community.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to voice my disagreement with both Senators from Philadelphia, on their statements that this is a ridiculous and useless bill. This bill is more important than the gentlemen probably anticipate. The Senator from Bucks has entered upon the subject of price fixing and he has given us an example, the milk control laws of this State, and that law was declared constitutional and valid because the Supreme Court stated that milk was impressed with a public interest, but now at no time in this Commonwealth has our Supreme Court been given the opportunity to pass upon legislation that tends to fix prices in any way, but I say that among the most intelligent and capable attorneys at the Bar of Pennsylvania, there is doubt in their minds as to whether the Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania has the power under the Constitution to enact legislation to fix prices, and I say that this is one bill that would raise that question, pure and simple, and I say that if we pursue the platform and the policies of the democracy that now grip this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I say that it is our duty here to have a pronouncement of our Supreme Court on whether or not the Assembly of this State can fix the prices in any particular respect. For that reason, if for no other, I am in favor of this bill, in order to have the Supreme Court of our State to pass upon that specific question of price fixing in this industry, which may also govern price fixing in other industries, and lay down rules for future assemblies to be guided by.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. I want to remind the Senators that we have a long calendar that must be gone through today.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, thanks.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1114, entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred two of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred nineteen) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending ad consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by further regulating the incorporation of boroughs

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, this next bill on the Calendar as I understand it, is here for the purpose of correcting certain evils in Coaltown, I guess from time in immorial. The bill itself, as I take it, will not tend to correct those evils, but will place a burden upon the townships of our state, in the event that coal towns eventually cease to be coal towns, a burden which will be unbearable. We are continually talking about doing away with ox-cart Government and by various other means saving the taxpayers unnecessary taxes. This is just adding a burden upon the property holders, and property owners, in townships where, as I say again, these coal towns are largely closed. I could find no one interested in this bill particularly. I have asked the Department of Labor and Industry, they seem to have no interest in it. I understand from reliable authority that labor is not interested in it. I cannot find a reason for putting this bill through, and I am reasonably certain that there is no argument which will cause us to believe that if this bill is passed, that the evils which have existed in the coal towns in the past will be eradicated, so I feel, gentlemen, that this bill should not pass this Senate.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, since this bill has my name on it as sponsor, I am sorry that the Senator from Pittsburgh, Mr. Rodgers, has seen fit to say that he has found nobody that is interested in this bill. I think I am divulging no party secrets here in the halls of this Senate when I say that we all know that there are certain measures that are prepared by our Departments and rather than to call them administration measures they ought to be termed as 'policy' measures, because these bills seek to place on the statute books part of the platform upon which the Democratic Party came into power, and this is one of those bills which was prepared by the administration, has the administration backing on it, by the cover, and sent over to me to be introduced and defended here in the Senate.

The Senator from Pittsburgh has referred to evils, and yet he has not stated further what evils this bill seeks to correct. The evils that the Senator knows have existed for many years in the mining communities of this State are these, that the employees in the coal mines are housed in houses belonging to the operator of the coal companies. Some of these mining towns have as many as 1,000 homes altogether and among those houses are streets over which the public travel to go to and from these houses, and the people who live in these houses. Now, under the domination of the Republican Party, with their coal and iron police, with the force of the military and police powers of the State, these coal companies have established the practice in time of industrial disputes to hire watchmen or policemen to guard these coal mining towns, and place in the hands of these individuals guns and gas bombs and everything else, and then they would post every entrance of those mining towns with big signs "Private property, no trespassing," and at that sign would be stationed one of those policemen, under the pay and control of the coal company, and when a citizen of the Commonwealth had anything to do with any of these poor gentlemen who live in those houses and would seek to enter that coal plant, they would stop you and demand whether you had a pass from the superintendent of the company, or the manager in charge; and if you did not have a pass you were stopped right there and not permitted to enter that company's town, wherein lived free American citizens and entitled to be visited and contacted by other citizens of this Commonwealth. But these coal companies would close that plant and keep every member of the public out unless they had passes. Now, my friends of the Senate, in our program, in our platform, in our campaign to the people of this Commonwealth, and especially in the western part of this state, we were pledged that we would wipe that evil out, and we are in duty bound, not only as the members of the Democratic Party, but as true, honest and decent American citizens to see that conditions of that kind, which are so similar to those conditions which at one time existed in Mexico and other countries that do not enjoy the kind of freedom that we have here, that it is our duty in view of all that, to see that those evils are corrected.

I say that if the bill here on this calendar on final passage may appear too drastic, I tell the Senator from Pittsburgh, or those who are opposing this bill, to suggest in what particulars we can amend the bill, in what particulars we can correct the law of this Commonwealth, to eliminate that disgraceful evil that is so un-American, and those who are opposed to this bill come down and ask for a public hearing and a public hearing will be given to them, and they come down with the best men they have in the employ of the corporations to tell us of the bad features of the bill, of the administrative arguments they can propound against the bill but not one word of suggestion how we might amend this bill or correct the bill so as to eliminate this most un-American evil, and I say that this bill should not be defeated, but this bill under the arrangements that we had with the Chairman of the Committee when we voted it out, that after the bill was on the calendar for final passage, a public hearing in the matter would be called and when he consulted me, I agreed to it, that the bill should go over in order so that we might hear the opposition to this bill, and then let the bill go over to the House with the specific understanding that the gentlemen should have an opportunity to offer their amendments, their corrections, and that we would use all the influence in our power as members of the upper House to influence the members of the lower House, that the amendments should be made, that this bill could be amended to correct and eliminate a most un-American evil or practice, then I say I should not insist, or no one should insist that the bill pass, but I say that they ought to try to get together with the opposition and to have them suggest and recommend, if they are true Americans, how we can eliminate this most abominable evil.

I ask the members of the Senate not to defeat this bill, not to kill it, but let the understanding be carried out, let this bill, that is an administration bill, that has been backed by administration, and I most emphatically disagree with the Senator from Pittsburgh, Mr. Rodgers, that he knows of no one in favor of the bill, when we all know that labor has been fighting with all its might to eliminate this abnominable evil for years and years, and the opportunity is here now, and labor has a right to demand at the hands of the party in power that this evil be remedied. I ask the Senate to send this bill over to the House and to allow the administration to so mold the bill that it will not be defeated, for I do, to some extent, admit that the bill does need some possible amendments, so as not to open the door to any serious consequences. We are not here to destroy the owners of these coal mines. We are not here to put in stumbling blocks for the protection of their property, but I say we must demand of these men that they use the possession of that property with all its benefits for the general welfare of the people and with due respect to the betterment that the people are entitled to under the Constitution, whether that man belongs to these corporations or not, for after all, in time of danger, in time of war, when their property is in danger because of invasion of this land, we who do not own a single penny's worth of that property, are called upon to defend it, also have the right to demand, gentlemen, that they use the possession of that property in a true American manner.

I think we ought to take this bill and send it right over to the House, and I shall go along with any member of this Senate to insist that the administration so amend and correct it that it will correct the evil that it is intended to correct.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I think we all agree with the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that the evil that exists in the coal mining towns should be wiped out. I do not believe any member of this Senate realizes that more than I do. I was born in a coal mining town. However, there is one particular angle that I think the Senator from Fayette should keep in mind, when possible suggestions are being made, when the amendments come from the House, and that is this: Your townships have a set up, they have bonded indebtedness, they have taxes that they raise; the bulk of the townships' taxes in the townships in which these towns exist comes from the so-called towns. You must remember that a great many in the homes now are practically owned; however, there is nothing in this bill where it hurts, other than this thing: if these towns become incorporated boroughs, then the township loses all revenue from the taxes on that particular property, because it can be used by the borough, and then you are going to affect all the remaining residents of the townships who happen to be farmers, and who cannot stand much more taxes. I am afraid we may drop on to the farmers an additional load to carry it on account of the tax program . That is the only thing I wanted to point out to the Senator from Fayette so that he may keep that in mind when the amendments are offered.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I fully agree with the Senator from Westmoreland. I think his argument is sound and that this bill be passed. I shall invite the Senator from Westmoreland and the Senator from Pittsburgh to confer with me and to see that the bill does not pass the House unless the administration can repair it so that it will not create the situation stated by the Senator from Westmoreland.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this is a very peculiar situation where the sponsor of this bill admits that it is not in proper form and that it would do an injustice, and yet he wants it passed over to the House, simply because the administration has so ordered. There is no use to say anything about this matter if this Senate is going to be a complete rubber stamp and is not going to use its own intelligence in developing these bills in the state in which they should be. The Senator from Fayette County is, to some extent, right about the previous conduct of certain coal companies in his own county, which I presume, he is speaking about chiefly. The courts of our state have said that people generally are entitled to have access to the residents of those towns and I think these troubles that he speaks of are largely aside from that. It seems to me a very anomalous situation if we permit tenants and temporary residents of a village to vote themselves into a borough. We have in our county a number of coal mines. We have in there boroughs ranging from 10,000 in population down to less than 200. In the last thirty years, I can recall perhaps two or three villages which were incorporated into boroughs. All of these had existed, there have been nine boroughs that have given up their identity as such, but in this same time there have been quite a number of coal company communities which have entirely disappeared. There was a time when our county produced ten million tons of bituminous coal annually. On account of the impossibility for these coal companies to operate, scores of them have gone into bankruptcy and disappeared on account of the taxes of one kind and another, and in competition with West Virginia, until now, their production is about four million tons a year, and many of those companies which then existed have disappeared.

Now, if we permit temporary residents of a village to vote themselves into a borough and set up all the machinery of a borough, and vote bond issues and all the things that go with it, they may be there only a few weeks and then disappear, then the burden is no longer upon them, it is upon others who have nothing to do with voting taxes and bond issues and machinery of a borough. Now this does not apply to coal companies. I can visualize the situation, and it has taken place many times, and there are members of the Senate who perhaps have in mind many instances where lots of land are laid off in some sections and houses are built and people invest their money and build houses, and perhaps a whole section, the entire section is rented out. not to coal miners, but others. Now if we permit those people who have only a very fleeting, temporary energy to go ahead and vote through an incorporation, you are putting a terrible burden upon men who have laid out those sub-divisions and have built the houses. If the evil exists which the Senator from Fayette says, this is not the kind of a bill to take care of it. This bill is not capable of amending or to take care of the things which he speaks of. That should be taken care of by an entirely different series of legislation, and it seems to me that if the members of this Senate would simply give this a little thought and think of the burdens which will be entailed, not only upon the property holders of that community, but on the townships from which the land was taken, they will vote against this bill.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, the automobile owners in Pennsylvania pay in taxes to the State and Federal Government over one hundred million dollars a year. They paid a license fee to the State of Pennsylvania, in the year 1936, thirty-five millions, they paid their gas tax to the State of Pennsylvania of forty-nine millions, they paid the Federal tax in 1936 of twelve millions, so that the automobile producers in Pennsylvania paid to our Government over one hundred million dollars a year in taxes. During the depression, if there was one class of people in Pennsylvania, or in the United States, that kept the spirit of American business, it was the automobile dealers. Mr. President, I say to you had it not been for the automobile dealers in the United States during the depression I do not know where we would be today I admired during those dark days the courage and energy and the spirit of the automobile dealers. When most of us were depressed and our soul burned out of our body, these automobile dealers went forth with the spirit of old and kept on and kept the automobile industry up, otherwise it would have gone down, and but for the very fact that these men during those dark days worked with such spirit and such energy to keep the automobile business going, as I said before, I do not know what would have been the result. During the few years of the depression they worked for the N. R. A., they were not keen N. R. A. at first, but after they had worked under it they saw the benefit of it and when the N. R. A. passed out these men have found things most difficult. I do not suppose there is an automobile dealer in Pennsylvania can go to a bank today, or to anyone, they are at the mercy of finance business that practically none of them are making any money. During the last five years twenty-five percent of them have failed. We had a hearing in this Chamber last week and I want to say to the Senators who sat here and heard the testimony at that hearing, it was the finest, the largest hearing that I have ever attended since I have been here. Over eighty percent of the dealers in Pennsylvania, men who have sold us these cars that were built, paid to the nation one hundred million dollars a year in taxes, these men have came to us and tell us here, "no matter how hard we work, no matter how much we struggle, no matter how much we worry, most of us are losing money." At that hearing the other night one man told me that he sold there million dollars worth of cars last year and made eighteen hundred dollars. Another man told me he had sold a million and a half dollars worth of cars and made only five thousand dollars. Another man came and told me that he sold a million dollars worth of cars and made eighteen hundred dollars. Most of them are losing money and the worst part of the thing is the second-hand cars, the trade-ins. For every new car that is sold two used cars are sold, and there is such a chance for cheating, of crooked financing, that the unscrupulous dealer can offer fifty dollars or one hundred dollars for a car than a reputable dealer can offer only forty dollars. Then they will take him to his own finance company and they will task on those finance charges and the owner, the man who possibly does not know and when he is through he pays just as much as if he had gone to a reputable dealer and gotten a first-class car. And so these men come to us, these men that through their energy and through their sales are responsible for bringing into our Government over one hundred million dollars a year, they come down to this Legislature and say: "here is all we ask, we do not ask for a cent from the State of Pennsylvania, we do not ask for a dollar in taxes, here is something that we people want, eighty percent of them, and we are willing to pay for the cost of this licensing bureau or commission, we will pay in our own license fees, therefore we are willing to have our dealers licensed, our salesman licensed, and our places licensed, and this Commission of five, provided for in the bill, will immediately, at least once every thirty days, be paid twenty-five dollars a day for the days they actually meet and fix the price of second-hand cars or fthe following month." This price is arrived at by taking the average price of the second-hand sales during the previous month and then that is the maximum price the next month that any dealer would be allowed to charge. This bill provides that if there is a sale of a second-hand car these licensed appraisers will appraise cars to the price not more than the maximum prices set by the Commission, but he can appraise the car and if it needs repairs he enumerates the repairs and before that car can be sold the dealer knows what repairs must be made; therefore it is a safety measure.

Mr. President, I want to say to you I regard this as the greatest safety measure that was ever offered in the State of Pennsylvania to protect us on the highways, and so, Mr. President, I feel that if these automobile dealers that we all admire, that if these men come down here and say "we want this and we do not ask the State of Pennsylvania to pay a cent for it, we are willing to pay for it, it will not cost the State a penny", they come here by the score, and I praise these dealers for setting their own house in order, that they have offered to do this bill. There is no politics in this thing, they are not politicians, they are the best business men in the State of Pennsylvania and they come here and ask for this without costing the State of Pennsylvania a penny.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President. I intend to take but a moment of the time of this Senate with reference to this bill. I rise with some hesitancy after the Senate has listened to such a masterful plea for this bill. I just want to point out, however, and dispute what he says with reference to the financial position of automobile dealers, at least in the section that I come from. All those dealers are responsible men and can go to any bank and borrow money, and in my section the automobile dealers do not want this bill, because they are afraid that prospective customers will be able to cross the State line if they are not satisfied with what they have to allow under this bill.

Mr. President, I am told that already in the City of Philadelphia some of the large dealers have established and are establishing branches in townships, and when a prospect comes to a dealer in Philadelphia and is told what he can allow him, it will be a very simple matter to take it across the Delaware River bridge.

Mr. President, I think that this bill is a mistake and I think that the dealers themselves will find it is a mistake, for I have represented in my capacity as an attorney, a good many of the dealers in my county and I represent them today. The group of men that came down here, as the Senator from Allegheny said, I believe to be the finest citizens of this Commonwealth. Mr. President, when men like that come before this Senate and say "we cannot run our business, we need somebody to tell us what we will allow for automobiles," I am frank to say I do not know what has happened to the American business men of this day who come down here and say "we cannot run our business because we are so weak that we must give too much to the man that has the car to trade in." Now what is going to happen to the poor fellow that has an old automobile and this appraiser comes along and says that it is not worth anything? His hands are tied, he cannot get rid of his car except for what the appraiser says it is worth, he cannot sell it outside, we all know that. The dealer can get any price he pleases, he is not bound to a price allowed.

Mr. President, I venture to suggest that this bill will come back to plague every member in the Senate who votes for it. I think it is a mistake. This is true I believe, as Senator McGinnis has said, that the majority of the dealers of Pennsylvania think they want this bill, but I do not think it is true that they are not capable of running their business. The dealers that I represent, without exception, are fine business men, they support our community, they should have the backing of every one of us, and I want to repeat that there is no one in this Senate more vitally interested in seeing them prosper than I am, and I cannot believe that this bill will work out to their ultimate benefit, and I further cannot believe that any dealer in any borderline county of this whole State will be able to meet the competition that is bound to come when the dealers outside bring in what they please. You all know today that a man will shop around for thirty dollars on a second-hand car, or twenty dollars; in my county you can go ten miles across the line and can get any price they please, there is no limitation on what they can pay except the bargaining of the people. In other words, how in the world is this thing a safety measure, enforcing this bill as a safety measure when the whole purpose of the bill is to see how much he can get for his second-hand automobile. I cannot see where there is any safety measure in it. Still I say I cannot believe that this bill is constitutional, I do not believe it, and I cannot believe it is in the interest of the dealers. A large number of them are for it, I know that Senator McGinnis is conscientiously for this bill, I know that the Association officers seem to favor this bill and I have great respect for them, but I think they are making a mistake.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, not long ago I came under the influence of the charming personality of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, and in a moment of rashness I said I would support his bill, but I have now read as far as page 7 of the bill and, therefore, I have to serve notice that I cannot support this bill.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, all of these complaints seem to come from the border lines of this State. It seems strange to me that this bill has the support of probably ninety percent of the dealers, if there is anything in these telegrams and other communication I get from my district, which is right along the border line of the highway, not very far from the birder line of Ohio.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in voting upon this bill I intend to exercise my prerogative of doing what I think is best for the automobile dealers in Pennsylvania, whether they think the same or not. And I am thoroughly convinced that we cannot regulate the price of used automobiles by legislation any more than we can control a man's appetite by legislation. I too represent a border district and I know that it will not be for the benefit of the dealers in my district to have this bill enforced, and as far as that is concerned, if any dealer wants to chisel on the price that is allowed for used automobiles he will find a way to do it. It may be that he will not show by his books that he is violating the provisions of this Act, but he will say to a prospective customer I cannot allow you one hundred dollars, but I will bet you fifty dollars that you cannot walk through that door without touching both sides. If the man does it, he will get fifty dollars and everything will be satisfactory.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I desire to state that I do not intend to vote for this bill. My reason for opposing this bill is altogether different from the reasons that may be in the minds of my Republican colleagues. I can very well appreciate the fact that the automobile dealers need help and assistance. The reason why they need help and assistance is because the automobile industry is in the hands of a few monopolistic producers who are forcing the product up on the dealers without regard to the effect it may have upon the dealers or the public. Ninety-five percent of the automobiles used are produced by Ford, Chrysler and General Motors. The condition in the automobile industry is indicative of the general tendency and growth of business in this country towards monopoly. I am opposed to that condition of affairs. At the same time I am not willing to help the small businesses people at the expense of the masses of Americans who use automobiles. This is not primarily a price fixing measure. Our business system is based on the theory that the law of supply and demand automatically fixes the price fairly and equally for everybody. That is the theory, but it is not true, it does not work out that way. The evidence of that is the fact that we are urged here to fix prices and help the little business man. I am willing to do that, but not at the expense of the mass of Americans who are consumers. For these reasons I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I just want to say one thing; I do not want to consider this a partisan measure and I think many of the dealers that are for this bill are Republican dealers. I have not approached them myself, I do not know the position of the Republicans. I hope this will not be voted upon as a partisan measure, that it will not be taken up in that position, in a partisan position. This is my own position, as I understand it, and as the dealers in my own community would want.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill although I do not believe in the principle that it sets up. I am voting for it because I feel that we are facing the pirnciple of regulation of business and industry, and that we have an opportunity here with a competent group of business people who come to us and state that for this experiment "we are willing to pay all the costs and finance it," and if it does not work, I hope it will not be the consumer who will suffer, but it will be the automobile dealer of Pennsylvania. If we set the prices upon the used cars that are not satisfactory, people will go out of the State and buy them, or there will be chiseling as Senator Buckman has said. I do not think we can ever have a better opportunity of finding out whether or not we should have the State regulate business. I do not think we will ever have a higher type group come to us and make a fairer proposition than these gentlemen have made. In my particular district ninty-five percent of these dealers are for it. I told them I did not believe it would be good thing. They said, "we are for it." Now if you want to get 95% of your automobile dealers and as they feel that they are competent enough in their business experience, I think we should give them an opportunity, it will cost the State nothing and it will cost the public nothing. I believe we should support the measure.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have no personal interest in either side of this controversy, but I am concerned about a bill which is drawn in this form. According to this bill, if a man wants to go to shop around, as he has a right to do now, even amongst those who are supposed to be known as chiseling dealers and whom I do not know, I do not know what a chiseling dealer means, but if he goes to anyone, he first must get his certificate of appraisal and pay a dollar and a half, and if within two days from that time he wants to go to another dealer to chisel, to give him an idea how much he can get for his car, according to the bill, on page 19, he must get another appraisal, because a certificate of appraisal is only good for forty-eight hours and in the rush and hurry to get this bill through, the sponsors have not noted that on page 19 the insertion of the word "forty-eight hours" instead of "twenty-four". In addition to that, they left out the word "than" and the sentence does not make sense, if the certificate of approsal is null within forty-eight hours. In addition to that, in trying to prevent what they call chiseling they must necessarily do something else. If the allowance is greater than they think should be allowed, then they place themselves in the hands and control of the manufacturer, because if you cannot make due allowance on used cars, then you cannot get the price on a new car, and they provide that no car shall be sold except at the advertised price fixed by the manufacturer. And now that is the extent to which this bill has gone, and in order to enable these people to carry out what they say is a laudible purpose.

In addition to that, they have set up provisions in the defense of a violation for which a man would pay a fine of from five hundred to a thousand dollars if the given allowance is more than the appraisal, and if he does not put a stamp on the certificate or if the certificate is more than forty-eight hours old and he accepts it, a man would be fined for the second offense from five hundred to a thousand dollars, and I suggest to those men who have sponsored this bill that they are asking the members of the Senate to do something that they will regret before they are much older, the expense of an appraisement of a used car is to be made for a dollar and a half and they expect that appraisement to be properly made and that is not so. What they are trying to do is merely compel a man to go to specific appraisers. The specific appraisers will know just how much they should be allowed and they will never be able to make the appraisement for a dollar and a half, because the commission also on the rejection of the bill, the Commission set up this as the maximum allowance for any car, the appraiser does not have anything to say about it, except within certain limits, and those limits are fixed by others who are set up by the commission and if you will read that these cars and all of the money that go to the Commission you will find that they are going to be a sizable sum, running into hundreds of thousands of dollars, coming into the hands of this Commission and for what purpose? Why they should need it I do not know. We have had case after case, some that went to the Federal Court, and some to the Supreme Court of the United States, where it was held that you could not fix the price, the manufacturer could not fix the retail price of his article. Now we in Pennsylvania are giving the manufacturer in Ohio, who ships his products here, the right to say that no dealer shall sell an automobile for less than the advertised price. I refer the members of this Senate to the bill in question, on page 19, "nor shall he sell the new motor vehicle for less than the manufacturers' advertised price plus transportation, except he may sell to members of his immediate family or to members of his organization for personal use of such car but he shall immediately notify the Commission that he has done so and setting forth the name, address and relationship between himself and the buyer and describing the car fully including the make, type of body type of motor and serial number."

In addition to that, if that is so, why distinguish these automobile manufacturers from other manufacturers? We have thousands of radio dealers in the State of Pennsylvania, washing machine dealers, who take in trade second-hand machines, why should not they have the same privilege? Why is this exclusively for the manufacturers and the dealers in automobiles? Everybody knows that the radio business is in just as chaotic condition as the automobile business in respect to trade in, and it seems to me it is time that we stop making special legislation for special groups, especially when the penalty for violation of any provision of the Act is a fine of $1,000, and I think, if my memory serves me right, in addition to that imprisonment.

This bill is made for a lawful purpose, but it certainly can hurt a large city like Philadelphia. In that city, all you have to do is to spend 25c to go across the bridge and get a greater allowance if you want it.

I do not know what they mean by a 'chiseling' dealer; I do not know how he is described, but I do know before this bill goes into effect you can go into one place and get $250 for a car and go into another place and get $350 and I do see a crime in that, or any reason why a man should be called a "chiseler" because he is willing to make the best bargain he sees fit from his experience.

The PRESIDENT, (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I will admit that if anybody had suggested a bill like this ten years ago, I would have felt the same as some of the Senators apparently are feeling here this afternoon, but times have changed. I do not know just the cause, but somehow or other they are changing. These very automobile dealers, when the N. R. A. was passed, despised it, like most of the people did, they said that it would never work, and after they were under it they found it worked, and I want to say this, that the regulations in this bill compared with N. R. A. are very mild. These automobile dealers worked under N. R. A., they worked under a bill ten times as drastic as this, and having worked for over a year under the N. R. A. and having seen what it had done for their industry, these men, as I said before sold used cars to owners and did pay to the State and Federal Government over one hundred million dollars a year. These men who have sold those cars pushed that business as no other group of men have done in Pennsylvania and do you know these salesmen in Pennsylvania made last year only a thousand dollars profit and the dealers, twenty-five percent of them, failed, and dealers who sold at least two or three million dollars worth of cars, as they told us here the other day, made $1,800 to $5,000 profit in that kind of business, now they come to us and say "we are sick, we are a sick business, we have lived under the N. R. A., we know what it has done, we are not asking you to do anything, we are asking for a mild regulation compared to what we were compelled to do under N. R. A.," and I say to you, a class of business-men like that, as the Senator from Indiana has said, the highest class of business-men in the State of Pennsylvania, after keeping us going through the depression with the spirit of more energy and more courage than any other group, and now they come to us and say "we are sick, our salesmen are only making a thousand dollars a year, the average salesmen, twenty-five percent of us have failed and we are no drones, we are out day and night, we try never to lose a sale, they come to us and say "here we want this, we have had the experience with the N. R. A., we do not ask the State of Pennsylvania to pay a cent for us, we are willing to pay for it and suffer if it is wrong, but we do not fear any suffering from it because we have lived a year under the N. R. A.," and as I said before under regulation ten times as drastic as this bill.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I have listened to the oratory of the Senator from Allegheny which is a flowery description of this bill. He comes from the city and I represent a rural country, I represent seventh and eighth class counties. In the first place, I was surprised to think that a group of men of the type that appeared down here last week at the hearing would come and even ask that the legislature should make class legislation for their industry. As the Senator from Philadelphia has said, if we begin this class legislation where will we ever stop? Here we are going to fix the price of hair-cuts, and we are going to fix the price of automobiles, of gasoline. People from all industries in this country will be asking for a price fixing bill. Now, in my country this is what it is going to do, and we have automobiles dealers and they are prospering. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, has told us that they cannot go to the bank and borrow money. I asked a man who was down here, a leading automobile dealer, whose reputation and credit is high in the town. Now, the automobile dealers in our country do not just handle cars, they also create a market for the farmers, they will take in cattle, they will take in horses, they will take in hogs, or whatever line that they may have to trade in and this is setting up a great market for our people, and it was a wonderful market during wartimes, when the people had nowhere to dispose of those things, when the prices were so low. Now are we going to block that? Are we going to cut down the right of the people, the ordinary man, where he can no longer go and barter and trade his automobile in wherever he can get the best deal? I say it would be very unjust if we would tie the hands of the people of the country and fix that price. Many of these people, of course, we know are also from the poor laboring people, and they in turn go without a price on their car and they will deal possibly for a second-hand car, but if this price is fixed, it will block that entirely.

Now, there is another thing that is wrong about this set-up, and that is this; they set up a board of five members and those five members are going to be permitted to go into every man's place of business and look over his books and check on everything, on all transactions that are conducted. Do you want a certain Board to come in every day and look over your books? Now you are taking away the rights and liberty of the people when you do that. Let us consider what we are doing, and, as Senator Shapiro has said, the exhorbitant penalty that is placed on this is certainly wrong. For my part I am going to vote against this bill and, I hope consistently, for the benefit of the district which I represent.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I can see the reason why some of the members in this Chamber oppose this bill, because it might affect a certain district, but I cannot see any reason why any man should oppose it when it does not affect them. You must keep in mind, even if this measure might be detrimental to one particular section, that what one body can do the next body can undue. These people are asking for it, they are going to pay for it, and I see no reason why we should deny them that privilege.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Barthold,	Jacobs,	McGinnis,	Rupp,
Cavalcante,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Ruth,
Deitrick,	Kilgallen,	Pytko,	Scarlett,

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to call the attention of the Senator to the fact that this bill on page 18 is the same as in another part of the bill and is in the exact position as the bill defeated today on page 18 it contains the following provision: "Whenever a written agreement signed by an organized group comprising seventy-five per centum or more of the licensed barbers operating in any county whereby a scale of minimum prices for barber work is established in such county is submitted to the Department of Public Instruction the department shall investigate." That is the exact provision that was in the original bill which was defeated in the Senate. There are some provisions in this bill that are meritoreous and deal with qualifications to which I do not object, and therefore I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments cutting out the provisions on pages 18 and 19, as follows: Amend sec. 8, page 17, by striking out all of lines 25, 26 and 27; amend sec 8 (Sec. 15-B), page 18, by striking out all of lines 1 to 28, both inclusive; amend sec. 8 (Sec. 15-B), page 19, by striking out all of lines 1 to 4, both inclusive; amend sec. 9, page 19, line 3, by striking out the figure "9" and inserting in lieu thereof "8"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Gelder,	Law,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1219, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one three eight and ten of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-eight) entitled "An act establishing a State employes retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds for contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as amended qualifying members of the State retirement system

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is an amendment to the Act for the State retirement system, it amends the law on the State Retirement Fund for employes to apply to the members of the General Assembly. Now, I argue against this bill as being superrogative, because you have to be on the payroll for ten years to participate in this retirement fund, and the bill, therefore, applies only to those Senators who have been here for forty years or more, which would include Senators Salus, Buckman, Homsher and myself, so I am arguing against myself so far as that is concerned. If your service is less than five years in the legislature, this is an unnecessary obligation for a very delicately contrived organization, and I cannot see the necessity except to help about six members of the Senate who do not need it.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I think we should encourage some of the Supreme Court Justices to retire, so I will vote for the bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I understand that this is another economy bill, a bill raising the salaries of the Board of Education in Philadelphia. We have heard considerable talk in this Session as to the need of additional money in Philadelphia, and this is an example of the saving of money in the various institutions in Philadelphia, in order that we may not go into bankruptcy. This is one of those economy bills that is going to save the City of Philadelphia from bankruptcy by increasing salaries, and, of course, if you want to save money, you want to vote for the bill.

And on the question, recurring.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CAVALCANTE from the Committee on Game and Fisheries reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1087, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred forty-eight), entitled "An act relating to fish; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth," as amended, by changing the method of issuance of licenses, and making further provisions for records and returns thereof.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EROE from the Committee on Federal Relations reported as committed, the following resolution, which was laid on the table.

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ENACT CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT WHICH WILL ABOLISH EXISTING EXEMPTIONS ON PAYMENT OF INCOME TAXES BY GOVERNMENT EMPLOYES AND OFFICIALS

In the Senate, April 20, 1937.

Whereas, There is now before Congress a resolution for a constitutional amendment requiring all federal employees and officials, appointed or elected, to pay state and federal income taxes; requiring state employees and officials to pay federal income taxes; and requiring employees and officials of national and state banks that are members of the Federal Reserve System to pay state income taxes, and

Whereas, Abolition of the exemptions on such salaries would result in a great increase of revenue to the federal government, thereby reducing the ever-increasing burden upon the taxpayers who can claim no official exemption, and would enable this Commonwealth in the event an income tax is adopted to secure large revenues from these sources, and

Whereas, Certain other reforms of the federal tax system are necessary to effect the consolidation of the gains which have been made in the national economic recovery, and

Whereas, Repeal of the capital gains and losses section of the federal income tax law would result in acceleration of the movement to economic recovery; would cause an estimated increase of the federal government's income by two hundred fifty million dollars as a direct result of increases in the turn over tax on securities and as an indirect result of widespread business improvement and re-employment of workers; would result in an estimated increase of the tax receipts of this Commonwealth for similar reasons; would prevent the exodus of hundreds of millions of dollars of American capital into foreign security markets; would cause a pronounced improvement in the real estate business and the entire construction industry, with corresponding gains in reemployment of persons engaged in said industries; would cause a great increase in the amount of money in circulation and in the amount of new investments, because of the resultant "freezing" of potential profits; and would cause a decrease in the number of investments in tax-exempt securities, and

Whereas, Comptroller Morris S. Tremaine of the state of New York, and many other men of experienced financial judgment, have advocated repeal of the capital gains and losses section of the federal income tax law, and

Whereas, The federal income tax law provides for a great number of exemptions from payment of taxes on various securities, whereby many persons escape taxation and, contrary to the best interests of the economic welfare of the people, deprive the government of a substantial source of revenue while other persons find inescapable taxes more burdensome because of such exemptions, and

Whereas, The personal exemptions provided in the federal income tax law are placed at a rate so high that the great majority of persons who fall within the low-income brackets do not directly participate in the financial activities of the federal government, and

Whereas, Such participation would serve better to acquaint the great majority of our people with the facts involving the fiscal activities of the federal government and would thus heighten public interest in the financial problems of the nation, and

Whereas, It is necessary to effect the foregoing reforms in order to safeguard the gains in the national economic recovery against the possibilities of inflation, an increase in the amount of our national debt, an increase in the amount of capital invested in tax-exempt securities or in foreign countries, an increase in the number of unemployed or a static condition of the unemployment problem, a restraint upon home construction and building operations, a decrease in the amount of money in circulation, and obstructions to industrial and commercial activity; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, (if House of Representatives concur), That the Congress of the United States be and it is hereby respectfully memorialized to enact with all convenient speed legislation providing for a constitutional amendment which will abolish existing exemptions on payment of income taxes by all governmental employees and officials, legislation which will repeal the capital gains and losses section of the federal income tax law, legislation which will abolish the existing exceptions of certain securities, and legislation which will lower the personal income tax exemption to such a figure as to include millions of people who now escape the provisions of the federal income tax law, and be it further

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Senators and Representatives in Congress from the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanmious consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HALUSKA from the Committee on Mines and Mining reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1069, entitled:

An Act relating to and regulating the mining of anthracite coal; providing for the health, safety and welfare of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith; amending, consolidating, revising and changing the law relating thereto; and imposing penalties.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I was requested by the Committee on Mines and Mining to report out the foregoing bill, and I desire to make a statement that has been offered by industries and by the Tri-County District Board of United Mine Workers. The Committee has considered all the amendments. The amendments of the Tri-County District Board are in proper form but the amendments of industry are not in proper form to be presented to the Committee, so that the bill is reported out with the understanding that after it passes second reading it will be recommitted to the Committee for further consideration, so that I now report out Senate Bill No. 1069 as committed.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I ask unaimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RANKIN from the Committee on Finance reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 1144, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred forty) entitled "An act to provide revenue by levying a tax upon the shares of stock of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and the supplements thereto; for the insurance of owners of real estate mortgages and others interested in real estate, from loss by reason of defective titles, liens and encumbrances; and of companies entitled to the benefits of, and of companies having any of the powers of, companies entitled to the benefits of an act entitled 'An act conferring upon certain fidelity, insurance, safety deposit, trust and savings companies the powers and privileges of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act, entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" approved April twenty-ninth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and of the supplements thereto; approved June twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, commonly known as title insurance or trust companies" by providing that certain companies shall not be subject to the tax.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KUNKEL from the Committee on Appropriations re-reported amended, Senate Bill No. 879, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KILGALLEN from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, amended, Senate Bill No. 298, entitled:

An Act regulating proceedings against attorneys-at-law for disbarment and contempt of court.

Also, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1302, entitled:

An Act providing that in all cases where writs of habeas corpus are granted the judge may inquire into the the facts of the case, includinig an examination into the record proceedings and evidence produced against the person committed or detained before the committing judge, officer or magistrate, and making such records, proceedings and evidence available for inspection by the petitioner or his counsel.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MUNDY from the Committee on County Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 966 (House Bill No. 731), entitled:

An Act providing for the creation, maintenance and operation of a county employes retirement system in counties of the third class and imposing certain charges on counties.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JASPAN from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1210, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Secretary of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to enter into contract with persons, firms or corporations to erect an office building, and to lease such office building for the use of the Commonwealth, the same to become the property of the Commonwealth upon termination of said lease.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FREY from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nomination made by his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth.

JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT OF YORK COUNTY

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 19, 1937.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Harvey A. Gross, of York, York County, for appointment as Judge of the Orphans' Court of York County, to serve until the first Monday of January, 1938.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at today's session.

Which was agreed upon,

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions reported from committee to lie on the table one day be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ESTABLISH THE PERMANENT CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I call up at this time for consideration Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 121.

The resolution was read as follows:

Whereas, The civilian conservation corps has been in successful operation for a period of four and one-half years, and

Whereas, This organization has been most useful in building character, individuality, and moral in the youth of the nation, and has educated them in discipline, and

Whereas, The work performed by this agency has been a useful contribution to the states and the nation, and will be more fully reflected in the future, and

Whereas, The President of the United States, recognizing the great value of this agency, has recommended to the Congress that it be made a permanent agency of the Federal Government, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will establish the civilian conservation corps on a permanent basis, and as a permanent agency of the United States.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative in Congress of the United States from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it seems to me that the Senate ought to vote down this resolution. The Congress of the United States, predominately Democratic, just recently refused to make CCC Camps a permanent institution, and have appropriated money for only two years. What business is it of the Senate, or this House, to memorialize Congress on the matter when everyone today is asking for economy? We are saying to the Congress of the United States, predominately Democratic, that they are wrong in starting out on this economy program. I ask the Senate to vote down this resolution.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to say in this connection that everybody with whom I have come in contact, Republican leaders all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, are willing to admit that the CCC Camps have been a fine thing, and not only that ,but everybody unites in saying that this one activity of the New Deal that can absolutely not be criticised. People all over America have asked to have this made permanent and I think that it is only fair to the young men of the future that they may have the same opportunity that the young men of today have, that is, to be taken away from the streets and cess pools of the streets and villages in order that they may be given the advantage of this training, which makes them upstanding and upright citizens. I therefore ask the Senate to support this resolution.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, if he does not think that we have intelligent Congressmen at Washington?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I might reply that I think that no matter how intelligent a man is, it is only right that those who have a direct interest in the welfare of the public should let them know that we make certain recommendations to them.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Mercer if he thinks the Congressmen at Washington have no interest in the welfare of the public?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I certainly think they do. I think that applies to all legislative bodies.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Mercer if he knows that Congress has already refused to make the CCC Camps a permanent institution, and has extended the loan only two years.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I understand that that action has been taken by only one House, I do not understand that that is a definite action.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, by the House of Representatives?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law:

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I do not know that I am opposed or that I am in favor of the resolution, but I would be glad to have it amended, if you consent, to the effect that the members of the CCC could be used for flood prevention, that is, they could deepen the channels of our streams.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I think they have assisted considerably in this work, I do not think it would require any amendment to the CCC resolution to do any kind of civilian conservation work.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, anyone who knows anything about the conditions of the Susquehanna and the Juniata Rivers knows that the solution of flood control question is a simple one, and that is, to deepen the channels, clean out the streams and build dikes. It occurred to me that the members of the CCC can do that work.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, if there is anything to be gained from what I see as I go along that road, I think they are doing that very thing farther west than Indiana County. It may be that if the Senator would suggest this to the proper authorities, I believe they could be utilized to do that work, in his district.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON and Mr. KUNKEL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—35.

Barthold,	Henney,	McGinnis,	Salus,
Cavalcante,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
Dando,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Sipe,
Dent,	Kilgallen,	Rankin,	Sones,
DiSilvestro,	Kunkel,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Eroe,	Lanius,	Rice,	Thompson,
Frey,	Law,	Rodgers,	Wolfenden,
Gilson,	Mallery,	Rupp,	Huffman,
Haluska,	McCreesh,	Ruth,

NAYS—12.

Buckman,	Gelder,	Howell,	Scarlett,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Sordoni,
Deitrick,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Woodward,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO CONTINUING STATE SEWING PROJECTS BY THE COMMONWEALTH

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MUNDY, offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 19, 1937.

Whereas, Withdrawal of the S. E. R. B. from the sponsorship of the State Sewing projects means the return of approximately nine thousand (9,000) women in the State of Pennsylvania alone to direct relief rolls financed by the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The work relief plan for these women and their families has been definitely proven the cheaper plan, and withdrawal of same will react unfavorable on the communities who have received the pay-roll benefit of the plan, and the clothing provided to the needy of our own community has proven a wonderful asset, together with the restoration of human value, and juvenile delinquency has been decreased through the return of standard decency in homes, which was caused previously by inadequate relief grants, and

Whereas, Luzerne County is faced with the dismissal of five hundred fifty (550) families involving two thousand two hundred (2,200) persons from the sewing projects who are at the present time receiving grants from the sewing projects. The closing of these projects at the present time would cause the possibility of increasing relief rolls supported by the State, and cause these families to again become discouraged and victims of undernourishment caused by the present inadequate relief grants. It is certain that the State of Pennsylvania can save money by the continuance of the sponsorship of these projects by the S. E. R. B., and

Whereas, Luzerne County would save the sum of five thousand sixty-nine ($5,069.00) dollars monthly, by the contribution of the material cost of these projects. The county has benefited greatly, the business men have benefited and the Commonwealth has benefited by the process of a "work" of gainful quality instead of "relief" and its demoralizing effect, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the General Assembly direct the Bureau of Assistance of the Department of Welfare to prevent the cessation of these sewing projects and that the State Relief Director be instructed to continue the sponsorship of these projects and retain former relief families in gainful employment with a minimum of State Relief expenditure.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Welfare.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Frey from Allegheny

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Allegheny Mr. Frey, state whether or not this is a bill regulating the hours for men and women?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, it does.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the Senator from Allegheny aware of the fact that a bill regulating hours for women has passed this Senate?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Allegheny Mr. Frey, tell us what is the benefit of passing this bill?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, is it a general bill, covering both men and women.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is the same as the other bill, limiting the hours from 8 to 10?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, it does.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the spread in this bill is from 8 to 10 hours?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, and subsequently amended to 14.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, would there not be an inconsistency between two bills? You have in one bill a spread of 8 hours to 10, and another of 8 hours to 14?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, this bill has no connection with the other bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, but this bill does regulate the hours of women as it does in the first bill regulating the hours of women.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, therefore, we have one bill regulating the hours from 8 to 10 and the other from 8 to 14; is not that inconsistent?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, we have no assurance that the other bill is going to pass finally and become a law.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it not true that our reason for changing the first bill was because we felt that a reasonable spread would be from 8 to 14 hours.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, not necessarily, for the reason that these amendments have a provision here not contained in the other bill, namely, this particular provision: "Where the strict application of the schedule of hours provided for by this section imposes an unnecessary hardship and violates the intent and purpose of this act the Department of Labor and Industry with the approval of the Industrial Board may make alter amend and repeal general rules and regulations prescribing variations from said schedule of hours."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not want to debate this question, and I would suggest, if it is agreeable to the Senate that action be postponed on this bill so that amendments may be prepared making the spread period in this bill consistant with the bill as originally passed.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, in view of the great importance of this bill, I hesitate to be a party to any further delay in the passage of this bill. I would suggest that we amend the bill today so that the bill will be printed with these amendments and action taken upon it tomorrow.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny realize that this bill has passed second reading and is on third reading, and that it will require unanimous consent to amend the bill?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator realize that the Senator from Bucks is very active in his objections?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, not with everybody.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does not see how any time can be saved by having it amended until tomorrow.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, allright.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The bill goes over in its order.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1230, the bill just read be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 783

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 783, on page 28 of the calendar, passed second reading.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I now desire to withdraw the amendments.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the request will be granted. The Chair hears none and the amendments are withdrawn.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 783, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO from the Committe on Welfare, reported as committed, the following resolution:

CONTINUANCE OF UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF SEWING PROJECTS RECOMMENDED

In the Senate, May 19, 1937.

Whereas, Withdrawal of the S. E. R. B. from the sponsorship of the State Sewing projects means the return of approximately nine thousand (9,000) women in the State of Pennsylvania alone to direct relief rolls financed by the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The work relief plan for these women and their families has been definitely proven the cheaper plan, and withdrawal of same will react unfavorably on the communities who have received the pay-roll benefit of the plan, and the clothing provided to the needy of our own community has proven a wonderful asset, together with the restoration of human value, and juvenile delinquency has been decreased through the return of standard decency in homes, which was caused previously by inadequate relief grants, and

Whereas, Luzerne County is faced with the dismissal of five hundred fifty (550) families involving two thousand two hundred (2,200) persons from the sewing project who are at the present time receiving grants from the sewing projects. The closing of these projects at the present time would cause the possibility of increasing relief rolls supported by the State and cause these families to again become discouraged and victims of undernourishment caused by the present inadequate relief grants. It is certain that the State of Pennsylvania can save money by the continuance of the sponsorship of these projects by the S. E. R. B. and

Whereas, Luzerne County would save the sum of five thousand sixty-nine ($5,069.00) dollars monthly, by the contribution of the material cost of these projects. The county has benefited greatly, the business men have benefited and the Commonwealth has benefited by the process of a "orwk" of gainful quality instead of "relief" and its demoralizing effect, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly direct the Bureau of Assistance of the Department of Welfare to prevent the cessation of these sewing projects and that the State Relief Director be instructed to continue the sponsorship of these projects and retain former relief families in gainful employment with a minimum of State Relief expenditure.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RICE from the Committee on Appropriations, rereported as committed, Senate Bill No. 880, entitled:

An Act appropriating to the Department of Public Assistance for public assistance all restitutions and overpayments collected by or for such department.

Mr. RICE from the Committee on Appropriations, rereported as committed, Senate Bill No. 881, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Veterans' Commission for certain expenses of the commission and for the assistance of needy Pennsylvania veterans of any war or their dependents.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions reported from committee to lie on the table one day, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The PRESIDENT. Resolutions under the rules must lie over for one day, unless the rule is waived. Since there is objection the resolution must lie over until tomorrow.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. RESOLUTION No. 90.

In the House of Representatives, May 18, 1937.

Whereas, There have been several efforts to license horse racing and other forms of racing in Pennsylvania with legalized betting on the result thereof; and

Whereas, The Legislature has resisted all efforts to place such enactments on the statute books, and

Whereas, It is rumored that in various sections of the Commonwealth horse racing and dog racing is functioning in defiance of the existing law prohibiting the same, to the detriment of the peace and good order of the Commonwealth, therefore be it

Resolved, That should it appear to the Governor that horse racing or dog racing with pari-mutuel betting is continuing in this Commonwealth after the adjournment of this session of the General Assembly, the Governor shall appoint a commission consisting of two members of the House of Representatives, two members of the Senate and three citizens whose duty it shall be to investigate the prevalance of horse and dog racing in this Commonwealth and make report thereof to the Governor together with its recommendations as to the manner in which such unlawful activities may be ended, through the employment of existing law enforcement agencies.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs JAMES A. SMITH and BLANK.

RESOLUTION No. 91.

In the House of Representatives, May 18, 1937.

Whereas, In the Fortieth Ward of the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, there has been for many years an imperative need for additional recreation facilities by reason of it being a congested residential district, peopled almost exclusively by a wage-earning class; and

Whereas, The people of this section, realizing the need and appreciating the fact that proper supervision of the activities of children and healthful recreation will tend to improve the children's morals, as well as their health, and thus give the promise of a clearer and more wholesome citizenship in the years to come, have petitioned the Mayor and City Council of the City of Philadelphia, through its representation in that August Body, to construct a playground in their neighborhood; and

Whereas, The reason that such a playground has not been constructed is because of lack of funds; and

Whereas, The Congress of the United States by an Act of Congress has made available to the President of the United States the power and administration of expending large sums of Federal money for public improvements as a means of alleviating unemployment; and

Whereas, It is believed that the construction of a playground in the Fortieth Ward of the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, would come within the purpose and intent of the Act of Congress providing for this expenditure of public fund; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Mayor and the Council of the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, are hereby requested to petition the President of the United States to allocate out of moneys available for the construction of public works a sum sufficient for the construction of a playground on the site known as "Connell Park" situated in the vicinity of 64th Street and Elmwood Avenue in the Fortieth Ward of the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved. That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmit a copy of this resolution to the Mayor and the Council of the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

FINDINGS OF ANTHRACITE COMMISSION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 18, 1937.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I am presenting herewith, for the study and consideration of your honorable body, the findings of the Anthracite Commission. This Commission was established at the present session to investigate coal "bootlegging" in the anthracite regions and to make appropriate recommendations.

I have not waited to study these findings before presenting them to you. Because of the nearness of adjournment I felt it would be more advisable to forward the reports immediately. Not having made the necessary study, I am not prepared to comment or to make any recommendations at this time.

I do wish, however, to call your attention to some salient points upon which all members of the Commission are in agreement.

1. Intervention of armed forces to end "bootlegging" is not recommended by any member of the Commission.

2. All are agreed that the price of coal must be reduced to meet the competition of labor-less fuels, through better merchandising methods and a reduction in the present freight rates for anthracite coal.

I am sure your honorable body will find these reports most valuable in demonstrating the evils which exist in our anthracite regions, and in pointing out possible ways and means of ending the desperate conflict between property rights and human rights which exists in our so-called "bootleg" areas.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted in the Journals of the House and the report will be printed in full in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 11, 1937.

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia has experienced difficulty in balancing its budget for the year 1937; and

Whereas, Government costs in the city and county are deemed high and it is necessary to materially reduce these costs in order to prevent an increase in the tax on real property; and

Whereas, It is deemed desirable to make a thorough investigation of governmental costs in said city and county in order to ascertain where savings can be effected, and where additional revenues may be secured if the same becomes necessary; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That a commission is hereby created which shall be composed of three members of the Senate to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and four members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, whose duty it shall be to make a careful, thorough and impartial investigation of all governmental costs in the City and County of Philadelphia, including each and every agency expending public moneys raised by taxation, to ascertain the business and activities of the various governmental agencies and the present allocation of such business among such agencies of the city and county; and to devise ways, means and methods of raising revenue and effecting savings in the cost of government;

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at this session as early as possible.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Boroughs.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I object to the motion made by the gentleman from Delaware and ask the members to vote the motion down.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Caputo.

The SPEAKER. Will the genaleman from Beaver permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAPUTO. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know in what manner this bill differs from Senate Bill No. 373, which we have already passed, providing for municipal authorities.

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I am not familiar with the entire provisions of the Senate Bill to which the gentleman has referred, but if my recollection is right, that bill does not provide for the consideration by authorities of municipally owned public utilities, such as power plants, gas works and water-works, whereas my bill does make provisions for those things.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman why he did not attempt to place his amendments in Senate Bill No. 373. It was on the calendar here for some time and was amended by a number of us here in the House.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, both gentlemen are discussing the merits and the provisions of this bill. The motion, I believe, is a motion to recommit to the Committee on Boroughs.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The merits of a bill are not debatable under a motion to recommit.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 373—there have been several bills but Senate Bill No. 373 was the most comprehensive. It was introduced by Senator Thompson, was a companion bill to the State Authority Bill and came into this House. Now it seems to me to take a piece out of that bill and put through another bill not only confuses the issue but will leave us with two kinds of authority bills. I think the idea of raising a point of order on a question of this kind is ridiculous. I think we are here to try and get decent legislation. I have no particular pet antipathy to this legislation.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. SIMON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. SIMON. Mr. Speaker, is there any objection to the rest of us knowing what this is about, what bill on what page?

The SPEAKER. Page 15 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 236, Printer's No. 974. The question before the House is the motion of the gentleman from Delaware to recommit to the Committee on Boroughs.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, therefore, I say that the bill ought to go back to the Committee on Boroughs for further consideration. If it is necessary to further amend No. 373 for the purpose of incorporating any ideas which the gentleman from Beaver may have, perhaps we can catch the bill and take care of them; if not, it would be possible to put in an amendment to the act, but to put through an entirely new act and thus becloud a very important question to a great many of us would seem to be ridiculous. It seems to me that it would be better to have the bill studied further.

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call the attention of the gentleman from Delaware to the fact that this bill has been in the Committee on Boroughs since January 18 and that the other bill, to which he makes reference, does not have any relation to this bill at all. Therefore, I ask the members of the House to vote down the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, fifty-six members having voted in the affirmative and ninety-six in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

BILL AND MESSAGE TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 749, Printer's No. 454, together with the message from the Senate, which were laid upon the table be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

The message was read by the Clerk as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 17, 1937.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That Senate Bill No. 749, Printer's No. 454, which was passed by the House May 12 with amendments, and messaged to the Senate for concurrence, be recalled by the House from the Senate for the purpose of further amendment.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schor, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 11 of title by inserting after the word "by" the following: "such companies, associations and exchanges including insurance carried by"

Amend sec. 1, page 2, lines 4 and 5 by striking out the words "and Four Hundred and Eleven"

Amend sec. 1, page 2, lines 16 and 17 by striking out the words "be and they are hereby amended to read as follows" and inserting in lieu thereof: "as amended by the act, approved the fifteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 1020), is hereby further amended to read as follows:"

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 410), page 8, line 1 by striking out the word "provided" and inserting in lieu thereof: "Provided"

Amend bill, page 8, by inserting between lines 11 and 12 the following: "Section 2. That section four hundred and eleven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:"

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 411), page 8, line 13 by striking out the word "Policy" and inserting in lieu thereof: "policy"

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 411), page 9, line 5 by inserting after the "or" the following: "to"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1984 entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrains, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forefeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds", as amended by adding new sections; further regulating the use of highways and the operation of, and the equipment used in connection with, vehicles, including trailers and semi-trailers, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses school buses and commercial motorcycles upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing exemptions extending certain provisions of the act to trailers and semi-trailers providing for the renewal and automatic satisfaction of encumbrances and liens and further amending the procedure relating thereto providing for the further registration of certain vehicles and the licensing of the operators thereof including additional requirements reciprocity agreements and additional reasons for suspension and revocation conferring additional powers and imposing additional duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Department of Highways further imposing upon municipalities within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of fire department equipment changing the procedure disposition of fines and penalties for certain violations of the act and making the fines thereunder mandatory and extending penalties and providing addtional penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I hesitate to rise in opposition to this bill at this time, as there are some good features and points in this bill I am forced to vote against the bill unless some of the provisions which are not advisable are removed. On page 135 I wish to call the attention of the House to section 1033, sub-section B, which reads as follows:

"No person shall operate a vehicle on the highways of this Commonwealth carrying other vehicles any part of which is carried at a height of more than 115 inches above the ground."

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that is clearly unconstitutional. Why should we set up certain class legislation as to heights and permit other vehicles to carry a haul far beyond that?

I also wish to call your attention in the same section to sub-section C, which reads as follows:

"No person shall operate a vehicle on the highways of this Commonwealth carrying any other vehicle any part of which is above the cab of the carrier vehicle or over the cab of the operator of such carrier vehicle."

I feel that section comes within the same category, and that it is somewhat questionable as to its constitutionality.

I would therefore ask that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar in order that the constitutionality of the same may be determined.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSAN. Mr. Speaker I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Patterson?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that this bill has been in committee since March 18, 1937?

Mr. PATTERSON. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Washington at any time offered amendments to the committee on the points which he just raised?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I personally have not but others have.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Washington did receive an opportunity of doing so, did he not?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. I did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker the gentleman from Washington has never done so, has he?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. No, as I said, but others did. They did it for me.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Washington doing this for himself or is he doing it for others?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, both.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, how can the gentleman do it for both when he never brought the point up himself?

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in objection to placing this bill upon the postponed calendar, for the reason that this bill has been in committee since the 18th day of March 1937. The House itself has heard the gentleman say that this has very may good points in itself, and the House has heard the gentleman say that he at any time never saw fit to bring it to the attention of the committee, he never brought to the attention of the committee the fact that he thought that there were certain things in this bill that were not advisable and not of any good use to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I say in due fairness to the sponsor of the bill and to those people who use the highways in Pennsylvania that this bill should not be placed on the postponed calendar, but that action should be taken on it immediately. Therefore, I enter my objection.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the gentleman from Washington Mr. Patterson, I would like to point out to him that under the section which he enumerated to the House, the section limiting the 115 inches as to vehicles for carrying other vehicles thereon, I believe that this section will be clearly constitutional because of the fact that the Revenue Department and the House of Representatives, or the Legislature, have on various occasions restricted certain classes of vehicles in certain particulars. The same thing applies to carrying other vehicle on the cab. This is purely a safety measure. It has been related to me by reliable men that this practice of carrying other vehicle on top of a cab is a very dangerous practice, due to insecure lashing.

I think it is high time for the Legislature to realize that our highways originally were constructed for the purpose of driving thereon by the residents of this State and other states, and not for the transportation of things which rightfully do not belong thereon.

Therefore, I ask the membership of this House to vote down this motion to place this bill on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hate to disagree with my good friend from Blair, Mr. Aukerman. The legislation that was passed previously controlling certain trucks has been done with relation to the trucks themselves, as to length and height. This bill has a provision as to trucks hauling motor vehicles, and if that is not class legislation then there isn't any. In other words, we limit the height to 115 inches for those hauling vehicles. It does'nt say anything at all concerning any other trucks in regard to it's height or what it hauls. He talked about the hauling of a motor vehicle over the cab. That again is a class legislation because it does not include any and all merchandise, as to the weight of the load over the cab. This to my mind is absolutely unconstitutional, and I think that the members who are opposing this bill have a perfect right to have it placed on the postponed calendar, inasmuch as a number of times I have approached the sponsor of this bill and he absolutely has refused to consider amendments which would eliminate this part of the bill.

I therefore ask the members to vote in favor of placing this bill on the postponed calendar in order that these things may be worked out.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not a member of the Committee on Motor Vehicles and I did not see this bill until it came out on the calendar. I am not supposed to be an expert on this subject but as a user of the highway and as one—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northampton will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, the motion before the House is a motion whether or not this bill should be placed upon the postponed calendar, and not the question of the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair has allowed the members to discuss the merits of the bill. I think that every member who has spoken, including the gentleman who raised the point of order, has not confined his remarks to the motion before the House. The Chair wishes to be liberal and will ask the gentleman who has the floor to proceed but to refrain as much as possible from discussing the merits of the bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to proceed and to do anything in violation to the ruling of the Chair. My intention was to point out in this bill specific provisions, which raised considerable doubt in my mind, and by reason of which I think it is only fair that this bill should be placed upon the postponed calendar in order that these particular provisions should be given further and more careful consideration. I would like to know whether the Chair considers a discussion on this to be a discussion on the bill and out of order at this time.

The SPEAKER. Discussion on a particular clause of the bill is out of order, but the other speakers have discussed it, and the Chair thinks it is only fair to permit the gentleman from Dauphin also to discuss it. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I will attempt to confine myself to those particular sections that I think should be given more consideration.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are several provisions in this bill particularly which I desire to call to your attention, which I think should be given further consideration, and by reason of which I think this bill should be placed upon the postponed calendar in order that these particular provisions can be given further consideration, and in order that amendments can be prepared and introduced.

I refer to the question of registration cards, for example, and the requirements therein that notice of any change of name or address must be given within forty-eight hours. I think that is a provision that should be given further consideration and should be amended to make the time longer because everybody known that when a person moves he does not have the time to attend to such matter in forty-eight hours, and he should not be subjected to criminal prosecution when that is not done. When a person changes his name, and that of course applies particularly to a woman becoming married, and I do not believe that she should be obliged to stop her honeymoon and give notice that she has changed her name, or be subject to prosecution for not having done so.

I also think we should give further consideration to the question whether or not the licenses should be extended for a period of fifteen days, with the consent of the Department of Revenue. I think that the Department of Revenue has in the past been able to get out its work, and I think that the present Department of Revenue ought to be able to get out the license the day when the application comes in. That has been the rule with past administrations. I see no necessity for extension of the time.

I think there is another provision in here which is rather serious and which should be given serious consideration, and that is the question of the authority to refuse information as to title, and so forth. If our title system is to be worth anything, it should be more or less a public record, and information should be obtained by anybody upon the proper application. Under the terms of this bill we permit the Secretary of Revenue to refuse this information if he so desires, or decide what part of the information he wishes to give.

There is another feature of this bill which should be given additional consideration, and that is the provision in regard to the school buses. There are quite a few other features in the bill which I would like to discuss if the bill is not placed upon the postponed calendar, most of which I hope will be given consideration by this House. I have cited just a few of the provisions of this bill which I think merit consideration. There are quite a few others which deserve serious attention. A public hearing has been requested on this bill and I think we should give the people who are requested on this bill and I think we should give the people who are interested in this bill a greater opportunity to discuss this matter, and I do not think that the bill in its present form should pass.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Dauphin to say that a person will be required to send in notification of the change of address within forty-eight hours?

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I also understood the gentleman from Dauphin to say that it was a crime if the person violated that particular portion of the act?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, if they did not do so, yes.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Dauphin, if he reads page 51 of the present bill, which is the bill now under discussion, under the heading of "Penalty" he will find the following: "Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars" and so forth. Therefore, there is nothing in this particular act which makes it a crime of any nature whatever for not sending notice of change of address within forty-eight hours.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, from the amended copy of the bill I find that the gentleman is correct. I believe that improves the bill, but I do not see any reason why we should require these people to comply within forty-eight hours if there is no way to enforce it, if there is no punishment for not doing it. I think they ought to be required to comply within a reasonable time, but not within forty-eight hours.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JIROLANIO and Mr. LOPRESTI.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parlimentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parlimentary inquiry.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, when the verification of the roll is made, is that a part of the roll itself, for the purpose of voting?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman must be in the House when the roll is called, not only during the reading of the verification, in order to be permitted to vote.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. MURRIN filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting Aye on this motion. I have had close contact with this bill since it was introduced, and Vice Chairman of the Committee on Motor Vehicles.

The motion of Mr. Patterson of Washington is fair. I am not voting on the merits of the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are many amendments to the Motor Vehicle Code which we feel should be written into the law. Some of them are in this bill. Some of the provisions of this bill are a forward step and are a step in the right direction. I refer particularly to the item which provides that the fine for the driving of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor should be returned to the county instead of going to the State. There are other provisions for this bill, a number of them, which are very good and which I should like very much to vote for. There are, however, a number of provisions in this bill which are not good and which I would like very much to vote against. It, therefore, puts me, and I think a number of other members of the House, in a difficult position because I may care to vote for a bill that contains a number of provisions which I am very much interested in having written into the law, and at the same time we are compelled to vote against the same bill because it contains a number of provisions which we are very anxious to see not written into the law. We on this side of the House were particularly anxious to see written into the code the amendment which was presented here by the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Van Allsburg, which provided for issuing operators' licenses at half price and at quarter price. That is, a person who paid for a half a year's license should receive a half year's part of his license, and if he paid for a quarter year's part of his license he should receive a quarter year's part of his license.

We are also interested in having written into this bill an amendment which would enable the operators' licenses to be issued for a term of three years for a cost of two dollars. We felt that was a forward step and was giving the motorists the most for their money.

There are a number of provisions in this bill at the present time in which we are interested, which we think should be given serious thought. There are a few of the things which I think should receive additional consideration before they are written into the law. One of them is the gross weight of trucks. I think consideration should be given as to whether or not the fine shall be twenty-five dollars when there is only a five percent over load, and the fine shall remain the same, fifty dollars, when there is a ten percent over load. You will find that in a large number of instances the driver will go to jail rather than pay the fine. I think it would be advisable from the stand point of all parties concerned to reduce the penalty on that below fifty dollars. I know in the borough in which I live, that within the last two weeks there a number of drivers who were caught with over-weight trucks, and each of the drivers stayed a few days in jail and were discharged rather than pay the fifty dollars fine. I feel it would be advisable to reduce that fine.

Some of the regulations of school buses are very good. I think that some of them have gone too far, even the regulation of the color of paint that is to be placed on the school bus, which prevents many of the schools from using their school colors on the school buses, which many of them have been doing. We now have very many signs on the road. It seems to me we are getting pretty close to the place where the signs are becoming a menace to the highways rather than a help. It seems we are very much interested in signs at the present time. We put up signs that there is a highway patrol stationed a few miles away. We do not know what direction it is, whether it is up this road or up that road or another road, but we do know that there is a highway patrol a few miles away. At the present time we have very many signs upon the highway, like that of the passing zone, but somehow or other we seem to think we need more signs. I think that provision is not very good.

There are some rather serious difficulties on the part of the truck operator who had his truck equipped with green lights in front, we must now change them from green to amber. Some of the surrounding states, I understand Ohio. requires green lights, and it will be necessary for these trucks to carry several different kind of colored lights, if they cross the state line. I do not think that is an advisable provision.

Another provision, if the manufacture of vacuum hose that is to be used in brakes fails to renew his certificates of approval, then the motor vehicle owners who purchased them will be compelled to discard the hose which they have purchased in good faith within two years.

On page 84, line 16 of the bill wipes out the word "resident." That makes a very serious situation, as I see it, because under the bill as it is written now, every person who would go through the State with a foreign license, the minute that they get into the State, they would have to go to the nearest inspection station and have their car inspected and have a notice placed on it that the car has been inspected before it can proceed through the State. I think that is a provision which is rather serious and must be taken into consideration.

There is another provision on page 99, line 5, prohibiting any driver of a motor vehicle from giving any signal unless the signal is required by law. That seems to be a rather difficult proposition to enforce.

There is also considerable discussion concerning the abolishment of the trucks which haul automobiles on the highways. I know that there are objections on both sides. I think, however, it is a little too harsh to rule them out of existence as quickly and as completely as they are ruled out by this bill.

Inasmuch as there are a number of other provisions in this bill that I would like to vote for, and which I think a number of other members would like to vote for, and inasmuch as there are a number of other provisions in here which seem to me have not been given the proper consideration by the entire House and the public that they should be given, I think that this bill should be returned to the committee for further consideration.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Motor Vehicles for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northampton will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I think that the business before the House is whether or not this bill should be passed on third reading. That question should be disposed of before the question of recommitting the bill is proper.

The SPEAKER. A motion to recommit is a privileged motion and is in order at any time.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose this motion on the same ground upon which I opposed a similar motion yesterday afternoon, and that is that this bill has been before the House and before the committee for almost two months, during which time it was given a very thorough consideration. The parties interested were called in, I might call the attention of the House to the fact that there are a very few points in this bill which touch upon individual drivers. The main point under consideration is the local trucks. I would like to state that the president of the Pennsylvania Truckers' Association, Mr. Sutherland, appeared before the committee with his amendments, and his view points were weighed by the committee. This bill has been given a very serious consideration in the committee, and I ask the members of the House to vote against recommitting the bill to the committee.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, speaking upon this motion to recommit, there is just one feature that I would like to call to the attention of the members of the House, which is a matter of very great importance. May I have unanimous consent to talk on this for just a minute? There is one provision that I would like to call to the attention of Mr. Woodside and to the attention of the members of the House, which is very important. He did not stress it as fully as it should have been stressed.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Mifflin asks permission of the House to discuss one of the provisions of this bill at this time. Will the House give its consent.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection, and consent is not granted. The only question before the House is on the motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, fifty-two members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred nine in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under article (f) it says. "No driver of any vehicle upon a highway shall give a signal indicating a stop, start or turn unless such signal is required by this act." and then it says, shall be subject to a $10 fine. You realize that if you are driving down a road in a closed car and want to stop, whether your rear light is working or not, it is customary to put your hand out of the side you are driving, and the same way if you are going to make a turn, but if you are caught doing that under this act you are subject to a fine. There is no reason why such a provision should be written in any bill when it has been customary and, as Mr. Woodside said, making an immediate change. That is a very dangerous provision. In other words, in carrying out that provisions, it would be a violation for any operator to offer any signal to stop, start, turn or what not in any manner than that provided by the act. I assume in this instance that the act refers to the mechanical equipment on cars and trucks which is operated by switches. That is just one of the things I want to call to the attention of the House and that is the reason I voted to recommit this bill, in order that we may give further consideration to the bill before final passage.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I find myself in the same position of being called upon to act on a bill with many parts of which I do not agree, but nevertheless I am a good sport and I am going to abide by the decision and I am going to vote for the bill, although I think there are many features in the bill that are objectionable and that I would like to see removed. I am going to vote for the bill.

Mr. TROUT. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Aukerman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, preparatory to my question I want to say I considered this bill in committee and discussed it, but there is a provision here that I am just a little bit afraid of and I wonder if it means just what it says. On page 84, beginning with line 11, "On and after the first day of every May and until and including the thirty-first day of July and on and after the first day of November and until and including the thirty-first day of January every owner of a motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer being operated in the Commonwealth except motorcycles and bicycles with motor attached shall submit such motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer to such inspection of its mechanism and equipment as may be designated by the secretary."

I would like to ask the gentleman from Blair whether that section means that a motorist driving from Ohio into Pennsylvania subjects himself to the provision and the requirement of having an inspection made, and if he does not whether he is liable to arrest and a fine for violation of this motor code.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, I would like to state that I have been informed that this applies only to resident vehicles and those vehicles engaged in interstate commerce and it was so worded that it would enable the secretary to exercise his right of inspection or the right of the department to inspect vehicles according to the Interstate Commerce regulations which will be set up, we are assured, in a very short time.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, in the original bill as drawn the word "resident" was in the bill. As it is now the word "resident" has been taken out. Now, if the gentleman's statement is correct so far as the secretary of the department is concerned, what assurance do we have that this relationship between other states and Pennsylvania will become effective.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, all I can say to the gentleman is this, that the bill in another section provides for reciprocity between the Secretary of Revenue of this State and such officers of other states who may be in a position to regulate the traffic of those states on matters of this kind, and I feel that any injustice will be prevented by our courts and that there will be no chance of our secretary or the secretary of any other state infringing upon the rights of the citizens of those states who are engaged in interstate commerce.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the gentleman from Blair that just a few years ago there was a great deal of difference of opinion on the question of reciprocity between Pennsylvania and New Jersey and later between Pennsylvania and Maryland. Now, during the negotiations for this reciprocity agreement a motorist driving into Pennsylvania still subjects himself to the penalty or to the requirement of having his automobile inspected. Mr. Speaker, I feel like the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, and the other gentleman who has spoken. I started out here with the idea of giving absolute support to this bill, but there are a few things that have come up today that I have not noticed before,—I am not accusing anybody but myself, and I want personally to cooperate with the Department of Revenue in this motor code legislation, but I do feel that we ought to clarify this part of the bill. In other words, it seems to me—and this is no personal reflection on any man, because I think too much of the men who have charge of this department—

Mr. McGEE. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair sees no seconds. The gentle- from Lancaster will proceed.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Philadelphia who moved the previous question has no more interest in legislation affecting the citizens of Pennsylvania than his motion indicates, I am perfectly willing to sit down. I have not taken the time of this House unduly during this session and I think it was discourteous to make a motion of that kind.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am going to take but just a moment to say to the House, in fact to reiterate practically what has been said by my colleagues on this side. We realize that this is a comprehensive bill, that it is an effort on the part of the Department of Revenue to improve motor regulations in this State. The bill has many good features which we have discussed and which we feel are admirable and we want to see it on the statute books, but it has other features that make it undesirable and therefore we are compelled to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I am going to rise in support of this bill. Here we have a bill before us, which is House Bill No. 1894 containing 136 pages and you have heard a lengthy discussion here as to why this bill should either be postponed or be voted down. Just taking up the reasons advanced as to why the bill should be voted down, let me just give you some of them, one is that a person must register his change of address in forty-eight hours and on that question I wish to point out that there is no infraction of the law involved if you do not do it. It is only a rule or regulation. Now is that so serious that you should vote against this bill? Now the next argument is that we should vote against this bill because we are trying to set up a uniform method of painting motor vehicles. Now is that so serious that we should vote against this bill? Next we come to the question of foreign or outside motorists coming into the State of Pennsylvania, whether or not those outside motorists will be forced to maintain their cars under the same system of maintenance and construction as we must maintain our own cars. Do the members of this House prize the welfare of personal property over that of personal liberty and individualism? Are you going to say that property is so sacred that a human life can be taken? Then they go on to say that you should vote against this bill for another reason: because we say that the height shall not be more than one hundred fifteen inches over and above the street and then another additional reason has been given and what is that additional reason? They say in transports why shouldn't they be allowed to have a car which is being transported to extend over the cab in which a poor unfortunate person is forced to drive as a means of livelihood. They do not care if that man's life is taken as long as their own personal interests are taken care of; they are not going to do anything at all to help the other fellow, they are only looking out for their own selfish interests. I say to this House that if they have advanced one single logical reason I would sit down and vote against this bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, just one more point. The gentleman from Northampton referred to the fact that there was no penalty provided for failure to notify the Department of change of address or name within forty-eight hours. The penalty has been stricken out in that section in which that provision is stated, but it is possible under the act for the Secretary of Revenue to revoke a license for any violation of any of the provisions of this act. Therefore, the penalty does exist and that penalty is suspension of license or revocation of license which is more serious than a three or five or ten dollars fine.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at the beginning of my brief remarks I would just point out what my interest is in this bill. I am not the author of the bill but I feel that I know more about the bill than any other member of the House with my apologies to the able gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio. I say this because this bill was in my subcommittee on Motor Vehicles—the sub-committee being composed of seven members—which committee studied the bill word for word, line for line three weeks before our report was made to the Committee on Motor Vehicles. I feel, therefore, that I am not bragging when I say I know more about this bill than any other member of this House.

I want to give you the history of the bill. The bill was presented on March 23rd, was very shortly thereafter referred to my sub-committee, there were three or four sub-committee meetings lasting from three to five hours held on this bill. The bill was then reported back to the main committee and the main committee had several lengthy sessions concerning it—

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill be passed over for the present.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order. The gentleman from Blair has the floor discussing the bill.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, after the main committee had decided on what amendments were to be adopted, the bill was reported out on May 4th for one reading so that the bill could be printed and the amendments could be studied by all of the members of the House including the members of the Committee on Motor Vehicles. The bill lay on the floor of the House from May 4th to May 10th when it passed first reading and was recommitted. On May 11th another lengthy session of the Motor Vehicle Committee was held and the bill was studied and amendments were proposed, and all the amendments were considered very carefully by the committee. The bill was again reported out on the floor of the House on May 11th and did not receive second reading until yesterday, May 18th. I think that bespeaks more than the usual consideration for any bill. I realize that no bill before this House could please every one in Pennsylvania, but we members of the Motor Vehicle Committee feel that this bill does reflect the greatest possible good to the greatest number of people using the highways of the State, and therefore I ask the members of this House to support this bill.

One or two points have been touched upon by my good friend from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside and one is the change from green lights to amber lights on the front of trucks. This necessitates only a change of the lens on these lights, a change that will incur an expense of approximately fifty cents each lamp and will not work any great hardship upon truck owners. I might say that the states nearby require amber lights and as has been pointed out some of our trucks have to have these lights. It will not be long before we have a ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the question of lights and at that time the Interstate Commerce Commission is expected to hand down a ruling requiring amber lights instead of green lights on trucks.

I think a point that is of great interest to us is that dealing with motor convoys. We have not ruled motor convoys off the road—absolutely not. We are attempting to make the roads and the highways safer by regulating the height, the weight and the use of these convoys. We have provided that they may not be more than fifty feet in length or forty-five feet in length, I believe, after 1941, and must carry their cars on one level and not more than four cars may be carried on one convoy. As I mentioned a while ago the practice of piling up these cars on these trucks is a very hazardous one and has created a very great danger on our highways today. I would further state that the provision limiting the height of these convoys is a very excellent one, because these convoys are of very light construction due to the weight they carry. They do not have a low center of gravity and it is necessary to bring that center of gravity down close to the road in order that they may not topple over. There are some people who feel it is unjust that we should make this provision apply to a particular type of truck, but it is not unjust when you consider that the other types of trucks, which are allowed a greater height than motor convoys, have a lower center of gravity and have greater weight in the chassis which these trucks do not have, and therefore in order to avoid toppling over and accidents of that kind it is necessary to cut down on this particular type of truck.

In answer to the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Alexander, regarding the hand signals, I wish to point out that the section which he mentioned applies only to mechanical signal devices, such as we see on our trucks today, that is, the illuminated arrows on the front of the truck and the rear of the truck to indicate turns. The bill is so worded that no other devices for signaling will be acceptable to the Highway Patrol and the Revenue Department except those prescribed by the Highway Patrol and Highway Department. That does not apply to anything except the mechanical devices.

I think I have briefly told you about the high points of this bill. It also provides for cutting down the license fee from two dollars to one dollar annually. I say it is a worth while bill, to be studied thoroughly by both the Republican and Democratic members of the House and I ask the members to vote in favor of this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

PROGRESS REPORT ON PROBATION AND PAROLE

Mr. HAGERTY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the report of the commission making an investigation of the general practice and procedure in the criminal courts with reference to the prosecution, trial and disposition of criminal cases and the probation and parole of persons guilty of crime.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

May 17, 1937.

Hon. Frank W. Ruth
Senate Chamber
Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Senator Ruth:

This is a Progress Report in connection with the commission's work in making an investigation of the "general practice and procedure" in the criminal courts with reference to the "prosecution, trial and disposition" of all criminal cases and the Probation and Parole of persons guilty of crime.

In checking our files we note 453 specific cases of alleged abuse or irregularity. These consist mainly of cases referred to us by the Philadelphia Record, a newspaper. Of these we have completed the investigation in ninety-six. The Philadelphia Office of the Commission has received approximately seventy-five cases of "complaint" which consist of a letter or interview or both coming from the public at large in which the informant makes charges of court corruption both political and financial. Such complaints are investigated currently as they are received so that less than five are usually of unfinished business. Voluminous records and documents often accompany the complainant's charges. These required careful analysis. In all instances, a careful investigation has either failed to support these charges or have related to matters outside the Commission's jurisdiction. A number of cases are of aggrieved individuals and without public interest.

We deem it inadvisable at this stage of the investigation to arrive at any individual conclusions and can make no statement except in its broadest sense. There appears to be practices in the matters of paroling prisoners without notice as provided by statute, the imposing of suspended sentences and probation for crimes excepted by statute or where the authority did not exist; the matters of reconsidering sentences after the term of court for the discharge of prisoners after the authority to do so had expired and the reconsideration of sentences in private shortly after a public imposition of the greater sentence.

It is our intention to complete the work in the remaining cases and to make further investigation of complaints being made daily at our office. In addition, work is being undertaken in two other counties. The Alexander Meyers case, which involves the State parole system, has been partially investigated and will be pushed to completion.

Current matters of public interest having a relation to criminal cases such as 'cold storage' or the maintaining of prisoners incommunicate, the substitution of jurors and the release of prisoners on 'copies of the charge' without the entry of bail, have been looked into. The matter of the clerk of the court giving notice of conviction for violation of the Motor Vehicle Code is being examined with a view to determining the cause of failure to notify in a number of instances. In this regard, suggestions for regulations to make the present system more efficient is in the course of preparation.

A careful study is being made of police records and the system of keeping files, reports, dockets and statistics of criminal cases, made, held or discharged, indicated or not indicted, tried or untried, in connection with their prosecution, trial and disposition as ultimately bearing on the general practice and procedure in the criminal courts. So far we have had full cooperation by the police department and other officials. The method of keeping dockets, and original papers by the various clerks and deputy clerks of the criminal courts is being looked into with a view to making recommendations for such revision as will make these public records readily accessible.

The practice and procedure with regard to the probation and parole of prisoners is being analyzed as well as the prison systems of records and release of prisoners. A comparison is being made between the local probation and parole system and that used in other jurisdictions. Similar comparisons will be undertaken of other pertinent laws as time permits.

Other phases of the investigation are confidential and would be prejudicial to the public good to disclose. The cumbersome manner of maintaining records, the lack of central statistical section, plus the thousands of criminal cases handled annually, makes our investigation a huge task.

Sincerely yours,

CHET A. KEYES, Counsel
For the Commission

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1684, entitled:

An Act to repeal section eight of the act approved the sixteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine (P. L. 663) entitled "A supplement to the act relating to lunatics and habitual drunkards to punish aldermen and justices of the peace for misdemeanors relating to arbitrations in the district court in the City and County of Philadelphia relative to deeds of assignment relative to judgment liens relating to limitation of actions and relating to liens and terre tenants and for the more effectual punishment of the crimes of arson"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hagerty.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HAGERTY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that this bill proposes to repeal a section of an Act of Assembly which from its title appears to relate to "Lunatics, drunkards, aldermen and justices of the peace and liens" and what not, I would like to ask the gentleman to explain just what section of the Act of 1849 it does repeal.

Mr. HAGERTY. Mr. Speaker, In answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, on those legal technicalities I will yield the floor to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reuben E. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hagerty, yields to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman repeat the question?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, in checking over the calendar and also the bill the bill appears to relate to "Lunatics, drunkards, aldermen and justices of the peace and liens" and what not. I would like the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, to explain to the members of the House the purpose of this repeal bill.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, I would say that the particular section to be repealed has no reference to lunatics, aldermen and so forth. It so happens to be a section of the bill which refers to liens on real estate which the Supreme Court of the State have endeavored to repeal by opinion but have been unable to do so and Chief Justice Kephart has asked the Legislature to do so. Therefore, we would like to have the Legislature do what the courts would like us to do.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 2274, Senate Bill No. 337, Printer's No. 415, entitled:

An Act relating to memorial halls in counties of the second class erected in memory of the soldiers sailors and marines who served in the Civil War and providing for the use upkeep and management and control of such halls on page 25 of today's calendar, passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Allen vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Patterson, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Allen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALLEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman for what reason he wants to reconsider this bill.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe, I would say that I would like to have this bill placed on the postponed calendar in order to get some difference of opinion straightened out among the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion on this bill.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he could not place it on the postponed calendar without referring it back to third reading.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the bill has passed finally. It was voted on.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman aware of the fact that the bill only applies to the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County.

Mr. ALLEN. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, we had several hearings on this bill in Allegheny County and we found no opposition whatsoever to this bill.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention, as it might be supposed, to delay the passage of this bill. I would like to get the differences ironed out between the veterans organizations on this bill, and I will assure the gentleman from Allegheny that I will go along with the other members of the House on this bill. We just want to iron out some differences in the bill. We will not attempt in any way to delay the passage of it.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, with that understanding I will withdraw my objection.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for seventy-seven members having voted in the affirmative and thirty in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1650, as follows:

An Act creating in counties of the first class the position of Bail Approval Commissioner prescribing the powers and duties thereof limiting jurisdiction to cases in which real property is offered as bail and conferring and imposing such powers and duties upon the controllers of counties of the first class providing for the appointment by such Bail Approval Commissioner certain necessary clerks and employes and prescribing the duties and compensation thereof imposing duties on Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer and upon magistrates in counties of the first class and requiring all departments of counties and cities of the first class to supply certain information prescribing offenses and providing penalties therefor

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2128, (Senate Bill No. 371), as follows:

An Act to amend sections twenty-one and forty-seven of the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 521) entitled as amended "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal" by providing for the filing of bond with the Department of Revenue and by limiting the amount to be retained by registers of wills for their own use for collection of inheritance taxes as agents of the Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twenty-one of the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred twenty-one) entitled as amended "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 21 The registers of wills upon their filing with the [Auditor General] Department of Revenue the bond hereinafter required shall be the agents of the Commonwealth for the collection of the said tax in the case of resident decedents For services rendered in collecting and paying over the same they shall be allowed to retain for their own use upon the gross amount collected during any year five per centum upon the tax collected if such tax shall amount to a sum of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars or less three per centum on the amounts collected in excess of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars and not exceeding one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars one per centum on the amounts collected in excess of one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars and not over two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars and one-half of one per centum on the amounts collected in excess of two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars and not over one million ($1,000,000) dollars and one-quarter of one per centum on the amounts collected in excess of one million ($1,000,000) dollars Provided that the total amount to be so retained by such registers of wills for their own use shall not exceed the total sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) during any year

Section 2 That section forty-seven of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows.

Section 47 The act approved May sixth one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven entitled "An act to provide for the better collection of collateral inheritance taxes" and the amendments and supplements thereto and the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen entitled "An act for the imposition and collection of certain inheritance taxes" and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed but nothing in this repealer shall affect or impair the lien of any taxes heretofore assessed or any tax due owing or payable or any remedies for the collection of the same or to surrender any remedies powers rights or privileges acquired by the Commonwealth under said act approved May sixth one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven entitled "An act to provide for the better collection of collateral inheritance taxes" its amendments and supplements and the said act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen entitled "'An act for the imposition and collection of certain inheritance taxes" or to relieve any person or corporation from any tax or penalty imposed by said acts Provided That the registers of wills shall not retain any amount for their own use for the collection of collateral inheritance taxes under said acts as agents for the Commonwealth.

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask whether there is any one in the House who can explain this bill.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that I am in a position to explain the contents of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN, I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman kindly explain the bill to the members of the House.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. As I read the bill, Mr. Speaker, it restricts the fees that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will pay to the registers of wills of various counties in the Commonwealth to an amount that will not exceed under any circumstances ten thousand dollars.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, why does the bill cut out any fees on collateral inheritance taxes?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I have amendments to the bill which possibly will clarify that situation and which I contemplate offering.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, when is the gentleman going to offer them? The bill is now on final passage and being voted upon—after it gets to the Governor?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. No, Mr. Speaker, right away, as soon as the gentleman from Delaware gives me the floor.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, has the bill passed third reading?

The SPEAKER. The bill has passed third reading.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend as follows: section 2, page 4, line 21, by striking out after the letters HC the words "collateral inheritance"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

An Act to amend section one thousand four hundred and thirty-six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended further regulating the compensation to be paid attendance officers and home and school visitors in school districts of the first class.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 18, 1937.

Whereas, There is a nation wide movement to better housing conditions which in many sections are in a critical state, and

Whereas, Four bills are now pending in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania which will be ineffective to relieve conditions in this Commonwealth unless the Congress of the United States shall adopt the Wagner-Steagall Housing Bill or similar legislation, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to enact the Wagner-Steagall Housing Bill or similar legislation in order that a comprehensive housing program may be effectively prosecuted in this Commonwealth.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the Senate, and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of the Senate.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2204, (Senate Bill No. 811), as follows:

An Act permitting boroughs and townships of the first class engaged in the construction of sewers and sewer systems to change under certain conditions the locations of the sewers and sewer system by amending ordinances and providing that abutting property owners shall be liable in such cases

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendment in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 875, (Senate Bill No. 6), as follows:

An Act relating to employes and organizations thereof defining labor disputes prescribing the procedure by which and the conditions under which injunctions may be granted in such disputes and the scope thereof declaring certain undertakings and promises between employers and employes contrary to public policy and void prescribing the nature of proof necessary in actions arising out of labor disputes against persons or associations prescribing the terms and conditions for bonds to be furnished prior to the issuance of injunctions prescribing the procedure in case of appeal from granting injunctions limiting the duration of temporary and permanent injunctions in case of labor disputes and providing for the payment of costs and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Labor Anti-Injunction Act"

Section 2 In the interpretation of this act and in determining the jurisdiction and authority of the courts of this Commonwealth as such jurisdiction and authority are defined and limited in this act the public policy of this Commonwealth is hereby declared as follows

(a) Under prevailing economic conditions developed with the aid of governmental authority for owners of property to organize in the corporate and other forms of ownership association the individual unorganized worker is commonly helpless to exercise actual liberty of contract and to protect his freedom of labor and thereby to obtain acceptable terms and conditions of employment wherefore though he should be free to decline to associate with his fellows it is necessary that he have full freedom of association self-organization and designation of representatives of his own choosing to negotiate the terms and conditions of his employment and that he shall be free from the interference restraint or coercion of employers of labor or their agents in the designation of such representatives or in self-organization or in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection

(b) Equity procedure that permits a complaining party to obtain sweeping injunctive relief that is not preceded by or conditioned upon notice to and hearing of the responding party or parties or that permits sweeping injunctions to issue after hearing based upon written affidavits alone and not wholly or in part upon examination confrontation and cross-examination of witnesses in open court is peculiarly subject to abuse in labor litigation for the reasons that

(1) The status quo cannot be maintained but is necessarily altered by the injunction

(2) Determination of issues of veracity and of probability of fact from affidavits of the opposing parties that are contradictory and under the circumstances untrustworthy rather than from oral examination in open court is subject to grave error

(3) Error in issuing the injunctive relief is usually irreparable to the opposing party and

(4) Delay incident to the normal course of appellate practice frequently makes ultimate correction of error in law or in fact unavailing in the particular case

Section 3 When used in this act and for the purposes of this act

(a) A case shall be held to involve or to grow out of a labor dispute when the case involves persons who are engaged in a single industry trade craft or occupation or have direct or indirect interests therein or who are employes of the same employer or who are members of the same or an affiliated organization of employers or employes whether such dispute is (1) between one or more employers or associations of employers and one or more employes or associations of employes (2) between one or more employers or associations of employers and one or more employers or associations of employers or (3) between one or more employes or association of employes and one or more employes or association of employes or when the case involves any conflicting or competing interests in a "labor dispute" (as hereinafter defined) of "persons participating or interested" therein (as hereinafter defined)

(b) A person or association shall be held to be a person participating or interested in a labor dispute if relief is sought against him or it and if he or it is engaged in the same industry craft or occupation in which such dispute occurs or has a direct or indirect interest therein or is a member officer or agent of any association composed in whole or in part of employers or employes engaged in such industry trade craft or occupation

(c) The term "labor dispute" includes any controversy concerning terms or conditions of employment or concerning the association or representation or persons in negotiating fixing maintaining changing or seeking to arrange terms or conditions of employment or concerning employment relations or any other controversy arising out of the respective interests of employer and employe regardless of whether or not the disputants stand in the proximate relation of employer and employe and regardless of whether or not the employes are on strike with the employer

(d) The term "court" includes every Court of Common Pleas of the several counties of this Commonwealth including the judge or judges thereof

(e) The term "complainant" includes every person whether plaintiff or defendant in the cause who seeks affirmative relief

(f) The term "defendant" includes every person whether plaintiff or defendant in the cause against whom affirmative relief is sought

(g) The term "employer" is declared to include master and shall also include natural persons partnerships unincorporated associations joint-stock companies corporations for profit corporations not for profit receivers in equity and trustees or receivers in bankruptcy.

(h) The term "employe" is declared to include all natural persons who perform services for other persons and shall not be limited to the employes of a particular employer and shall include any individual who has ceased work as a consequence of or in connection with any matter involved in a labor dispute

(i) The term "organization" shall mean every unincorporated or incorporated association of employers or employes

(j) The term "labor organization" shall mean every organization of employes not dominated or controlled by any employer or any employer organization having among its purposes that of collective bargaining as to terms and conditions of employment

(k) The term "employer organization" shall mean every association of or agency representing or maintained by employers having among its purposes or activities that of studying or advising concerning relations between employers and employes or bargaining negotiating or dealing with employes or labor organizations

Section 4 No court of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction to issue any restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction in a case included within this act except in strict conformity with the provisions of this act nor shall any such restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction be issued contrary to the public policy declared in this act Exclusive jurisdiction and power to hear and determine all actions and suits coming under the provisions of this act shall be vested in the Courts of Common Pleas of the several counties of this Commonwealth

Section 5 Any undertaking or promise such as is described in this section or any other undertaking or promise in conflict with the public policy declared in section two of this act is hereby declared to be contrary to the public policy of this Commonwealth shall not be enforceable in any court of this Commonwealth and shall not afford any basis for the granting of legal or equitable relief by any such court against a party to such undertaking or promise or against any other persons who may advise urge or induce either party thereto to act in disregard of such undertaking or promise including specifically the following

Every undertaking or promise hereafter made whether written or oral express or implied constituting or contained in any contract or agreement of hiring or employment between any individual firm company association or corporation and any employer or prospective employe of the same whereby

(a) Either party to such contract or agreement undertakes or promises not to join become or remain a member of any labor organization or of any employer organization or

(b) Either party to such contract or agreement undertakes or promises that he will withdraw from an employment relation in the event that he joins becomes or remains a member of any labor organization or of any employer organization

Section 6 No court of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction or power in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute to issue any restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction which in specific or general terms restrains or prohibits any person association or corporation from doing whether singly or in concert with others notwithstanding any promise undertaking contract or agreement to the contrary any of the following acts

(a) Ceasing or refusing to perform any work or to remain in any relation of employment

(b) Becoming or remaining a member of any labor organization or of any employer organization

(c) Paying or giving to or withholding from any person any strike or unemployment benefits or unemployment insurance or other moneys or things of value

(d) By all lawful means aiding any person who is being proceeded against in or is prosecuting any action or suit involving or arising out of a labor dispute in any court of the United States or of this Commonwealth or of any state

(e) Giving publicity to and obtaining or communicating information regarding the existence of or the facts or merits involved in any labor dispute whether by advertising speaking or picketing or patrolling any public street or place where any person or persons may lawfully be or by any other method not involving misrepresentation fraud duress violence breech of the peace or threat thereof

(f) Organizing themselves forming joining or assisting in labor organizations bargaining collectively with an employer by representatives freely chosen and controlled by themselves or for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection or engaging in any concerted activities

(g) Persuading by any lawful means other persons to cease patronizing or contracting with or employing or leaving the employ of any person or persons

(h) Ceasing or refusing to work with any person or group of persons

(i) Ceasing or refusing to work on any goods materials machines or other commodities

(j) Assembling peaceably to do or to organize to do any of the acts heretofore specified or to promote their lawful interests

(k) Advising or notifying any person or persons of an intention to do or not to do any of the acts heretofore specified

(l) Agreeing with other persons to do or not to do any of the acts heretofore specified

(m) Advising urging or otherwise causing or inducing without misrepresentation fraud or violence others to do or not to do the acts heretofore specified and

(n) Doing in concert with others any or all of the acts heretofore specified Provided That the specific enumeration in this section of acts which may not be restrained or enjoined shall not be construed to authorize the injunction or restraint of any act or acts not heretofore enjoinable or restrainable

Section 7 No court of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction or power in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute to issue a restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction

(a) Upon the ground that any of the persons participating or interested in the labor dispute constitute or are engaged in an unlawful combination or conspiracy because of the doing in concert of the acts enumerated in section six of this act or

(b) Forbidding any of the acts enumerated in section six upon the ground that illegal acts have been committed or threatened in the course of any labor dispute or that any ends sought to be accomplished by any party to the labor dispute are illegal

Section 8 No officer or member of any association or organization and no association or organization participating or interested in a labor dispute as herein defined shall be held responsible or liable in any civil action at law or suit in equity or in any criminal prosecution for the unlawful acts of individual officers members or agents except upon proof beyond a reasonable doubt in criminal cases and by the weight of evidence in other cases and without the aid of any presumptions of law or fact both of (a) the doing of such acts by persons who are officers members or agents of any such association or organization and (b) actual participation in or actual authorization of such acts or of ratification of such acts after actual knowledge thereof by such association or organization

Section 9 No court of this Commonwealth shall issue any restraining order or a temporary or permanent injunction in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute except after hearing the testimony of witnesses in open court (with opportunity for cross-examination) in support of the allegations of a complaint made under oath and testimony in opposition thereto if offered and except after findings of fact by the court to the effect

(a) That unlawful acts have been threatened and will be committed unless restrained or have been committed and will be continued unless restrained but no temporary or permanent injunction or temporary restraining order shall be issued on account of any threat or unlawful act excepting against the person or persons association or organization making the threat or committing the unlawful act or actually authorizing or ratifying the same after actual knowledge thereof

(b) That substantial and irreparable injury to complainant's property will follow unless the relief requested is granted

(c) That as to each item of relief granted greater injury will be inflicted upon complainant by the denial of relief than will be inflicted upon defendants by granting of relief

(d) That no item of relief granted is relief which is prohibited under section six of this act

(e) That complainant has no adequate remedy at law and

(f) That the public officers charged with the duty to protect complainant's property are unable to furnish adequate protection

Such hearing shall be held only after a verified bill of complaint and a verified bill of particulars specifying in detail the time place and the nature of the acts complained of and the names of the persons alleged to have committed the same or participated therein have been served and after due and personal notice thereof has been given in such manner as the court shall direct to all known persons against whom relief is sought and also to the chief of those public officials of the county and city within which the unlawful acts have been threatened or committed charged with the duty to protect complainant's property The hearing shall consist of the taking of testimony in open court with opportunity for cross-examination and testimony in opposition thereto if offered and no affidavits shall be received in support of any of the allegations of the complaint

Section 10 No temporary restraining order or temporary injunction shall be issued in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute except on condition that complainant shall first file an undertaking with adequate security in an amount to be fixed by the court sufficient to recompense those enjoined for any loss expense or damage caused by the improvident or erroneous issuance of such order or injunction including all reasonable costs (together with a reasonable attorney's fee) and expense of defense against the order or against the granting of any injunctive relief sought in the same proceeding and subsequently denied by the court

The undertaking herein mentioned shall be understood to signify an agreement entered into by the complainant and the surety upon which a decree may be rendered in the same suit or proceedings against said complainant and surety upon a hearing to assess damages of which hearing complainant and surety shall have reasonable notice the said complainant and surety submitting themselves to the jurisdiction of the court for that purpose But nothing herein contained shall deprive any party having a claim or cause of action under or upon such undertaking from electing to pursue his ordinary remedy by suit at law or in equity

Section 11 No restraining order or temporary or permanent injunctive relief shall be granted to any complainant in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute who has failed to comply with any obligation imposed by law which is involved in the labor dispute in question or who has failed to make every reasonable effort to settle such dispute either by negotiation or with the aid of any available governmental machinery of mediation or voluntary arbitration or has violated the public policy as declared in section two

Section 12 No restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction shall be granted in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute except on the basis of findings of fact made and filed by the court in the record of the case prior to the issuance of such restraining order or injunction and every restraining order or injunction granted in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall include only a prohibition of such specific act or acts as may be expressly complained of in the bill of complaint or petition filed in such case and as shall be expressly included in said findings of fact made and filed by the court as provided herein and shall be binding only upon the parties to the suit their agents servants and employes who shall by personal service or otherwise have secured actual notice of the same

Section 13 No court of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction or power in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute to issue a temporary restraining order or temporary injunction where employes are defendants or the employer either in anticipation of or at or subsequent to the inception of a labor dispute has employed persons or assigned other employes to perform the duties of employes then or subsequently not working because of the labor dispute unless prior to the granting of such restraining order or temporary injunction the said employer has discharged such persons and reassigned the other employes back to their former duties and such facts shall be averred under oath in the application for the temporary restraining order or temporary injunction and no temporary restraining order or temporary injunction shall issue unless it contains the following provision

"This order (or injunction) shall remain in effect only so long as ..... (name of employer) shall not employ persons or transfer employes to perform the duties of those now or hereafter not working because of the labor dispute"

Section 14 Every restraining order temporary or permanent injunction issued by a court of this Commonwealth in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall contain the following provision

"That complainant and/or the employer and their or either if their agents or employes shall be enjoined from any and all acts or threats of violence intimidation coercion molestation libel or slander against the respondents or organizations engaged in the labor dispute"

Section 15 Whenever any court of this Commonwealth shall issue or deny any temporary injunction in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute the court shall upon the request of any party to the proceedings and on his filing the usual bond for costs forthwith certify as in ordinary cases the record of the case including a transcript of the evidence taken to the Supreme Court for its review Upon the filing of such record in the Supreme Court the appeal shall be heard and the temporary injunctive order affirmed modified or set aside with the greatest possible expedition giving the proceedings precedence over all other matters except older matters of the same character

Section 16 Every temporary injunction and temporary restraining order issued in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall by its terms expire within such time after entry as the court may fix not to exceed ten (10) days unless the plaintiff is ready by the expiration of such period to proceed to trial and shall pay the necessary calendar and trial fees Every permanent injunction issued in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall expire at the end of one hundred eighty (180) days after the date on which the judgment is signed Provided however That the duration of the injunction may be extended for another one hundred eighty (180) days if after a further hearing initiated and conducted in the same manner as the original hearing the court shall determine that the injunction shall be continued or modified in accordance with the findings of fact on the subsequent hearing

Section 17 Upon denial by the court of any injunctive relief sought in an action involving or growing out of a labor dispute the court shall order the complainant to pay reasonable costs and expenses of defending the suit and a reasonable counsel fee

Section 18 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adapted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 19 The following acts are hereby specifically repealed

The act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred twenty-six) entitled "An act defining labor disputes and prescribing the procedure by which and the conditions under which injunctions may be granted in such disputes"

The act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred ninety-five) entitled "An act declaring certain agreements between employes and employers and others to be contrary to public policy and void"

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are also hereby repealed

Section 20 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOURISHIN. I will, Mr. Speaker,

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Luzerne explain the contents of this bill to the House?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, this is a very simple bill. For years labor has been trying to get a bill of this kind written into the statute books, to be known as an anti-injunction bill, prohibiting the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes under certain conditions.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, under the McGinnis bill are there not certain restrictions in that connection.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker under the McGinnis bill they still have the right to strike, and this bill will prohibit any injunctions being issued in labor disputes or strikes, or both.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, why should we have this bill after passing the McGinnis bill?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, this is supplemental to the McGinnis bill, because of the fact that the McGinnis bill does not prevent labor from striking.

Mr. TURNER. But under the McGinnis bill, Mr. Speaker, which John L. Lewis has declared, I understand, to be the Magna Charta of labor, does not labor have every protection.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, they have protection but not in strikes. This bill will prevent the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes or in strikes.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, why should there be any necessity for a strike in view of the McGinnis bill and the National Labor Relations Act.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Under the McGinnis bill and the National Labor Relations Act, Mr. Speaker, if labor and capital can agree on wages, hours and conditions and any disputes that may arise in the mines, mills and factories, there will be no necessity for strikes.

Mr. TURNER. But Mr. Speaker, isn't the machinery set up for amicable adjustment.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, the machinery is set up for amicable adjustment, but in certain cases those things will occur and strikes will take place in industry.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

This Agreement made and concluded between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania acting by and through its lawfully authorized agency namely the Water and Power Resources Board as party of the first part and the State of Ohio acting by and through its lawfully authorized agency namely its Director of Conservation as party of the second part

Witnesseth

Whereas By act of Assembly of Pennsylvania approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 1503) as amended by the acts approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws 84) the twenty-fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 67) and the ninth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws 619) the Department of Forests and Waters of Pennsylvania acting through the Water and Power Resources Board was authorized inter alia to complete the work begun and continued under an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws 1270) entitled "An act providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir to conserve the waters thereof providing for the taking of land and materials necessary thereto vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission and making an appropriation" and did duly complete said work whereby there was created a lake or reservoir now known and hereinafter called Pymatuning Lake extending in part across the boundary line between said States of Ohio and Pennsylvania into the State of Ohio and

Whereas The primary purposes of the project by which said lake was created was to conserve water draining said swamp all of which has its source in Pennsylvania as well as control floods and regulate the flow of water in the Shenango and Beaver Rivers and secondary thereto permit the water and the land surrounding the same to be used for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes under such terms and conditions as the Water and Power Resources Board might determine in such way or ways as in the opinion if the said board will not materially interfere with the primary purpose in said acts of assembly and hereinbefore specifically referred to and

Whereas In view of the fact that a certain part of the lake extends into the State of Ohio whereby it is necessary and desirable that the use of the lake for the secondary purposes namely hunting fishing and recreational use be uniformly provided for as well as to guard against inconveniences and mischiefs which might hereafter arise from the uncertainty or jurisdiction within and on said lake to the end that the lake may be adequately policed and conflicts of jurisdiction for the arrest and punishment of offenders be avoided

Now Then Therefore In order that law and justice may in all cases be executed and take effect upon said lake from shore to shore in all parts and places thereof where the lake is a boundary between said states the said parties hereto do agree for and in behalf of their respective states in the manner following

1 General Use

It is hereby agreed that the entire Pymatuning Lake or Reservoir subject to the primary use thereof by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for regulating the flow of the water in the Shenango and Beaver Rivers as in Paragraph 9 hereinafter more specifically mentioned shall be open for recreational use equally to the citizens of both contracting parties save as restricted as to hunting fishing and boating in this agreement set forth or hereafter mutually agreed upon by both parties but no person shall be permitted to hunt or fish therein or thereon unless the lawful holder of a fishing or hunting license authorizing him or her so to do issued by the proper authorities of Pennsylvania or of Ohio

2 Arrest and Prosecution of Offenders

That each state shall enjoy and exercise a concurrent jurisdiction upon the water (but not upon the dry land) between the shores of said lake including the islands therein with respect to the arrest and prosecution of offenders but in such sort that any boat or vessel fastened to or aground on the shore of either state shall be considered exclusively within the jurisdiction of said state but that all capital and other offenses trespasses or damages committed on or over said lake the judicial investigation and determination thereof shall be exclusively vested in the state wherein the offender or person charged with such offense shall be first apprehended arrested prosecuted or first brought to trial it being the intent of this agreement that an offender may be pursued and arrested anywhere on or over said lake or shores thereof or islands therein regardless of the boundary line by any peace officers or persons of either state authorized to make arrests whether the offenses be committed on or over any part of the lake on the shores or islands therein regardless of the state in which the place where the offense was committed lies

3 Islands

All islands within the lake shall be considered as part of the State of Pennsylvania

4 Pollution of Water

The lake shall forever be protected against pollution of its waters by industrial trade waste individual or municipal sewage from shore or boat and the discharge of any noxious or deleterious substance liquid or solid into the waters of the lake which is or may become inimical or injurious to public health or to animal or aquatic life is hereby expressly forbidden

No sewage may be discharged into the waters of the lake except after complete treatment and then only upon permit first approved by the Health Departments of both states

5 Boats and Vessels

No power or motor boats nor hydroplanes or aquaplanes shall be permitted anywhere on said lake except such police or administration motor boats to the number which shall be mutually agreed upon by the parties hereto Sail boats row boats and canoes shall be permitted provided they first obtain a license from the respective state of which the owner is a resident under such regulations as each party to this agreement may now have or hereafter adopt

6 Fishing

Any person possessing a duly issued fishing license by either state shall be permitted to fish anywhere on the entire lake (except such portion thereof as is closed to fishing by Paragraph 8 hereof or such further portion as may hereafter by regulation be mutually agreed to by the parties hereto) but no fisherman shall be entitled to fish from the shores of the state of which he is a non-resident unless he complies with the non-resident fishing license law of said state

In order to permit the fish to fully propagate and develop no part of the lake shall be open for fishing until the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and thereafter shall be closed in each year between the tenth day of December and the thirtieth day of June

Until otherwise mutually agreed to by both parties hereto the creel size and season limits for the respective kinds of fish caught shall be such as may hereafter be agreed upon between the two states

7 Reciprocal Hunting Rights

Reciprocal hunting rights are hereby granted to the licensed hunters of each state on the water of that portion of the lake both in Pennsylvania and Ohio over the area bounded on the south by an east and west line crossing the State boundary five-tenth of a mile north of Simons Ohio and on the north by a line drawn between the point at which the Padanaram Road crosses the State boundary and a point formerly known as the Polleck Bridge but such reciprocal hunting rights hereby granted shall extend only to such wild migratory birds as are covered by the Federal Migratory Bird Treaty and Federal Laws adopted thereunder

Hunting in such portions of the lake as are not included in the area above described and designated shall be and remain under the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

No permanent blinds shall be erected anywhere on the lake and shores thereof but this provisions shall not be interpreted as forbidding the use of a boat as a blind temporarily moored to or grounded on the shore of the lake or islands thereof

8 Wild Game and Fish Sanctuaries

A The Game Commission of the State of Pennsylvania having established a wild migratory bird and game sanctuary or refuge in that part of the lake located southeast of the Pennsylvania Railroad Crossing it is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall be interpreted as entitling the residents of either state whether licensed to fish or hunt or otherwise to fish or hunt trespass or enter upon said sanctuary for any purpose whatsoever Anyone so doing shall become amenable to prosecution therefore under the Game Laws of the State of Pennsylvania applicable to game refuges

B The Conservation Division of the Department of Agriculture of the State of Ohio having established a fish sanctuary and game refuge in the following portion of the lake

Being the southerly parts of Lots Numbers 79 and 80 Richmond Township all of Lot Number 41 and all of Lot Number 42 except the westerly 1000 feet thereof in Andover Township Ashtabula County Ohio

Beginning at a point in the west line of Lot Number 79 that is 1523 feet south of the north line of Lot Number 79 also being the center line of Padanaram Road thence southerly along the County Highway along the westerly side of Lot Number 79 1869.5 feet to the north line of Andover Township thence westerly along the northerly line of Andover Township 939.7 feet to the northwest corner of Lot Number 41 thence southerly along the highway that marks the westerly line of Lot Number 42 1000 feet to a point thence of Lot Number 42 thence easterly along the north line of Lot Number 42 1000 feet to a point thence in a southerly direction parallel to and 1000 feet easterly from a westerly line of Lot Number 42 2734 feet more or less to the southerly line of Lot Number 42 thence easterly along the said southerly line of Lot Number 42 5180.4 feet to the Ohio and Pennsylvania State line thence northerly along the said Ohio and Pennsylvania State Line 7297.6 feet more or less to a point that is 1523 feet southerly from the north line of Lot Number 80 thence in a westerly direction 1523 feet southerly from and parallel to the north lines of Lots Numbers 79 and 80 5260 feet more or less to the place of beginning

It is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall be interpreted as entitling the residents of either state whether licensed to fish or otherwise to fish in hunt trespass or enter upon said sanctuary for any purpose whatsoever Anyone so doing shall become amenable to prosecution therefore under the laws of the State of Ohio applicable thereto

9 Reservation of Pennsylvania's Right to the Body of the Water

It is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall operate to deny limit or restrict the right of the Water and Power Resources Board of Pennsylvania or any authority established hereafter by said state to exercise such power to at any time now or hereafter raise or draw off so much of the waters of the lake as in their sole judgment may be necessary to maintain or regulate the flow of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers in furtherance of the primary purpose for which said lake was established and said Water and Power Resources Board shall without let or hindrance have the full right irrespective of other considerations to release so much of the water as they may deem proper to maintain the flow of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers irrespective of its effect on the level of the lake or use thereof for other purposes

In witness whereof The parties hereto have hereunto set their respective hands and seals by for and under the authority of their respective states this 28th day of October 1936

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendment in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2250, (Senate Bill No. 1044), as follows:

An Act authorizing Courts of Common Pleas to stay writs of execution against and tax sales of certain real property in certain cases providing for the continuance of return days of writs of execution and authorizing sales thereon without issuance of further writs and exempting mortgages issued under the National Housing Act

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows

Section 1 Definitions That when used in this act the following words and phrases shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them by this section unless the context clearly requires a different meaning

"Writ of execution" shall mean any writ of fieri facias venditioni exponas levari facias or any other writ or form of execution for the sale of any dwelling and the land appurtenant thereto or any farm where such dwelling or farm shall be occupied by an owner thereof as his or here residence or any proceeding for the sale of real property as herein defined for failure to pay taxes

"Real property" shall mean any dwelling together with the land appurtenant thereto and any farm occupied by an owner of such dwelling or farm as a residence

Section 2 Every Court of Common Pleas of this Commonwealth shall have authority under the conditions hereinafter set forth to stay any writ of execution from time to time and for such periods as the court in its discretion may deem proper Such stays shall be allowed only upon application of an owner lienholder or any other person in interest and unless the plaintiff consent thereto only upon the applicant's showing to the court such facts as the court may deem sufficient to warrant such relief In granting any such stay or continuance the court may impose such condition as it deems proper as to payment of costs taxes accruing interest repairs advertising and notice of sale insurance and any other pertinent matters

Section 3 In exercising the powers conferred by this act a court shall have the discretion of a chancellor sitting in equity It shall be a sufficient reason for the grant of a stay hereunder that immediate execution sale against the real property would work serious inequity

Section 4 The stay of any execution under this act shall continue the return day of the writ of execution to the first regular return day for such writs which shall occur after a sale held under such writ In the meantime the writ shall remain in full force and effect and sale may be made thereunder without the issuance of an alias or any other writ

Section 5 The powers herein conferred on Courts of Common Pleas shall be in addition to all powers now possessed by such courts to stay and otherwise control writs of execution against real property as herein defined

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon final passage by the Legislature and approval by the Governor and shall continue in force only until the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty nine Provided That the provisions of this act shall not apply to the foreclosure of mortgages insured under Title II of an Act of Congress of the United States entitled the "National Housing Act" approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-four or to the foreclosure of mortgages issued to and or held by any corporation organized and existing under the laws of the United States of America if at the time of such foreclosure the United States of America owns a majority of the capital stock of such corporation

Section 7 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are suspended while this act is in effect

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, on page 12 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 2108, Printer's No. 938: I desire to inquire whether the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, is present in the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, is not present in the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, told me that he was indisposed and that he was going to bed.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman arise?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I arose for the purpose of moving that House Bill No. 2108, Printer's No. 938, be recommitted to the Committee on State Government, but due to the fact that the gentleman from Delaware at some date in the past interposed an objection when I made a motion to recommit a bill under similar circumstances, I inquired as a matter of courtesy as to whether or not the sponsor of this bill was in the House before making the motion. I will delay the motion until tomorrow.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 19, 1937.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 647, Printer's No. 422, entitled "An act to promote public health morals safety and welfare by providing for the supervision and encouragement of housing creating a State Board of Housing a departmental administrative board with the Department of Health providing for the organization of the board the appointment and removal

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

In the House of Representatives, May 19, 1937.

Moved by Mr. Walsh, and seconded by Mr. Flannery that the vote by which House Bill No. 621, Printer's No. 788, entitled "An act relating to the business of painting, paper-hanging and decorating; defining, regulating and providing for the licensing of contractors engaged in such business, and for the revocation of such licenses subject to appeal; and creating the Painting and Paperhanging Licensing Board as a departmental administrative board in the Department of Labor and Industry," was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walsh, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Flannery, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. FLANNERY. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALSH and Mr. SCANLON and were as follows:

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, seventy members having voted in the affirmative and sixty-nine in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO TAKE BILL FROM TABLE

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 606, Printer's No. 773, together with the amendments, which were laid on the table on May 4, 1937, be taken from the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss.

The SPEAKER. An interrogation on this motion is not in order. An interrogation is in the form of debate and the motion is not debatable.

The SPEAKER declared the "Nays" have it.

The motion was not agreed to.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, after the Chair has made a decision on a vote is a roll call in order?

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman asked for a roll call after the Chair rendered the decision. The Chair feels, in order to be fair to the members and allow them to express themselves on this motion, the roll should be called. If there are no objections the roll will be called.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I object to the roll call.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, there was confusion in the House when the Speaker called for the vote. I asked insistently for a roll call.

The SPEAKER. The Chair insisted on order. We had more commotion on this bill than we have had on any other bill before the House.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. I realize that, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rule which would require that we abide by the decision of the Chair when an oral vote has been taken.

Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Cambria insists on his objection I will ask a division of the House. However under the circumstances, Mr. Speaker, I agree to abide by the decision of the Chair and withdraw my motion.

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 455.

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 579) entitled "An act to fix the salary and mileage of the members of the General Assembly and to provide for the furnishing of such postage stationery and supplies as may be necessary for the conduct of their offices and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" as amended increasing the compensation of members of the General Assembly

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 455.

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 579) entitled "An act to fix the salary and mileage of the members of the General Assembly and to provide for the furnishing of such postage stationery and supplies as may be necessary for the conduct of their offices and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" as amended increasing the compensation of members of the General Assembly

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, Section VIII of the Constitution states that the members of the General Assembly shall not be permitted to vote themselves an increase during the session and receive it at that session. Would this be considered an increase or a restoration, and would it be possible to receive it at this session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is sorry to say that the members of this session will not be able to receive the increase under the interpretation of the Constitution. If the gentleman will get himself re-elected he will probably get the increase.

MOTION TO TAKE BILL FROM TABLE

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 606, Printer's No. 773, together with the amendments which were laid on the table on May 4, 1937, be taken from the table. I ask for a roll call.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until 12:00 o'clock noon tomorrow.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON and Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—54

Aukerman,	Hering,	Munley,	Toole,
Baker, J. J.	Holstrom,	Nagel,	Trout,

Dickinson,	Levy,	Schor,	Yourishin,
Donohoe,	Lewis,	Shoemaker,	Furman,
Downey,	Marino,	Shugarts,

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to take House Bill No. 606, and the amendments from the table?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his question of information.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, is a request for a poll of the House in order at this time?

The SPEAKER. The request is in order but the Chair cannot see the necessity for it. A roll call has just been taken which shows more than a quorum present.

Mr. O'CONNOR. I have not made the request, Mr. Speaker, and I am not going to make it with the information I have just received.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker I withdraw my motion to take House Bill No. 606 and the amendments from the table?

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow, Thursday, May 20, 1937, at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was not agreed to.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York will state his question of information.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, did the Chair announce the vote?

The SPEAKER. The Chair did announce the vote.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1330, Printer's No. 1028, on page 26 of today's calendar, bill on third reading, which was passed over, not being on file.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1330, (Senate Bill No. 1028), entitled:

An Act relating to magistrates and magistrates' courts in the City of Philadelphia imposing certain duties upon and prohibiting certain practices by magistrates imposing certain duties on the City Controller in regard thereto authorizing the employment by him of additional clerks and fixing their compensation regulating the practice in magistrates' courts the entering of bail and the issuance of discharge in criminal cases in the County of Philadelphia conferring certain powers over magistrates and magistrates' courts and imposing certain duties in connection therewith upon the judges of the Courts of Common Pleas of the County of Philadelphia providing for the appointment and employment of stenographers to report proceedings in certain cases heard by magistrates fixing salaries of persons employed by authority of this act providing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof and repealing certain prior acts

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1330, Printer's No. 1028, be placed upon the postponed calendar, and I ask for a roll call.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, with the understanding that the request to call this bill up will be withdrawn, I withdraw my motion to place it on the postponed calendar.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1330, Printer's No. 1028, was passed over at the request of Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow, Thursday, May 20, 1937, at 1:00 p. m.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, can a motion to adjourn which has been defeated be made again unless another order of business has been transacted between.

The SPEAKER. Another order of business has been transacted.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, would you consider that business has been transacted where somebody made a motion and withdrew it. Nothing happened and there wasn't any business transacted.

The SPEAKER. The bill was placed before the House and read.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I beg to differ with the Chair. They all withdrew their motions.

Mr. SPEAKER. The business of the House is a matter of record. Motions were made and motions were withdrawn, which is business of the House.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, when a motion is made and withdrawn, has there been any business transacted?

The SPEAKER. There was before the House.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I do not care to appeal from the decision of the Chair, but I consider this motion out of order because no business was transacted between the motions to adjourn.

The SPEAKER. The Chair must differ with the gentleman. Business has been transacted by the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNER and Mr. SCHROCK and were as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1937. No. 62.

SENATE

THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1937.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

Our God and gracious Father, for Thy enduring mercy we offer our grateful praise.

We behold Thy wonders of the sky; yet greater wonders still we see the surging souls of men; made in Thine image, have chosen ill for ourselves; yet in the wreckage of our mischoices is revealed the mystery of Thy deeper love. For Thou seest the man that is to be.

World rebuilders called to be!
A world like Heaven—with men like Thee!
When love shall sieze the realm of hate,
And destiny the throne of fate.
For brighter climes than Eden's bower
Await the nations in that hour
When, all earth's ills beneath her sods,
Heaven is here—and men are gods!

The eternal years are Thine, O God, and we abide Thy consummation with unbounded hope. Our hope is in Thee. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. KAHLE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the balance of the week.

Mr. SHAPIRO asked and obtained leave of absence for himself until tomorrow.

The PRESIDENT. We are trying to have a session tomorrow, as well as tonight, to get these bills finished, and I think it is the duty of every Senator to be on the floor unless he has a very good reason for being absent. I understand the Senator from Berks has a very good reason.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I find it necessary that I leave this evening and come back in the morning. I find there is illness in my family and I ask leave to get off at five o'clock.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communications:

OPPOSING BILL WHICH WOULD ABOLISH GENERAL POOR RELIEF

Petitions from numerous citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania opposing any bill which would abolish the present system of general poor relief by elected Poor Directors, or to curtail or limit their power and duties under existing law.

Which was referred to the Committee on State Boards.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary of the Governor being introduced presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

An Act providing for the reciprocal enforcement of violations of the fishing laws in boundray waters between Pennsylvania and the States of New York and New Jersey.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE GOVERNMENTAL COSTS OF PHILADELPHIA

He also informed the Senate, that the House had concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, January 11, 1937.

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia has experienced difficulty in balancing its budget for the year 1937; and

Whereas, Governmental costs in the city and county are deemed high and it is necessary to materially reduce these costs in order to prevent an increase in the tax on real property; and

Whereas, It is deemed desirable to make a thorough investigation of governmental costs in said city and county in order to ascertain where savings can be effected, and where additional revenues may be secured if the same becomes necessary; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a commission is hereby created which shall be composed of three members of the Senate to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and four members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, whose duty it shall be to make a careful, thorough and impartial investigation of all governmental costs in the city and county of Philadelphia, including each and every agency expending public moneys raised by taxation, to ascertain the business and activities of the various governmental agencies and the present allocation of such business among such agencies of the city and county; and to advise ways, means and methods of raising revenue and effecting savings in the cost of government;

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at this Session as early as possible.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL No. 813

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 813, entitled:

An Act authorizing townships of the first class to satisfy of record liens for taxes or other township claims solely upon the payment of record costs where such liens are of record against real estate acquired by the Commonwealth or an agency of the Commonwealth subsequent to the date of the filing of the said lien.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL No. 892

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 892, entitled:

An Act concerning children under six years of age with defective hearing; imposing duties on the Department of Health, the Department of Public Instruction, on parents, guardians, nurses and physicians; and placing certain costs on school districts.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

SENATE BILL No. 6 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 6, entitled:

An Act relating to employes and organizations thereof defining labor disputes prescribing the procedure by which and the conditions under which injunctions may be granted in such disputes and the scope thereof declaring certain undertakings and promises between employers and employes contrary to public policy and void prescribing the nature of proof necessary in actions arising out of labor disputes against persons or associations prescribing the terms and conditions for bonds to be furnished prior to the issue of injunctions prescribing the procedure in case of appeal from granting injunctions limiting the duration of temporary and permanent injunctions in case of labor disputes and providing for the payment of costs and repealing any acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

SENATE BILL No. 66 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 66, entitled:

An Act to amend section five of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1780), entitled "An act to fix the salaries and compensation of the judges of Supreme Court, the judges of the Superior Court, the judges of the Courts of Common Pleas, the judges of the Orphans' Court, the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and the judges of the County Court of Allegheny County," by extending the provisions of the said section to the judges of the Orphans' Court of Dauphin County.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

SENATE BILL No. 213 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 213, entitled:

An Act to amend section eighteen of the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 589) entitled "An act to safeguard human health and life by providing for the issuance of permits to, and regulation of persons and entities selling milk and milk products; conferring powers, and imposing duties on the Secretary of Health, the Advisory Health Board, and otherwise providing for the administration of the act; and imposing penalties," requiring local ordinances to conform to this act and the regulations made thereunder so far as relates to the production and handling of "milk for pasteurization" upon "dairy farms."

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, under this order of business I wish to call the attention of the Chair to Senate Bill No. 517. This bill originated in the House and is House Bill No. 115 Printer's No. 255. In examining the bill it appeared that in the House, when the bill was introduced it was referred to the Committee on Cities, but I fel that through some inadvertancy, when the bill came to the Senate, instead of it being referred to the Committee on City Government in the Senate, it was referred to the Committee on Municipal Government. I, therefore, move that at this time that this bill be recalled from the Committee on Municipal Government so that it may be referred to the Committee on City Government.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to inquire what this bill is?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 517, an Act relating to cities of the third class amending revising and consolidating the law thereto by fixing the compensation for patrolmen in such cities.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Fayette state what prompts him to be so courteous?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am prompted merely by the confidence I have in the learning and knowledge of existing laws, but I do not want to participate in a quarrel with the Chairman of that Committee, because of his having considered very carefully and studiously the laws referred to his committee pertaining to the cities of this Commonwealth.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator think that I know very little of second and third class cities—I do know something about cities of the first class, and I should like to inform the Senator that we would be very glad if the Committee on City Government will get this bill out in time for it to pass, because we have seen two bills like that that were very difficult to get out, and I serve notice on the gentleman that there is very little likelihood of the bill coming out.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am merely interested in the coming out of the bill, and I feel that as this bill deals with laws of cities, that it should have been referred to the Committee on City Government.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to put the Senator on notice.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, may I inquire what bill we are talking on.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante answer the inquiry?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 517, House 115, commonly known as the third class cities bill.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I was outside the Chamber when this discussion started. This bill has been in my committee for some two months, and during that time the committee gave it very serious study. We have had it up for discussion on five different occasions and voted on it on six occasions. We had some information gathered to study it and we should be given another day to study this bill in Committee, and in my opinion there is not enough time left in this session for another committee to properly handle this bill.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair suggest that he does not know who referred the bill. All bills received at the desk pertaining to first class cities were referred to the Committee on City Government, and all other bills pertaining to second and third class cities were referred to the Committee on Municipal Government, so that there was no inadvertancy on the part of the Chair insofar as this bill is concerned.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I did not inquire as to what disposition the committee made of this bill, but the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, has undertaken to inform the Senate. May I inquire whether the Senator from Allegheny inquired for and obtained the opinions of all the Members of this Senate, who have third class cities in their districts?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, no, because in my absence I did not know what turn the discussion had taken, so I did not stop to inquire.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the question is very simple; I am merely inquiring whether or not the Chairman of the Committee on Municipal Government did poll the sentiments of the Members of this Senate who do have third class cities in their Senatorial Districts.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, was the report of the polling favorable to the bill?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, yes.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I do not believe it is parliamentary or fair that the Chairman of any committee be put on the floor and asked what the workings of that particular committee were?

The PRESIDENT. Unless the chairman of the committee is agreeable to the interrogation, it would be out of order, but the Chairman of this Committee is evidently agreeable to this interrogation.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his point of order.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, the point of order is that the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is out of order. The bill is not in the custody of the Senate but is in the custody of the Committee.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair might ask the Senator, from Mercer, Mr. Law, if in the discussion on this motion, there may not be a possibility that the motion is equivalent to a motion to discharge this committee on Municipal Government, which committee has been handling the bill.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, the motion is not so worded.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Allegheny Mr. KILGALLEN, yield to further interrogation?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have prefaced this question on the fact that the Senator from Allegheny has himself volunteered to state what action the committee had taken on the bill. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. KILGALLEN, state whether or not when the last tction was taken on this bill, it was not taken by a secret ballot?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, that is true.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my point of order is that this is the action of the committee in committee, and it is not a fair question to debate on the floor of the Senate the actions of any committee.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair assumes that the Chairman of the Committee on Municipal Government is the best judge as to whether or not the question is fair, and he can answer that.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I have no objection at all; there were never enough votes to get this bill out of committee, notwithstanding the fact that five open votes and one secret vote were taken.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in order not to further prolong this discussion, with the consent of the seconder to my motion, I withdraw it and

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

I move that the Committee on Municipal Government be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 517, House Bill No. 115, Printer's No. 255, so that the bill may be returned to the floor of this Senate for constitutional action.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will file his motion in writing.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and ask its immediate adoption.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE offered the following resolution, which was twice read and considered:

In the Senate, May 20, 1937.

Resolved, That the Committee on Municipal Government be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 517, House Bill No. 115, Printer's No .255, so that the bill may be returned to the floor of this Senate for consideration, according to the provisions of the Constitution.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues in the Senate to vote down this motion. I think I have presented the situation fairly and squarely, when I say that I have another bill in my committee making it mandatory that a certain salary be paid to mayors of third class cities, and after this motion has gone through to discharge this Committee from further consideration of this bill, then we will be faced with another resolution getting another bill out of this committee, so that the mayors of the third class cities, under compulsion from Harrisburg, shall be paid such and such a wage.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I feel that I would be utterly lacking in any kind of moral stamina, if I were to sit quietly in my seat at this time. I do not know anyone in this Senate who could have been more courteous in hearing the sponsor of this resolution, than was the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen. As he said, this particular bill was considered and reconsidered five different times by that committee, and it was brought out plainly that while there may be municipalities in this State that could pay the salaries to their police in double the amount that is asked for in this bill, there are other municipalities that could not pay that amount.

Now, the sponsor of this resolution has paid a great deal in this Chamber about Home Rule and about the poor taxpayer, the over-burdened real estate owner, but by reason of the fact that a lobby has appeared here, and they have come to me in my office and at my home, and the very fact that an organized group comes and demands something of me that I do not feel that the taxpayers of my district can afford to spend does not pursuade me in any way. I certainly feel that it is the duty of and obligation of every member of this Senate to assert his courage and vote down this resolution.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this discussion, but the Senate should have a few facts; if this bill goes through and is enacted into a law, there will be 12 county sheriffs in the State of Pennsylvania, who will get less money than the policemen in third class cities; there will be 54 county commissioners in the State of Pennsylvania, who will be paid less money than policemen in third class cities; there will be 23 mayors in the State of Pennsylvania who will get less money than policemen in third class cities. I have studied this bill very carefully. I was dealing with a group of men towards whom I have a very kindly feeling and who have received very kind treatment from this committee, but in all fairness to myself and in fairness to the job I hold in Harrisburg, I will have to vote against this bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have been very cautious in this proceeding so far not to impeach the integrity of anybody in this whole proceeding including the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, who is Chairman of the Committee, and whom I understand has no third class cities in his district, nor anyone else, but I am prompted in this action solely because of the members of this Senate who do have third class cities in their districts, and when the Chairman of the Committee on Municipal Government said that the consensus of opinion of its members was that they wanted this bill out, and I am further prompted by the thought that I have been fighting for the well known policy of the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, that on controversial measures such as this one, that the committee which has the bill is not to pickle it; but controversial matters like this the bill should be brought out on the floor of the Senate and an opportunity given to those who are interested in it to argue pro and con, and then the members of this Senate can show their honesty and sincerity and vote the convictions of their own consciences, and in a way decently and honestly which will permit them to vote, and I will always be and always have been ready to vote on the floor on any measure that was ever introduced in this Senate and referred to a committee. I can either do that in committee or I can face the issue right here on the floor of this Senate, by voting for or against any measure.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the motion be laid on the table.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. EROE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—31.

Buckman,	Henney,	Mallery,	Rupp,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	McCreesh,	Salus,
Dando,	Homsher,	McGinnis,	Scarlett,
Deitrick,	Huffman,	Owlett,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Pierson,	Sones,
Ealy,	Jaspan,	Pytko,	Wolfenden,
Frey,	Kilgallen,	Rice,	Woodward,
Gelder,	Law,	Rodgers,

NAYS—12.

Barthold,	Eroe,	Kunkel,	Ruth,
Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Sipe,
Dent,	Haluska,	Rankin,	Stiefel,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

CONTINUANCE ON UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF SEWING PROJECTS

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call up at this time for consideration by the Senate the resolution relative to State Sewing projects, reported from the Committee on Welfare on May 19th.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 19, 1937.

Whereas, Withdrawal of the S.E.R.B. from the sponsorship of the State Sewing projects means the return of approximately nine thousand (9,000) women in the State of Pennsylvania alone to direct relief, rolls financed by the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The work relief plan for these women and their families has been definitely proven the cheaper plan, and withdrawal of same will react unfavorably on the communities who have received the pay-roll benefit of the plan, and the clothing provided to the needy of our own community has proven a wonderful asset, together with the restoration of human value, and juvenile delinquency has been decreased through the return of standard decency in home, which was caused previously by inadequate relief grants, and

Whereas, Luzerne County is faced with the dismissal of five hundred fifty (550) families involving two thousand two hundred (2,200) persons from the sewing projects who are at the present time receiving grants from the sewing projects. The closing of these projects at the present time would cause the possibility of increasing relief rolls supported by the State and cause these families to again become discouraged and victims of undernourishment caused by the present inadequate relief grants. It is certain that the State of Pennsylvania can save money by the continuance of the sponsorship of these projects by the S.E.R.B. and

Whereas, Luzerne County would save the sum of five thousand sixty-nine ($5,069.00) dollars monthly, by the contribution of the material cost of these projects. The county has benefited greatly, the business men have benefited and the Commonwealth has benefited by the process of a "work" of gain quality instead of "relief" and its demoralizing effect, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly direct the Bureau of Assistance of the Department of Welfare to prevent the cessation of these sewing projects and that the State Relief Director be instructed to continue the sponsorship of these projects and retain former relief families in gainful employment with a minimum of State Relief expenditure.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 425, entitled:

An Act for the protection of the health and welfare of women and minors by regulating under the police power the minimum fair wages which shall be paid by employers providing for wage boards and defining the powers and duties of such boards and of the Department of Labor and Industry imposing duties on employers providing for directory and mandatory orders on employers and the publication of the names of employers who do not comply with such orders exempting certain persons from the provisions of this act and providing penalties

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That

Section 1 Factual Background Women and minors are employed in some occupations in trade and industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for wages unreasonably low and not fairly commensurate with the value of the services rendered Such a condition is contrary to public interest and public policy commands its regulation Women and minors employed in such industries are not as a class on a level of equality in bargaining with their employers in regard to minimum fair wage standards and "freedom of contract" as applied to their relations with their employers is illusory Judged by any reasonable standard wages in such industries are often found to bear no relation to the fair value of the services rendered Women and minors employed for gain in such occupations are peculiarly subject to the overreaching of inefficient harsh or ignorant employers and under unregulated competition where no adequate machinery exists for the effective regulation and maintenance of minimum fair wage standards the standards such as exist tend to be set by the least conscionable employers In the absence of any effective minimum fair wage rates for women and minors the constant lowering of wages by unscrupulous employers constitutes a serious form of unfair competition against other employers reduces the purchasing power of the workers and threatens the stability of industry The evils of oppressive unreasonable and unfair wages as they affect women and minors employed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are such as to render imperative the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of industry and of the women and minors employed therein and of the public interest of the community at large in their health and well being

Section 2 Definitions as used in this act

(1) "Secretary" shall mean the Secretary of Labor and Industry

(2) "Department" shall mean the Department of Labor and Industry

(2) To enter the place of business or employment of any employer of women and minors in any occupation for the purpose of

(a) Examining and inspecting any and all books registers payrolls and other records of any employer of women or minors that in any way appertain to or have a bearing upon the wages of any such women or minors and

(b) Ascertaining whether the orders of the department have been and are being complied with

(3) To require from such employer full and correct statements in writing at such times as the department may deem necessary of the wages paid to all women and minors in his employment

Section 4 Investigation of Occupation The Department shall have power and it shall be the duty of the department on the petition of fifty or more rseidents of the Commonwealth to cause an investigation to be made by any duly authorized representative of the wages being paid to women or minors in any occupation to ascertain whether any substantial number of women or minors in such occupation are receiving wages which are less than sufficient to maintain their health or efficiency If on the basis of information in its possession with or without a special investigation the department is of the opinion that any substantial number of women or minors in any occupation or occupations are receiving such wages the secretary shall appoint a wage board to report upon the establishment of minimum fair wages for such women or minors in such occupation or occupations

Section 5 Basis of Fair Wage In establishing a minimum fair wage for any service or class of service under this act the secretary and the wage board without being bound by any technical rules of evidence or procedure may

(1) Take into account the cost of living and all other relevant circumstances affecting the value of the service or class of service rendered

(2) Be guided by like considerations as would guide a court in a suit for the reasonable value of services rendered where services are rendered at the request of an employer without contract as to the amount of the wage to be paid

(3) Consider the wages paid in the Commonwealth for work of like or comparable character by employers who voluntarily maintain minimum fair wage standards

Section 6 Wage Boards

(1) A wage board shall be composed of not more than three representatives of employers an equal number of representatives of employes and an equal number of disinterested persons representing the public one of whom shall be designated by the secretary as chairman The secretary shall appoint the members of such wage board the representatives of the employers and employes to be selected so far as practicable from nominations submitted by employers or employer representatives for employer members and by employes for employe members in such occupation or occupations Two-thirds of the members of such wage board shall constitute a quorum and the recommendations or report of such wage board shall require a vote of not less than a majority of all its members The members of a wage board shall be entitled to compensation at the rate of not exceeding ten dollars per day for each meeting attended by them or each day actually spent in the work of the board They shall also be paid their reasonable and necessary traveling and other expenses while engaged in performance of their duties The department shall make and establish from time to time reasonable rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act governing the selection of a wage board and its mode of procedure

(2) The department shall present to a wage board promptly upon its organization all the evidence and information in its possession relating to the wages of women and minor workers in the occupation or occupations for which the wage board was appointed and all other information which is deemed relevant to the establishment of a minimum fair wage for such women and minors and shall cause to be brought before the board any witnesses whom the department deems material A wage board may summon other witnesses or call upon the department to furnish additional information to aid it in its deliberation

(3) A wage board shall have power to administer oaths and to require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of all books records and other evidence relative to any matters under investigation Such subpoenas shall be signed and issued by a member of the wage board and shall be served and have the same effect as if issued by the department under the authority vested in it by the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 177) and designated as the Administrative Code of 1929 A wage board shall have power to cause depositions of witnesses residing within or without the Commonwealth to be taken in the manner prescribed for like depositions in civil actions in the Court of Common Pleas

(4) Within sixty days of its organization a wage board shall submit a report including its recommendations as to minimum fair wage standards for the women or minors in the occupation or occupations the wage standards of which the wage board was appointed to investigate If its report is not submitted within such time the secretary may appoint a new wage board as provided in clause (1) of this section

(5) A wage board may classify employments in any occupation according to the nature of the service rendered and recommend appropriate minimum fair wage rates for different classes of employment A wage board may also recommend minimum fair wage rates varying with localities if in the judgment of the wage board conditions make such local differentiation proper and do not effect an unreasonable discrimination against any locality

(6) A wage board may recommend a suitable scale of rates for learners and apprentices in any occupation or occupations which scale of learners' and apprentices' rates may be less than the regular minimum fair wage rates recommended for experienced women or minor workers in such occupation or occupations

(7) In addition to the report a wage board may recommend such reasonable regulations as it may deem appropriate to safeguard the minimum fair wage standards recommended in its report Such regulations may among other things define and govern learners and apprentices their rates number proportion or length of service piece rates or their relation to time rates overtime or part-time rates bonuses or special pay for special or extra work deductions for board lodging apparel or other items or services supplied by the employer and other special conditions or circumstances and in view of the diversities and complexities of different occupations and the dangers of evasion and nullification without departing from the basic minimum rates recommended by wage board the board may provide for such modifications or reductions of or additions to such rates in or for such special cases or classes of cases as those herein enumerated as the board may find appropriate to safeguard the basic minimum rates established

Section 7 Action on Report of Wage Board

(1) A wage board shall submit its report and recommendations to the department which shall within ten days thereafter accept or reject such report During such ten days the secretary or his representative may confer with the wage board which may make such changes in the report or recommendations as it may deem fit If the report is rejected the department shall re-submit the matter to the same wage board or to a new wage board to be appointed as provided in clause (1) of section six If the report is accepted it shall be published together with such of the regulations recommended by the board and with such modifications and amendments as the department may approve The department shall give notice of a public hearing to be held by the secretary or his representative not sooner than fifteen nor later than thirty days after such publication at which all persons in favor of or opposed to the recommendations contained in such report or in such proposed regulations may be heard

(2) Within ten days after such hearing the department shall approve or disapprove the report of the wage board If the report is disapproved the department may re-submit the matter to the same wage board or to a new wage board If the report is approved the department shall make a directory order which shall define minimum fair wage rates in the occupation or occupations as recommended in the report of the wage board and shall include the regulations as approved by the department

Section 8 Special Licenses For any occupation for which minimum fair wage rates have been established the department may cause to be issued to a woman or minor including a learner or apprentice whose earning capacity is impaired by age or physical or mental deficiency or injury a special license authorizing employment at such wages less than such minimum fair wage rates and for such period of time as shall be fixed by the department and stated in the license

Section 9 Order Made Mandatory If at any time after a directory minimum fair wage order has been in effect for three months the department is of the opinion based upon a statement of reasons in writing made by the department that the persistent non-observance of such order by one or more employers is a threat to the maintenance of fair minimum wage standards in any occupation or occupations the department may give notice of its intention to make such order mandatory and of a public hearing to be held not sooner than fifteen nor later than thirty days after such publication at which all persons in favor of or opposed to a mandatory order may be heard by the secretary or his representative After such hearing the department may make an order making the previous directory order or any part thereof mandatory and shall publish such order

Section 9 This act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 776, passed third reading.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask the unanimous consent to amend sec. 4 (Sec. 524), page 118, line 3, by inserting after the word "commission" the following: "and which date back a period of four years and more."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, will the Senator explain his amendments before putting that motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr President, this bill provides, on page 117, that any department in the State Government may destroy any of the records of that department at any time that the department feels that it is wise to do so. The amendments which I offer would prohibit any department from destroying records that are less than four years old, with the idea that no department may destroy its own records, but records of the previous administration. It seems to me that we are, by this bill placing great powers in the department by giving them the right to destroy their own records at any time they choose to do so.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise at this time, Mr. President, to call the attention of the Senate to a bill on today's calendar which may be reached at a time when it will be necessary for me to be out of this Chamber. I refer to Senate Bill No. 1146, House Bill No. 1055, an educational bill. The bill itself is not on our desks so far as I can find, it is a bill drawn up by the Department of Public Education, and I hope that the Senate will not get me wrong, for I am not opposed to popular education. I have been for many years of my life in the work of education, but I fear certain implications in this bill. I will read the section that I fear, and which I understand is still in the bill: "The board of school directors of any school district is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into agreement with any college of the Commonwealth approved by the State Council of Education for the purpose of establishing undergraduate centers with the financial assistance of such school district and under such terms and regulations as shall be prescribed by the State Council of Education or to provide for the establishment of courses of study of college grade or rank in a separate department operated by such school district under regulations to be prescribed by the State Council of Education.

Each school district undertaking such higher education in any manner provided herein shall prescribe the amount and manner of payment of fees if any shall be required to be paid by students attending such courses departments or schools."

I am in favor of popular education as I said before, and I consider I am still in the work of education, although the days of my teaching in the school room are passed and gone. I fear the implication of this bill in the Sections which I have read. I fear they may open the door to a situation that we are not ready for in Pennsylvania. I fear it will open the door for the setting-up of a super state-wide university to educate everybody for everything and do that at the state's expense. Similar conditions to this were taken out of the bill sometime ago in the Committee on Education, and now, when we are in the closing hours of this Senate, when we are in the hurly-burly, rough and tumble, and when we are trying to get through with our work, the Department of Education slips in this provision as an amendment to this bill, the practice which I have no regard for, and I do not consider that it is has any true champion, by reason of the fact that it comes from the Department of Education. Senator Law will make a motion later on, when the bill is reached, that it be sent back to the Committee on Education for further study, and I certainly hope that the motion will prevail, to say whether or not the implications are of a character that I fear they are.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. President, I call up Senate Bill No. 1146, House No. 1055, and make a motion that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for further study.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, as Chairman of the Committee on Education, I want to state that this feature was not in the bill when it was reported from Committee; the amendments were adopted by the Senate on a Tuesday, and were put into the bill by the Senate unanimously. There are features in this bill that are very essential; that we should have in the protection of our teachers and school directors. These amendments were put in by unanimous consent by the Committee, and it was sent back to committee and they cannot be removed by the committee, and the good features should not be sacrificed by putting this back into committee. I would rather suggest that we vote to put this bill on the postponed calendar, and if any other amendments are wanted they can be made directly on the floor.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to correct the Senator from Berks, in his statement that this cannot be changed in committee. The committee has the power to change anything in the bill. The only thing that cannot be done is to change the nature of the bill and the subject with which it deals. I, therefore, ask the Senate to recommit this bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do not want to be voting here while there remains any misapprehensions. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, has not stated the proposition correctly; when an amendment is unanimously made by the Senate, it cannot be removed by the committee unless there is unanimous action taken by the Senate.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, when the Senate recommits bills for further study, any change can be made.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 955, as follows:

An Act authorizing and empowering cities of the first class to erect and construct waterworks as herein defined within and without their corporate limits to acquire property within and without their corporate limits by purchase lease gift and the power of eminent domain for such purposes to generate power and erect power plants stations and lines in connection therewith and to use sell and purchase water water power and electric energy within and without their corporate limits prescribing the powers and duties of such cities providing for the assessment of damages and repealing inconsistent laws

Section 9 Any such city shall have power with the consent of the Water and Power Resources Board of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to use the reservoirs dams and water-works erected for water supply purposes for the generation of electric power and to erect the necessary power plants distribution systems substations and inter-tie or transmission lines to enable it to use purchase sell and dispose of electric energy inside and outside its corporate limits and with the consent of the Water and Power Resources Board of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the consent of the owner thereof to connect its water-works or power plants and lines with any other water-works or electric distribution systems within and without its corporate limits and to use purchase sell and dispose of water for water supply and power purposes and also to sell and distribute water in territory not supplied with water

Section 10 All acts and parts of acts general local or special inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed but this act shall not be construed to repeal or modify the act approved the eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Act No 64) entitled "An act providing for the appropriation of certain waters of the Commonwealth to the Commonwealth for the benefit of the people thereof declaring void certain condemnations and appropriations of waters by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons providing for ascertainment of the validity and the filing of the records of certain condemnations and appropriations of water by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons and appeals therefrom conferring jurisdiction on the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County in relation thereto providing for future condemnations and appropriations of waters by and allocation of waters to municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons and for compensation for waters hereafter to be taken for public water supply purposes and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Water and Power Resources Board" and it is the legislative intent that the power herein given so far as it relates to condemnation of streams rivers and lakes shall be exercised in subordination thereto

Section 11 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to call the attention of the Senate to an amendment which has been inserted in the original bill introduced in the Senate which shows the same utility handwriting which only recently emasculated the Rural Electrification Bill in this Chamber. (Senate Bill No. 771).

2. This amendment appears on page 2, lines 9 and 10, and is a "joker" which practically destroys the purposes of the bill.

3. Under the original bill, as introduced in the Senate, a power plant may be erected in conjunction with a water-supply system. Such a power plant is most essential in order to reduce the net cost of supplying water to a given locality and make the system economically feasible. Besides, it will serve as a source of cheap electricity for various communities in the State.

4. However, by prohibiting the acquisition or condemnation of any "property used in rendering services to the public." The amendment prevents the utilization of the electricity generated in the power plant. In other words, in order to transmit the electricity to a prospective consumer, it would be almost impossible to do so without crossing the rights-of-way or other property of some electric utility, as the private utilities have a net-work of transmission and distribution lines scattered about the State. And the refusal of these utilities to permit any crossing of their rights-of-way or other property would therefore render valueless the construction of a power plant. In fact, as soon as the utilities would learn of the proposed location of the power plant, they could easily erect power line so as to completely barricade the plant and effectively prevent the scale of electricity to any persons or communities.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in its order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am afraid my friends from Philadelphia have not understood the amendments which I offered on the floor of this Senate myself. This project will probably go through my county and through counties in the Delaware Valley, and under this bill as it was submitted to the Senate originally and emasculated over in the House, the City of Philadelphia, if you please, could go up to my county and Senator Barthold's County, and Senator Huffman's County, and condemn everyone of our municipal water plants. That is the reason I put these amendments in. I am not interested in electric plant, I am trying to protect municipal water plants, owned by municipalities, that is the reason I offered this amendment and I submit that it is a good amendment and should stay in the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is there any objection to this bill going over until we compare this amendment with the amendment which was finally introduced in this bill, which was given to me by the Department of Forests and Waters? I think it describes the water power resources, giving them the right of control, and under these circumstances, if this bill is allowed to go over until tomorrow, we can compare the two amendments, and if the Senator from Bucks is correct, we can then act upon the bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, let the bill go over until Monday night instead of tomorrow, and I will be very glad to yield.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, except that might impede its final passage.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, then in that event I feel that we ought to put it through today. However, I will not object to its going over in its order.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. THOMPSON, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 879, on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 880, entitled:

An Act appropriating to the Department of Public Assistance for public assistance all restitutions and overpayments collected by or for such department.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to explain my vote upon this bill. This bill makes an appropriation to the Department of State that is not yet in existence, and no law has yet been constitutionally passed creating a department of that kind that may receive and spend this money. For that reason I intend to vote "no," unless the sponsor of this bill will agree to postpone action on it until such time as a law is constitutionally passed creating a Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, this is one of the appropriation bills to the proposed Department of Assistance. The reason for passing this bill through the Senate at this time, is that the Senate has already passed the bill creating a Department of Assistance, and if we delay too long in passing the appropriation bills, the Department will be created without any money to function. If we are going to adjourn on the day set, I suggest that this bill and the one following be passed and go over to the House, where unquestionably it will await the passage, or the action of the House on the other bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Adams, who the Chief Justices are?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, one of them is Chief Justice Kephart and the other is Former Chief Justice Fraser.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, in order not to delay the proceedings here, I ask that these bills go over in order.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I see no special reason for the bills going over in order, after the Senator from Dauphin has the name now, which are Chief Justice Kephart and former Chief Justice Fraser.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I object to the bills going over in order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, may I ask which bill refers to which Justice?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 1172, is for Chief Justice Fraser, and Senate Bill No. 1173, for Chief Justice Kephart.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations a question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Committee why the committee took the Motor License Fund to pay the purchasing agent of the Department of Property and Supplies; why it does not come out of a general fund?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, the Department of Property and Supplies makes certain purchases for the Department of Highways, and this is to reimburse the Department of Property and Supplies for the expenses incurred in making the purchases.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it is for salary for the purchasing agent, not for steam rollers or anything like that?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, no, this is for salaries and so forth.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Game and Fish Department did the same thing with the purchasing agent of Property and Supplies why should he be reimbursed from those special funds? I cannot see why the money does not come out of the general fund?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, it is an expense that is directly attributable to the Highway Fund, instead of them making their own purchases the Department of Property and Supplies purchase for them, and the Department of Property and Supplies is reimbursed for the expense incurred.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, so the Game and Fish Department would do the same thing as Highways?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I believe it would.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I Will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is an appropriation from the Motor License Fund, Board of Financial Revenue, to meet interest on sinking fund requirements on the state debt; does that mean that the state debt is confined to the issue of highway bonds, is that the only state debt you have?

An Act making an appropriation to the American Legislators Association and the Interstate Legislative Reference Bureau.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. WOODWARD, in reference to this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Wooward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, state the amount of this appropriation in this bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, $4,000.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Woodward, state the purpose of the appropriation?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there are two purposes: one is the Interstate Legislative Reference Bureau, which maintains offices in Chicago, and of which Mr. Fertig is a member; the other is the usual appropriation to the American Legislators Association. Each State gives $4,000, and I am ashamed to say that the last appropriation was cut by the Governor to $750.00, so do not interfere with this, please.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, state whether this is a Democratic or Republican bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will say it is nonpartisan.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia state whether this will be audited by the Auditor General.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I think by the new Auditor General nothing will escape him.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, how many years this American Legislators Association has been in existence?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, 11 years.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, what have they ever done?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, eleven years ago they were organized in Denver, Colorado — do you want to hear the story of my life? — in Denver Colorado, — we had only a corporal's guard there, and one of the resolutions authorized Senator Toll, of Colorado — was that, the president was to go to the Governors' conference in Cheyenne. He went, and they kept him waiting for two or three days, and finally gave him five minutes for the Executive Committee. That was eleven yeras ago, but today the Governors invite us to all their conferences, they put us on their programs, and we are becoming almost as important as the Governor. Now, moreover, we have been invited to Washington, by the Secretary of the Treasury and by the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, and by Senator Patrick Harrison of the Finance Committee. Do you want me to go on?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, yes. I see now that you have a new association tacked on to it, it is only a few years old, that is, the Inter-state Legislators Reference Bureau.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, that has been there for a long time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, how many years?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I should think for about half that time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, what has it ever done?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it maintains an office in Chicago, and whenever you are in doubt about anything like the full crew business, for instance, you can direct an inquiry to the Chicago office and you will get all the data from all the States in the Union on that subject, and you will need no dark glasses so you cannot see any orders.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I thank the Doctor. I suppose it is perfectly alright to keep an institution going and keep on appropriating money for it; however, I find that we already maintain one Reference Bureau within the State, a sort of exchange whereby we know the legislation that is passed in other states etc., and I do not think this appropriation is at all necessary. I think that an organization in existence 11 years that has not anything more tangible to offer than that they maintain offices in Chicago, I think, at this time, that this State should refuse to participate in such malicious squandering of the people's money.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I say a word more? I imagine that the Senator will vote for the bill anyway, but I would like to just say that it is very interesting to know that the Laura E. Stillman Fund which is part of the Rockafeller Foundation Fund, and which is directed by men like Boswick, John D. Rockafeller, Jr., have on their list this very association, and they give more money to this association than to any other agency of that description. I think that is a very good recommendation.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, from the remarks that were made by Members of the Senate, this bill, it seems to me, will be taking money from the taxpayers of Pennsylvania sending it to Colorado and Chicago for an institution that is sponsored by one of the wealthiest families in the Country; is that correct?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, not altogether. This money is used in part for the traveling expenses of Senator Rupp and myself, and also the appointees of the Governor and the members of the House. All the States chip into the pool to pay these expenses, and also for this Reference Bureau, and I assure you that I was rather offended that these other states have given more than $4,000 annually, and last year our Association was only given $750.00.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, if we can afford to spend $40,000 to celebrate the landing of the ships Kalmar Nyckel and Fogel Grip on the Delaware River, we can afford to spend $4.000 for Dr. Woodward and myself and Senator Rodgers.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Berks, Mr. Ruth how much additional money is appropriated by this bill?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, $25,000 additional.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is this the Committee that is investigating the Judges of the Common Pleas Courts and the Municipal Government down in Philadelphia, the Committee that made a preliminary report the other day?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, no, they are investigating the criminal courts.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Berks County, Mr. Ruth, how much was originally appropriated towards this Committee?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, $25,000.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, so that makes a total of $50,000 that you expect to spend on this Commission to investigate court procedure in Philadelphia?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, that is so, and that amount is needed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think the Senate ought to vote down this bill. The committee has made a preliminary report in which they found that nothing is wrong with the procedure in Philadelphia. We have several committees investigating various matters in Philadelphia, and there seems to be no reason to continue this investigation, and if we are going to start saving little money, it seems to me this is a good place to stop spending. They would spend $50,000 to get lot of data that everybody in this Senate knows will never be looked at.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, why does the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, dedicate his remarks simply to Philadelphia, and why does he not refer to the entire State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I understand that this Committee has said that they have confined themselves thus far to Philadelphia, I believe the Chairman said, and I think everybody in this Senate knows what this is designed to do. The Municipal Court now is supposed to be abolished and we have all the courts we can pay for in Philadelphia now, and now you want to spend $25,000 more to maintain offices down there in Philadelphia and make up a long list that nobody will ever look at.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Berks, Mr. Ruth, a question?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Berks Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I ask the name of the attorney for the committee?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, Chester A. Keyes.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, where does he reside?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, he resides in Philadelphia at the present time but his home is in Kansas City.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, he is not a Pennsylvanian.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, he is not.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, is it a fair question to ask how much remuneration is paid to him?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, $12,500.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, does the Senator from Berks, Mr. Ruth think $12,500 enough?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, yes, to the first of June; after that whatever the Committee decides to pay.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, that is half the appropriations.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, half the original appropriation.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, about an hour and a half ago there was a bill reported out by the State Government Committee forbidding the employing of citizens outside of Pennsylvania in any such capacity as this. Now, I think it is a bad bill, and I think it was sidetracked, but it has been my experience that there are plenty of good lawyers in Pennsylvania who could be employed for $12,500, half of the appropriation, so why not employ a Pennsylvania lawyer?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT, Will the Senator from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. Ruth. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as I understand it that the Committee has paid $12,500 to Mr. Keyes up to June 1st?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, that is the contract made with him to do the work. After June 1st and as long as he is needed, it is whatever the committee decides to pay.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I ask when he started his work?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, April 1st.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, am I to understand that the Committee has paid Mr. Keyes, or has agreed to pay Mr. Keyes, $12,500, for his services from April 1st to June 1st?

Mr. RUTH. Mr President, no, as long as he is needed. This salary is paid approximately to June 1st and that is a flat contract.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, do I understand the Chairman of the Committee, the Senator from Berks, to say that $12,500 contract was a matter of agreement, that you were to pay him that amount to June 1st?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, to June 1st.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, and he started work on April 1st?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, he did.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask the Senate to vote down this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the ayes and nays were taken.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows?

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HUFFMAN, from the Committee on Welfare reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 876, entitled:

An Act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government and institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners, county treasurers, city departments of public welfare, the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto, abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors, overseers, guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them, providing for the temporary employment of certain of them, providing for the transfer vesting sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations, revising, amending, changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CAVALCANTE, from the Committee on State Boards reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 341, entitled:

An Act to re-enact and further amend the title and the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15, 1933-34), entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in, connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties:" further regulating the manufacture, sale, importation, use and traffic in liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages; conferring additional powers and imposing additional duties on the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; further regulating those licensed under this act; imposing additional filing fees and increasing fees for certain permits, and providing for the disposition thereof; further regulating the establishment of State liquor stores and the employment and use of personnel by the board; regulating and providing the procedure for the granting, transfer, revocation and suspension of licenses and for compromises in certain cases and the disposition of moneys arising therefrom; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; regulating the jurisdiction of courts and local option procedure; prohibiting certain interlocking business; and providing penalties.

Also, from the Committee on State Boards reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 342, entitled:

An Act to re-enact and amend the act, approved the nineteenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred twenty-six (Pamphlet Laws sixteen) entitled, as amended, "An act regulating, under permit, through the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, the manufacture, production, distillation, development, use in manufacture, denaturization, redistillation, rectification, blending, recovery, reuse, holding in bond, holding in storage by bailees for hire, and transportation for hire, of any alcohol, alcoholic liquid or alcoholic beverage, by certain persons; requiring the registration of Federal permits; also providing for fees and the disposition thereof, and for appeals to the courts; also authorizing the inspection of the records of permittees and purchasers of said alcohol, alcoholic liquid, and alcoholic beverages; also declaring certain places nuisances and providing for their abatement; also providing penalties; and also repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act;" further regulating the manufacture, sale, use and traffic in alcohol and alcoholic liquids; conferring additional powers and imposing additional duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; further regulating those licensed under this act; imposing filing fees; changing the method of calculating certain license fees; providing for the use of the word "license" instead of "permit"; regulating and providing the procedure for the granting, suspension and revocation of licenses, and for compromises in certain cases; providing for the disposition of fees, compromise penalties and forfeitures; regulating the jurisdiction of courts; and providing penalties.

Also, from the Committee on State Boards reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 343, entitled:

An Act to re-enact and further amend the title and the act, approved the third day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws two hundred fifty-two) entitled as amended, "An act to regulate and restrain the traffic in malt and brewed beverages, as herein defined; providing for the licensing of the manufacture, transportation, sale and distribution of such beverages; imposing license and permit fees, and providing for collection and distribution thereof; restricting ownership and interest in licensed places; permitting municipalities and townships, by vote of the electors, to prevent the licensing therein of places where such beverages may be sold for consumption on the premises, and regulating elections for this purpose; imposing duties upon county treasurers, the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, quarter sessions courts, district attorneys, the Department of Justice, proper authorities of political subdivisions of the State, and election officers providing penalties; and repealing existing acts;" defining and further defining and regulating licensees, application for licenses and sales by licensees; and providing for the licensing of package retailers, and fixing fees for such licenses, and for amusement permits; regulating the granting, suspension, revocation and transfer of licenses and the procedure therefor; and conferring jurisdiction on certain courts; providing for the granting of licenses by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board instead of the county treasurer, and prescribing the powers and duties of said board; providing for compromises where licenses are suspended, and for the disposition of application, licensing, permit fees, forfeitures and penalties; and providing penalties

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that the bills just reported out be read the second time. These bills have been on the calendar and were on second reading, but before they were given second reading they were recommitted. Mr. Fertig is preparing amendments to these bills and we want to save a legislative day by reporting them out as committed. I ask unanimous consent that they be read the second time.

The PRESIDENT. These bills have been on the calendar, this is a re-report and they are reported as committed. By unanimous consent they could be read and agreed to on second reading. Is there objection?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, have the amendments which were to be introduced into these bills been offered?

The PRESIDENT. The amendments have not been offered.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, these amendments, I understand, will be ready in a very short space of time and I would ask that action on these bills be deferred for a little while. We just checked up, and these amendments will be here shortly.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE WITHDRAWN

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to withdraw my report from the Committee on State Boards of Senate Bills Nos. 341, 342 and 343.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. JACOBS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JACOBS from the Committee on Highways reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 683, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections six, ten and twenty-nine of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 468), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county seats, principal cities and towns and extending to the State line, describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly or in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein, providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work to be done by the State, providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of townships, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions, providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same, providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," by amending Route Fifty-two, by adding thereto borough bridges over mill races as the responsibility of the Department of Highways by providing that no assessment shall be made against the Commonwealth to assist in the reconstruction of any structure eliminating grade crossings; and by further authorizing the Attorney General, under certain conditions, to enter into agreements with townships for the payment, in installments, of certain claims of the Department of Highways against such townships for construction, reconstruction or maintenance of State highways.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PYTKO, from the Committee on Insurance re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 790, entitled:

An Act creating and appropriating a fund for the purpose of rebuilding, restoring and replacing real and personal property of the Commonwealth damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty, and for insuring the Commonwealth against losses of public moneys due to embezzlement or theft thereof by, or malfeasance of, State officers and employes; providing for the investment of the moneys in such fund, prohibiting (with certain exceptions) the purchase of insurance or surety bonds for the above purposes; and making a repeal.

MAPS AND PLANS

Section 1001 The owner operator or superintendent of every coal mine or colliery shall make or cause to be made an accurate map or plan of the working or excavations of such coal mine or colliery on a scale of one hundred feet to the inch which map or plan shall exhibit the working or excavations in each and every seam of coal and the tunnels and passages connected with such workings or excavations It shall state in degress the general inclination of the strata with any material deflection therein in said workings or excavations and shall also state the tidal elevations of the bottom of each and every shaft slope tunnel and gangway and any other point in the mine or on the surface where such elevation shall be deemed necessary by the inspector

The map or plan shall show the number of the last survey station and date of each survey on the gangways

It shall also accurately show the boundary lines of the lands of the said coal mine or colliery and the proximity of the workings thereto and in case any mine contains any water dammed up in any part thereof it shall be the duty of the owner operator or superintendent to cause the true location of the said dam to be accurately marked on said map or plan together with the tidal elevation inclination of strata and area of said workings containing water and whenever any workings or excavations are approaching the workings where such dam or water is contained or situated the owner operator or superintendent shall notify the inspector of the same without delay

Whenever a mine fire is sealed an outline of the sealed area must be plainly shown on the mine map together with such data as the mine inspector may request pertaining to the same

Upon request of the mine inspector the location of all bore holes must be placed on the mine inspector's map and the operator or superintendent of the mine shall furnish the inspector with any aditional information regarding bore holes upon his request

The said owner operator or superintendent shall deposit a true copy of such map or plan with the inspector of mines for the district in which the said coal mine or colliery is situated showing the workings of each seam if so desired by the inspector on a separate sheet of tracing muslin One copy of said map or plan shall be kept at the colliery

Section 1002 The said owner operator or superintendent shall as often as once in every six months place or cause to be placed on the said inspector's map or plan of said coal mine or colliery the plan of the extensions made in such coal mine or colliery during the proceding six months The said extensions shall be placed on the inspector's map and the map returned to the inspector within two months from the date of the last survey

Section 1003 When any coal mine or colliery is worked out preparatory to being abandoned or when any lift thereof is about to be abandoned the owner operator or superintendent of such coal mine or colliery shall have the maps or plans thereof extended to include all excavations as far as practicable and such portions thereof as have been worked to the boundary lines of adjoining properties Any part or parts of the workings which are intended to be allowed to fill with water must be surveyed in duplicate and such surveys must practically agree They shall be certified to by the owner operator or superintendent and shall be filed with the inspector of the district in which the mines are situated

Section 1004 Whenever the owner operator or superintendent of any coal mine or colliery shall neglect or refuse or from any cause not satisfactory to the inspector shall fail for a period of three months to furnish to the inspector the map or plan of said colliery or of the extensions thereto as provided for in this Article the inspector is hereby authorized to cause an accurate map or plan of such coal mine or colliery to be made at the expense of the owner thereof which cost shall be recoverable from said owner as other debts are by law recoverable

Section 1005 If the inspector finds or has reason to believe that any map or plan of any coal mine or colliery furnished under the provisions of this article is materially inaccurate it shall be his duty to make application to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which such colliery is situated for an order to have an accurate map or plan of said colliery prepared and if such survey shall prove that the map furnished was materially inaccurate or imperfect such owner operator or superintendent shall be liable for the expense incurred in making the same

Section 1006 If it shall be found that the map or plan furnished by the owner operator or superintendent was not materially inaccurate or imperfect the Commonwealth shall be held liable for the expense incurred in making said test survey

Section 1007 If it shall be shown that the said owner operator or superintendent has knowingly or designedly caused or allowed such map or plan when finished to be incorrect or false such owner operator or superintendent thus offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) or imprisonment not exceeding three (3) months at the discretion of the court

Section 1008 The maps or plans of the several coal mines or collieries in each district and which are placed in the custody of the inspector shall be the property of the Commonwealth and shall remain in the care of inspector of the district in which the said collieries are situated to be transferred by him to his successor in office and in no case shall a copy of the same be made without the consent of the owner operator or superintendent

Section 1009 The inspector's map or plan of any particular colliery shall be open for inspection in the presence of the inspector to any miner or miners of that colliery whenever said miner or miners shall have cause to fear that his or their working place or places are becoming dangerous by reason of their proximity to other workings which may be supposed to contain water or dangerous gases Said map shall also be open to the inspection and examination of any citizen interested during business hours

Section 1010 It shall be obligatory on the owners of adjoining coal properties to leave or cause to be left a pillar of coal in each seam or vein of coal worked by them along the line of adjoining property of such width that taken in connection with the pillar to be left by the adjoining property owner will be a sufficient barrier for the safety of the employes of either mine in case the other should be abandoned and allowed to fill with water such width of pillar to be determined by the engineers of the adjoining property owners together with the inspector of the district in which the mine is situated Such width of pillar as shall have been agreed upon by the adjoining property owners and the mine inspector of the district shall be placed on the inspector's map without delay

The surveys of the face of the workings along such pillar shall be made in duplicate and must practically agree A copy of such duplicate surveys certified to must be filed with the owners of the adjoining properties and with the inspector of the district in which the mine or property is situated

Section 1011 At the request of the mine inspector the owner operator or superintendent of any coal mine shall furnish him with a geological cross section of such coal seams in such mine as he may require

Section 1101 of Article XI of the bill was read as follows

SHAFTS SLOPES OPENINGS AND OUTLETS

Section 1101 of Article XI of the bill was read as follows: operator or superintendent of any mine to employ any person or persons in such mine or permit any person or persons to be in such mine for the purpose of working therein unless there are in connection with every seam of coal and from every lift thereof worked in such mine not less than two openings or outlets separated by a stratum of not less than sixty (60) feet in breadth underground and one hundred and fifty (150) feet in breadth at the surface at which openings or outlets safe and distinct means of ingress or egress are at all timese available for the person or persons employed in said mine This section shall not apply to opening a new mine or to opening any new lift of a mine while being worked for the purpose of making a connection between said two outlets so at one time in such mine or new lift of a mine At least half of this number must be employed at making the second outlet Neithter shall this section apply to any mine or part of a mine in which the second outlet has been rendered unavailable by reason of the final robbing of pillars previous to abandonment so long as not more than twenty (20) persons are employed therein at any one time The cage or cages and other means of egress shall at all times be available for the persons employed where there is no second outlet.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I move to amend Sec. 1101, page 44, lines 19 to 22 by striking out all of lines 19 to 21 and the words "and egress by not less than two openings" in line 22.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amendment?.

It was agreed to.

Section 1102 to 1117 of Article XI of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

Section 1102 The owner operator or superintendent of any mine to which there is only one shaft slope or outlet may petition the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county in which said mine is situated which said court is hereby empowered to act in the premises settting forth that in consequence of intervening lands between the working of his mine and the only practicable point at which to make or bring to the surface from the working of his mine he is unable to make an additional shaft slope or outlet in accordance with the requirements of this act whereupon the court may make an order of reference and appoint three disinterested persons residents of a county viewers one or more of whom shall be a practical mining engineer all of whom after being sworn to a faithful discharge of their duties shall view and examine the premises and determine as to whether the owner should have the privilege of making an additional outlet through or upon any intervening lands as the case may require and report in writing to the court which report shall be entered and filed of record.

Section 1103 If the finding of the viewers or any two of them is in favor of the owner of such coal mine or colliery he may make an additional shaft slope or outlet under through or upon intervening lands as may be determined upon and provided for by the award If the finding of the viewers is against the owner or if no award be made by reason of any default or neglect on the part of the owner he shall be bound to comply with the provisions of this act in the same manner as if this section had not been enacted In case the claims that he ought to make an additional opening under through or upon any adjoining or intervening lands to meet the requirements of this act for the ingress and egress of the men employed in his or their mine he or they shall make a statement of the facts in the petition with a survey setting forth the point of commencement and the point of termination of the proposed outlet which he or they their engineers agents or employes may enter upon said intervening lands and survey and mark as he or they shall find it proper to adopt for such additional outlet doing as little damage as possible to the property explored and the viewers shall state in their report what damage will be sustained by the owner or owners of the intervening lands by the opening construction and use of the outlet and if the report is not appealed from it shall be confirmed or rejected by said court as to right and justice shall appertain and any further and all proceedings in relation thereto shall be in conformity with like proceedings as in the case of a lateral railroad across or under intervening lands under the act in relation to lateral railroads approved the fifth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred thrity-two (Pamphlet Laws five hundred one) and the supplements thereto so far as the provisions of the same are applicable hereto and the notices to the owner of intervening lands of the intention to apply for the privilege of making an outlet and meeting of the viewers shall be given and the costs of the case shall be paid as provided in the said act of May fifth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred thirty-two (Pamphlet Laws five hundred one) and the supplements thereto.

Section 1104 The main escapement shafts or slopes shall be fitted with safe and available appliances by which persons employed in the mine may readily escape in case an accident occurs deranging the hoisting machinery at the main outlets.

Section 1105 In all slopes where the angle of inclination is fifteen (15) degrees or less there must be provided a separate traveling way which shall be maintained in a safe condition for travel and kept free from steam and dangerous gases.

Section 1106 The top of each slope if dangerous or any intermediate lift thereof shall be securely fenced off by railing or by verticle or flat gates.

Section 1107 Every abandoned slope shaft airhole and drift shall be properly fenced around or across its entrance.

Section 1108 All underground entrances to any places not in actual course of working or extension shall be properly fenced across the whole width of such entrances so as to prevent persons from inadvertently entering the same.

Section 1109 The owner operator or superintendent of any coal mine or colliery which is worked by shaft or slope shall provide and maintain a telephone or suitable appliance by or through which conversation can be held by and between persons at the bottom and at the top of the shaft or slope and also an efficient means of signaling from the bottom of such shaft or slope to the engineer in charge of the hoisting engines The owner operator or superintendent of every coal mine or colliery shall provide and maintain a telephone by or through which conversations can be had between persons on the outside of the mines and the principal centers of operations in the mines.

Section 1110 The owner operator or superintendent of all mines shall see that the surface landing and all other landings of shafts are provided with gates so hung and adjusted that they will close automatically It shall be unlawful for any man employed as a footman at a shaft in which coal or other material is hoisted to work at this occupation unless he has provided himself with a safety headgear or helmet of a design approved by the Department of Mines which headgear or helmet must be worn by him at all times while on duty.

Section 1111 Every cage or gun-boat used for lowering or hoisting persons in any shaft or slope shall be provided with handrails safety catches and a proper protector so constructed that persons while on such cage or gun-boat shall not be struck by anything which may fall or roll down said shaft or slope

Section 1112 Over all shafts which are being sunk or shall hereafter be sunk a safe and substantial structure shall be erected to sustain the sheaves or pulleys at a height of not less than twenty (20) feet above the tipping place and the top of such shaft shall be arranged in such manner that no material can fall into the shaft while the bucket is being emptied

Section 1113 The said structure shall be erected as soon as a substantial foundation is obtained and in no case shall a shaft be sunk to a depth of more than fifty (50) feet without such structure

Section 1114 If provision is made to land the bucket upon a truck the said truck shall be constructed in such manner that the material cannot fall into the shaft All rock and coal from shafts as they are being sunk shall not be raised except in a bucket or on a cage and such bucket or cage must be connected to the rope or chain by a safety hook or clevis or other safe attachment

Section 1115 Such shafts shall be provided with guides and guide attachments applied in such manner as to prevent the bucket from swinging while descending or ascending therein and such guides and guide attachments shall be maintained at a distance of not more than seventy-five (75) feet from the bottom of such shaft until its sinking shall have been completed but this section shall not apply to shafts one hundred (100) feet or less in depth.

Section 1116. Where the strata are not safe every shaft shall be securely cased lined or otherwise made secure

Section 1117 The following rules shall be observed as far as practicable in every shaft to which this act applies

First After each and every blast the chargeman must see that all loose material is swept down from the timbers before the workmen descend to their work.

Second After a suspension of work and also after firing a blast in a shaft where explosive gases are evolved the person in charge must have the said shaft examined and tested with a safety lamp before the workmen are allowed to descend.

Third Not more than four persons shall be lowered or hoisted in any shaft on a bucket at the same time and no person shall ride on a loaded bucket

Fourth Whenever persons are employed on platforms in shafts the person in charge must see that the said platforms are properly and safely constructed.

Fifth While shafts are being sunk all blasts therein must be exploded by an electric battery.

Article XII of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

VENTILATION

Section 1201 The owner operator or superintendent of every mine shall provide and maintain a constant and adequate supply of pure air for the same as hereinafter provided.

Section 1202 It shall not be lawful to use a furnace for the purpose of ventilating any mine wherein explosive gases are generated.

Section 1203 The quantities of air in circulation shall be ascertained with an anemonmeter or other efficient instrument Such measurements shall be made by the inside foreman or his assistant once every week at the inlet and outlet airways also at or near the face of each gangway and at the nearest cross-heading to the face of the inside and outside chamber or breast where men are employed Such air measurements shall be entered in the colliery report book Cross-headings between chambers or breasts shall not be driven more than sixty (60) feet from the face of each chamber or breast A report of these air measurements shall be sent to the inspector before the twelfth day of each month for the preceding month together with a statement of the number of persons employed in each district.

Section 1204 The minimum quantity of air produced shall not be less than two hundred (200) cubic feet per minute for each and every person employed in any mine and as much more as the circumstances may require.

Section 1205 The ventilating currents shall be conducted and circulated to and along the face of each and every working place throughout the entire mine in sufficient quantities to dilute render harmless and sweep away smoke and noxious or dangerous gases to such en extent that all working places and traveling roads shall be in a safe and fit state to work and travel therein.

Section 1206 All worked-out or abandoned parts of a mine in operation so far as practicable shall be kept free of dangerous bodies of gases or water and if found impracticable to keep the entire mine free from an accumulation of gases or water the mine inspector must be immediately notified.

All accessible parts of an abandoned portion of a mine in which explosive gases have been found shall be carefully examined by the mine foreman or his assistants at least once a week and any dangerous condition found existing therein shall be recorded in a book kept at the colliery for that purpose and signed by the person making the same.

Section 1207 Every mine employing more than seventy-five (75) persons must be divided into two or more districts Each district shall be provided with a separate split of pure air and the ventilation shall be so arranged that not more than seventy-five (75) persons shall be employed at the same time in any one current or split of air

The inlet and return air passages for any particular district must be separated by a pillar of coal or stone if the thickness and dip of the vein will permit except where it is necessary to cut through said dividing pillar for the purpose of ventilation traffic or drainage.

Section 1208 All air passages shall be of sufficient area to allow the free passage of not less than two hundred (200) cubic feet of air per minute for every person working therein and in no case in mines generating explosive gases shall the velocity exceed four hundred and fifty (450) lineal feet per minute in any opening through which the air currents pass if gauze safety lamps are used except in the main inlet or outlet airways.

Section 1209 All cross-cuts connecting the main inlet and outlet air passages of every district when it becomes necessary to close them permanently shall be substantially closed with brick or other suitable building material laid in mortar or cement whenever practicable.

Section 1211 All main doors shall have an attendant whoe constant duty it shall be to open them for transportation and travel and prevent them from standing open longer than is necessary for persons or cars to pass through unless a self-acting door is used which is approved by the inspector of the district.

Section 1212 All main doors shall be so placed that when one door is open another which has the same effect upon the same current shall be and remain closed and thus prevent any temporary stoppage of the air current

Section 1213 An extra main door shall be so placed and kept standing open as to be out of reach of accident and so fixed that is can be at once closed in the event of an accident to the doors in use.

Section 1214 The frame work of such main doors shall be substantially secured in stone or brick laid in mortar or cement unless otherwise permitted in writing by the inspector.

Section 1215 All permanent air bridges shall be substantially built of fireproof material and of such strength as the circumstances may require Temporary air bridges or overcasts may be built of other suitable material upon permission from the mine inspector.

Section 1216 All ventilators used at mines shall be provided with recording instruments by which the speed of the ventilators or the ventilating pressure shall be registered for each hour and such data shall be preserved at the colliery for future references for a period of three months.

Section 1217 An accumulation of gas in mines shall not be removed by brushing When such accumulations occur they must be removed by sufficient air currents only

Section 1218 No auxiliary or booster fan shall be allowed in any Class C mine unless a request in writing be made by the superintendent of such mine to the mine inspector of the district and permission granted by him to install such fan.

Section 1219 Auxiliary fans driven by electric power shall not be used in gaseous mines (C class) unless the motors of such fans are enclosed in explosion proof casings approved by the United Stattes Bureau of Mines All such fans must be located so that there shall be maintained at all times a positive separation of inlet and outlet air currents.

Section 1220 All main fans used to ventilate gaseous mines shall be operated continuously when necessary for the safety of the men employed therein and when the Mine Inspector so orders During any period in which repairs are being made to any such fan or fans or for any reason any such fans are stopped no person or persons shall be allowed in any gaseous part of said mine except for the purpose of making examinations and observations of gaseous conditions All such examinations shall be made with an approved safety lamp.

Section 1221 Whenever a mine suspends operations temporarily and is being maintained in readiness for operation the mine shall be examined at least once a week in the same manner as if in operation and a report of such examination shall be made in the colliery report book and signed by the person making the examination.

Section 1222 When non-gaseous (Class A) mines in which mining has been suspended and fans stopped during such idle periods before such mine or mines resume mining all such fans shall be put in operation at least twelve (12) hours before work is resumed An examination of all working places haulage roads traveling roads etc shall be made before the men are allowed to enter the mine.

Section 1223 When any main ventilating fans have been stopped they shall prior to the resumption of work in the mine be operated a sufficient length of time to provide a supply of air adequate enough to dilute render harmless and sweep away all smoke and noxious gases and an examination shall be made of all haulage roads traveling roads working places and other places in which accumulations of gas or smoke might endanger the safety of the workmen before the men are allowed to enter the mine.

Section 1224 All inlet and outlet airways shall be kept free from all obstructions and in fit state to be traveled and inspected at all times.

Section 1225 Any person or persons who shall neglect or fail to comply with the provisions of this article or who shall make any false report in regard to air measurements shall be guilty of an offense against this act.

Article XIII of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

ARTICLE XIII

UNDERGROUND BUILDINGS

Section 1301 All buildings inside of any anthracite coal mine in Pennsylvania including engine-houses pumphouses stables et cetera shall be constructed of incombustible material and no temporary buildings of any character in any mine shall be constructed unless they are constructed of incombustible material.

Section 1302 Any owner operator or superintendent of a coal mine failing to comply with this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars ($100.-00) or undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of ten (10) days or both at the discretion of the court

Article XIV of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

ARTICLE XIV

CLASSIFICATION OF MINES OR SECTIONS THEREOF WITH REFERENCE TO COMBUSTIBLE GAS

Section 1401 All anthracite mines or sections thereof shall be classed as A B or C as hereinafter provided.

Section 1402 A Class A mine or section thereof shall be considered one in which seven one-hundredths (7/100) of one per cent of combustible gas or less is found Such mine or section thereof shall be considered nongaseous.

Section 1403 A Class B mine or section thereof shall be considered one in which more than seven one-hundredths (7/100) of one per cent and less than five-tenths (5/10) of one per cent of combustible gas is found.

Section 1404 A Class C mine or section thereof shall be considered one in which five-tenths (5/10) of one per cent or more of combustible gas is found.

Section 1405 Examinations to determine the classification of mines or sections thereof shall be made by the operator or his representative every six months at the faces of the first and last working place on a split and the average of the tests be the determining factor Tests shall be made by use of a methane detector approved by the United States Bureau of Mines or by chemical analyses.

Section 1406 The ventilation must have been stopped or short-circuited for at least fifteen minutes when the aforesaid examinations are made and the results recorded and a copy of the same shall be sent to the inspector of the district within ten days after such examination.

Section 1407 The classification of a section of a mine as "A" "B" or "C" does not of necessity place the whole mine in that class.

Section 1408 If one-fourth (1/4) of an inch gas cap can be seen on the flame of an approved safety lamp it shall be assumed that the air contains at least one and one-half (1 1/2) per cent of combustible gas.

Section 1409 No mine or section thereof shall be considered as belonging to a less hazardous class than the one to which it formerly belonged without permission from the inspector of the district.

The Sections 1501 to 1523 of Article XV of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

ARTICLE XV

USE OF ELECTRICITY

Section 1501 All electrical apparatus and conductors shall be so installed and protected as to reduce danger from shock or fire to a minimum.

Section 1502 No higher voltage than medium (650) shall be taken underground except for transmission or for application to transformers or other apparatus in which the whole of the high voltage circuit is stationary,

Section 1503 When high cables are taken into the mine through bore holes shafts slopes and other travelingways to an underground station from which point low or medium voltage may be conveyed said cables shall be so constructed as to reduce the hazards of accidental shock to a minimum.

Section 1504 In gaseous mines (C class) high voltage transmission cables shall be installed in the intake airways or in bore holes provided such bore holes are in or connected to intake airways unless specific permission to install high voltage cablese has been given by the Inspector in writing and in response to a specific written request.

High voltage motors and transformers if used in a mine shall be installed only in underground stations ventilated by intake air which has not passed through a gaseous district.

Section 1505 Gloves and mats of rubber or other suitable insulating material be provided and used by persons when making repairs to live parts of any electrical apparatus or when live parts of electrical apparatus have to be handled for the purpose of adjustment Provided That this section shall not apply to electric signal circuits.

Section 1506 Instructions shall be posted in every generating transforming and motor room containing direction as to the restoration of persons suffering from electric shock

Section 1507 In underground stations where switchboards are installed there shall be a passageway in front of the switchboard not less than three (3) feet in the clear The rear of said switchboard must be fenced off so that there is no passageway in the rear or if this be impracticable any such passageway must be three (3) feet in the clear.

When medium voltage is used insulating floors for mats shall be provided where live metal work is on the front of the board When high voltage is used unless installed in a locked room to which only authorized persons ar admitted All live metal parts on the front of the main switchboard within seven (7) feet of the floor or platform shall be guarded so as to prevent persons from coming in contact with such live parts The floor back of the board shall be made of incombustible material Provided however that this section does not apply to switchboards now in service or extensions thereof.

Section 1508 Fire buckets filled with clear dry sand or other standard extinguishers for electrical fires shall be kept in underground stations ready for immediate use in extinguishing fires.

Section 1509 Medium or low pressure conductors may be bare except in gaseous portions (C class) of the mines This rule is not to include trolley wire except where hereinafter provided.

Section 1510 At all landings and partings where men are required to work regularly or pass under trolley or other bare power wires which are placed less than six and one-holf (6 1/2) feet above the top of the rail a suitable protection shall be provided This protection may be afforded by channeling the roof placing boards along the wires which shall extend below them or the use of other approval devices that afford protection.

Section 1511 All underground power wires and cables in hoisting shafts or manway compartments shall be highly insulated and substantially fixed in position On main haulage roads all cables and other wires except trolley wires and D C feeder wires when mounted on the same supports shall be kept at least twelve (12) inches away from any part of the mine care or locomotive.

Section 1512 Trailing cables in use shall be examined daily by the machine operator for abrasions and other defects and he shall report any defect to the mine foreman or his assistant and it shall be immediately remedied or the cable put out of service.

Section 1513 All points at which a circuit other than a signal circuit has to be made or broken shall be provided with proper switches The use of hooks or other gathering locomotives or locomotives and machines used in driving headings or chambers may be made to the trolley wire by means of suitable hooks.

Section 1514 In any gaseous portion of a mine (B and C class) a coal-cutting machine shall not be brought beyond the last cross-cut next the working face until the machine man shall have made an inspection for gas or until such examination shall have been made by some other competent person If any explosive gas is found in the place the machine shall not be taken in.

Section 1515 No coal-cutting machine shall be continued in operation in a gaseous portion of a mine (C class) for a longer period than half an hour without an examination being made for gas and if gas is found the current shall at once be switched off and the machine and the trailing cable shall forthwith be disconnected from the power supply.

Section 1516 The person in charge of a coal-cutting machine loading machine or drilling machine shall not leave the machine while it is working and shall before leaving the working place see that the current is cut off from the trailing cables In any gaseous portion of a mine (C class) if an electric spark or arc be produced by the cable or rails the defect shall be immediately reported to the mine foreman or his assistant and the condition remedied without delay.

Section 1517 In any gaseous portion of a mine (C class) any gangway airway or other working which is served by cars being pushed to the face of it must not have any trolley wire therein closer than one hundred and fifty (150) feet from its face No modification of this rule shall be allowed unless the mine inspector of the district be first consulted and his permission obtained to make such modification A trailing cable is permitted in all such cases.

No electric haulage motor shall be taken to the face of any working place in any gaseous portion of a mine (B or C class) in the absence of the men working in such place until it is first examined by a competent person and found to be safe.

Section 1518 In no case shall the potential used in the trolley system be higher than low voltage Provided That this section shall not apply to trolley systems now in service or extensions thereof.

Section 1519 No electrical equipment shall be operated in that part of any mine in which more than one and one-half (1½) per cent of combustible gas can be detected and all work must be stopped except such as may be necessary to reduce the percentage content to one and one-half or less

Section 1520 In gaseous mines (B class) open lights and electric lamps are permissible provided a flame safety lamp approved by the Department of Mines is used for testing purposes Such safety lamps shall be as far as practicable kept near the roof of the working face

It shall not be assumed that a mine or portion thereof is gaseous because of the partial or exclusive use of electric car lamps

Section 1521 In each part of all gaseous mines (C class) no light other than a locked safety lamp or a locked safety lamp and electric cap lamp both of a type which shall be first approved by the Department of Mines shall be allowed or used in such part Whenever safety lamps or electric cap lamps are required in any mine or part thereof they shall be the property of the owner of said mine and a competent person who shall be appointed for the purpose shall examine every safety lamp and electric cap lamp before it is taken into the workings for use and he shall ascertain that all safety lamps are clean safe and securely locked and safety lamps and electric cap lamps shall not be used until they have been so examined and found safe and in the case of safety lamps clean and securely locked
